Hasina opens 41st IEB convention

Plans should be formulated suiting need of time

Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina asked engineers to formulate pragmatic plans and programmes geared to a 7 per cent growth for people's economic emancipation, reports UNB.

Plans and programmes should also be formulated suiting the need of time as well as natural environment and socio-economic condition of the country, she said.

"We have fixed a specific target for poverty alleviation, national development and increasing growth rate," she said while inaugurating 41st convention of engineers at the Institute of Engineers yesterday morning.

The government has fixed the development target so as can be completed within next five years, said Hasina seeking cooperation from the engineers in fulfilling the target aimed at economic emancipation of the common people.

"You have to work unitedly for the development and welfare of poor peasants and day labourers, as your prosperity depends on their revenue," she told the engineers.

About 85 per cent of the development and production funds are usually spent by the engineers and the country faced question from the donors for not implementing development programmes in time, the PM said and asked the engineers to complete the programmes in time for the interest of the nation.

She said the engineers have specific role in the application of technology and science, and they have to prove their skill for achieving the development target.

The Prime Minister said to face the challenges of the 21st century, the nation has to go parallel with the ongoing progress of science and technology.

She said her government had already adopted suitable policy for rapid industrialisation and attracting local and foreign investment. Budgetary allocation has been increased for this reason.
