Statement in BPS's name condemned

By Staff Correspondent

Some twenty-seven pharmacists yesterday condemned a statement given in the name of the executive committee of Bangladesh Pharmaceutical Society (BPS), which, according to the signatories had already expired its tenure.

In a statement, they said that a section of people using the name of BPS was trying to mar the ongoing movement of the pharmacists to consolidate their due rights through Pharmacy Sangram Parishad.

The signatories included, among others, Selim Azad, Mosaddek Hossain, Shahabuddin Kabir Chowdhury, Shamin Rabbani, Subash Singha Roy.

Comet Hale-Bopp visible between 5-5:30 am

Early risers can see with naked eyes the ever-bursting comet Hale-Bopp, now visible in the eastern sky of Bangladesh, between 5 am and 5:30 am, reports BSS.

Discovered by two American amateur astronomers Alan Hale and Thomas Bopp in July, 1995, the comet at the moment seems like a patchy object about 15 degrees north of the Altair, the brightest star in the constellation of Aquila.

Amateur astronomer and general secretary of Bangladesh Astronomical Society F R Sarker told the news agency that the comet had been visible to naked eyes since Feb 13 and would become brighter gradually up to early April. After that the brightness of the comet will start diminishing and it will go out of sight by the end of May.

Sarker said the comet will be prominent in the Bangladesh sky from mid-March to mid-April when its tail will be longest.
