Occupation of Eidgah land PWD serves final notice on mosque committee

By Staff Correspondent

The Public Works Department (PWD) has recently served a final notice to the management committee of Eidgah Mosque in Dhanmondi to vacate within seven days the land which the committee reportedly occupied in the name of Abu Bin Kashem Waqf Estate. PWD sources said that the final notice was served on March 30 as the previous one, served in February last, was ignored by the committee. "This time we have given them seven days' time to remove the illegal walls and the sign boards around the government land. If they fail to do so, we will take further action," a PWD official said.

Part of the historic Eidgah, dating back to 1640, will illegally occupied by the Mosque Committee in February. The PWD local office filed a general diary following the occupation. But the mosque committee went ahead with the construction of the walls claiming that the land was occupied on the basis of a secretary level recommendation made in 1986 during a meeting at the Ministry of Public Works.

The Eidgah, used for Eid congregation, was built during the rule of Shah Shuja. There are only two Eidgahs of its kind in the Sub-continent, the other being in Delhi, India.
