Young Learners' Centre opens at BCL

By Staff Correspondent
The Young Learners' Centre (YLC), a user-friendly centre for 8 to 14 year olds, was inaugurated yesterday at the British Council Library (BCL) premises in the city.

The British High Commissioner to Bangladesh David Walker formally opened the centre by cutting a red ribbon. The YLC, an initiative of British Council Bangladesh with financial support from Standard Chartered Bank, will provide a wide range of books, videos and CD-ROMs for Bangladeshi children.

In his speech, prior to the opening, David Walker said that the centre would greatly serve the youngsters of the country.

Initially, the centre's collection of children's books will not be loaned out but one can borrow a video film or view it on the premises.

The centre will be opened for its members on Saturday and its story-telling sessions will commence on December 7. The membership charge is Tk 1200. The YLC is also offering corporate membership to schools and will organise sessions enabling the schools to bring a class to its premises.

MIG to provide Internet services

AAAB opposes foreign ad agencies

By Staff Correspondent

The Advertising Agencies Association in Bangladesh (AAAB) has opposed the intrusion of foreign enterprises or joint ventures with foreigners, into the advertising business of the country.

In a statement issued last night, the AAAB appealed to the government to take effective measures against foreign advertising agencies and foreigners illegally working in the advertising field to help the country's expanding advertising business grow further.

The AAAB also stated that foreign involvement in the business would bring no significant amount of investment in the country, rather, the foreign agencies would take commissions in local currency and will the profit in foreign exchange to their countries of origin.
