NEW DELHI, Nov 15: Trade between India and the Netherlands is expected to reach 520 millions dollars by the end of the year, up 13 per cent over last

The increase has been fueled by trade in livestock, beverages. tobacco, flowers, vegetable oil, chemicals and consumer goods. Dutch diplomat Hans W. Van Santen told Press Trust of India Thursday.

Van Santen, who handles economic affairs for the Dutch embassy in New Delhi, spoke at a ceremony kicking off a new Indian venture by the Dutch office automation giant OCE Netherlanda BV.

The company has brought its advanced system for copying and printing large format engineering drawings to India.

WB making loan guarantees for Mideast dev

CAIRO, Nov 15: The World Bank is making loan guarantees available to private investors to encourage them to help build needed roads, power plants and water systems in the Middle East, reports AP.

Kemal Dervis, vice president of the Washington-based bank. released a study Wednesday indicating that non-oil countries in the region need some three billion dollars a year in private investment for infrastructure.

This, he said, would be necessary if the countries are to reach their goal of growing at least 6 per cent a year — the rate necessary to increase incomes and create jobs.

Private investment in infrastructure in the region currently averages about 200 million dollars annually, he said.

India-Netherlands trade growing Trading at DSE, CSE surges over the week

Share trading at Dhaka and Chittagong Stock Exchanges surged further last week despite a five per cent restriction on price fluctuation and the government's cautionary propaganda in the media about sharebuying

Although the week had started with a bearish trend mainly due to tightening of the circuit breaker system from ten to five per cent, the market started booming from the middle of the week.

The market indicators of both Dhaka Stock Exchange (DSE) and Chittagong Stock Exchange (CSE) fluctuated heavily during the week in a strong vol-

Turkmenistan, Iran, Russia sign Caspian oil agreement

MOSCOW, Nov 15: The foreign ministers of Russia. Turkmenistan and Iran signed a memorandum in the Turkmen capital Ashgabat on Wednesday to cooperate in developing Caspian oil resources, Interfax news agency reported, says

Russian Foreign Minister Yevgeny Primakov, quoted by Interfax, said the three countries, all bordering on the oilrich Caspian Sea, would set up a joint company to develop its mineral resources on an equal basis. The company's founding documents will be signed later this year. The memorandum was open to the other two states bordering on the Caspian - Azerbaijan and Kazakhstan — as well as outside investors. Primakov

Last month Iranian Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Velayati called for the five nations bordering the Caspian Sea to draw up a legal framework to facilitate the exploitation of the sea's resources.

Iran sharply criticised a multi-billion-dollar deal between Azerbaijan and a western consortium to develop Caspian oil, after Tehran was excluded from the project under US pres-

The last treaties on the Caspian were signed between Iran and the former Soviet Union in 1921 and 1940.

Moscow has warned that it will retaliate if the huge bounty of oil in the land- locked Caspian is claimed unilaterally by one of the other four countries bordering on it.
