Chittagong Zoo needs expansion, modernisation

CHITTAGONG, Nov 27. Chittagong Zoo established in late eighties in the picturesque Foy's Lake area here and now limping with time needs expansion, development and modernisation, reports BSS.

The zoo though still poor in procurement of animals, birds and reptiles draws 2000 visitors daily. The number of visitors will be more than double when the zoo is developed and more and more animals, birds and reptiles are procured, the concerned officials said.

Chittagong Zoo is spread over only ten acres of land adjacent to the picturesque Foy's Lake. This area is too small for a zoo to go for expansion and development and thus more land is needed. But the lands around the zoo belong to Bangladesh Railway. Most of the lands around the zoo have been leased out under different organisations by the railway, it is learnt.

Chittagong Zoo has now 36 species of wild life and the scope for expansion, development and procurement of more species of wild life is very limited because of shortage of fund as well as land, officials said.

The zoo has been coming up with patronisation of private citizens and the government patronisation so far is very limited, zoo officials said and added that government patronisation is indispensable for development of the zoo.

Zoo officials encouraged by increasing number of visitors daily have by now approached the Livestocks Directorate for preparing a master plan for its development and expansion. They said that though the zoo is situated in a suitable area, it would have to be shifted to new area when a master plan would be implemented.
