Admn to be revamped: PM

Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina yesterday said the administration would be restructured in a way so that it can render desired service to the people, reports UNB.

She also mentioned that a law commission had been formed to restructure the aged laws and stressed the need for removing all discrepancies among administration and management.

Sheikh Hasina was talking to a delegation of Engineers' Institution who came to meet her at the PM office from various parts of the country.

Firm and proper decision is a must for the progress of the country, she said, adding "our forward march has been stalled because of indecision."

The Prime Minister called upon the engineers to use their talent, skill and capability for building the country.

"We want to build the country unitedly", she said seeking cooperation in freeing the country from the curse of poverty.

Hasina said a new century was knocking at the door, but Bangladesh was lagging far behind the developed world. "We want to step into the coming century with new thoughts and ideas," she said seeking cooperation of all in this regard.

"Without proper planning we cannot build the country", she said and called upon the engineers to play their due role in different sectors.

She said Bangladesh is an agro-based country, but it is lagging behind in this sector also. She called upon the engineers to take proper initiative for innovating effective and appropriate technology for the development of agriculture.

The engineers' leaders congratulated the Prime Minister on assumption of her office and assured that the community would stand beside her government to serve the nation.

President of the Engineers Institution Dr Anwarul Azim presented a crest of the institution to the Prime Minister.
