Dhaka's application for joining Indian Ocean rim group under scrutiny

COLOMBO, Apr 12: The newly established Indian Ocean rim group of nations was examining applications by seven more countries to join the grouping, the visiting Foreign Minister of Mauritius, Raymond Berenger said, reports AFP.

The 14-member association which seeks to improve trade and economic ties with member countries by excluding contentious political and security issues set up a panel of officials to look at the applications, Berenger said.

He told reporters here that applications had been received from Bangladesh, Egypt, France, Iran, Pakistan, Singapore and Thailand to enter the Indian Ocean rim initiative.

Berenger is the Chairman of the Ministerial Committee and is currently visiting member states. He had already visited India and had also visited Pakistan which is keen to join.

"I am happy to see that things are moving in the right direction in South Asia," he said adding that India had no objection to its arch rival, Pakistan joining the grouping.

Berenger held talks with his Sri Lankan counterpart, Lakshman Kadragamar, and is due to meet with opposition politicians here before leaving on Sunday.

BGMEA meets for setting up fashion institute

A special meeting for the establishment of a fashion institute in Bangladesh was held in Bangladesh Garment Manufacturers and Exporters Association conference room yesterday, says a press release.

The meeting was chaired by K M Zaman (Rome), Treasurer, BGMEA. Wayne Slattery, Industry Consultant of Melbourne Institute of Textiles, Australia, Sayeeful Islam, Member, Executive Committee, Iqbal Ahmed, Chairman, Research, Development and Trade Information Cell of BGMEA and Feroz M Hassan, MD, Giant Garment Industries (Pvt) Ltd were present at the meeting.

The participants discussed different aspects of setting up of a fashion institute in Bangladesh.

BGMEA representatives asked Wayne Slattery whether he could contribute any thing regarding arranging Australian government's scholarship for Bangladesh students in fashion.

They mentioned that Australia has already been giving scholarships to Bangladeshi students in agriculture and cricket. Slattery said he would convey the message to the proper authority on return home and would love to help Bangladesh in this respect.

Indiscriminate use of chemical fertilizer, pesticides Food production declining, says task force report

Indiscriminate use of chemical fertilizer and pesticides in agricultural land is lowering the country's food production, particularly the high yielding variety (HYV) rice, reports BSS.

A task force report on agriculture production strategy said that the average production in case of HYV rice was five metric tons per hectare in 1969 to 1970 which fell to 3.5 metric tons per hectare during the last five years and the trend was still continuing. The report was prepared by a team headed by Abu Ahmed Abdullah of Bangladesh Institute of Development and Studies (BIDS).

In the report experts of BIDS and Bangladesh Rice Research Institute (B RRI) say, the farmers are indiscriminately using chemical fertilizer and pesticides in the cultivable land, which is the main cause of nutrient imbalance in the soil and the reduction of per acre yield.

A BIDS research report said that the proportion in the use of nitrogen, phosphorous and potassium in the cultivable land was 7.24 and six per cent respectively. These are highly disproportionate to soil fertility leading to decline in crop production, it said.

The research report said although the use of nitrogen is increasing gradually in the cultivable land, the comparative use of phosphorous and potassium is decreasing. This has deteriorated the whole agricultural situation, creating hindrances to attaining food self sufficiency in the country by the year 2000.

The situation is alarming in the Southern district of Borguna where the production of crops has gone down over the last few years, said a senior official of the Department of Agriculture Extension. The farmers in different areas of the country, using fertilizer and pesticides in rice production every year are quoted to have said to him that they produce 1800-2000 kg per hectare at present against 4000 to 5000 kg per hectare in 1970.

There are about 16 ingredients on which soil fertility depends which include phosphorus, potassium, zinc sulphur and iron. Plants of all kinds usually draw these nutrients from the soil. But when the soil has any deficiency, the production of crops is adversely affected, said a Senior Scientific Officer of Bangladesh Rice Research Institute (BARRI) and added the mineral and other nutrients are usually found in the upper layer of the soil. So when any soil erosion takes place, its fertility can be affected.

The 65th board meeting of KAFCO and the 29th board meeting of KAFCO International Company Limited were held at Hotel Sonargaon on Thursday. These meetings were presided over by M Akhtar Ali, Secretary, Ministry of Industries and Chairman of the companies.

DPRK blasts US, ROK for withholding food aid

SEOUL, Apr 12: North Korea admitted Saturday that its food situation is 'very serious' but said it will not accept proposed peace talks only to beg outside aid, reports AP.

The statement by a spokesman for the isolated state's Foreign Ministry came a week before US and South Korean officials were scheduled to meet in New York to hear North Korea's response to their joint proposal for peace talks.

"Now our food problem is very serious. But it is foolish to expect our system to be seriously affected by the problem," the North's official Korean Central News Agency quoted the spokesman as saying. As is frequently the case, it did not identify the spokesman.

"If they think that the food problem decides whether we accept the talks or not, it would be a serious mistake," the spokesman was quoted as saying.

He attacked the United States and South Korea of withholding large-scale food aid until North Korea sits down for the peace talks aimed at negotiating an official end to the 1950-53 Korean War.

"Raising such a condition is a dishonest and inhumanitarian behavior aimed at abusing food aid as a political weapon and securing a concession from (North Korea) in the security issue," the spokesman said.

Sea ports to be expanded to int'l standard: Rob

Shipping Minister ASM Abdur Rob said the government is taking steps to expand the country's two sea ports to international standard to make them suitable to operate increased volume of trading, an official handout said here Friday, reports BSS.

He said in a modern day world, no sea port is used exclusively for one country alone, and Bangladesh has planned to develop their operational capacity to handle international trading.

The minister made the comments while talking to the chief of Hong Kong's Marine Services IB Dell during his stopover there on way to North Korea.

He called upon the Hong Kong entrepreneurs to invest for the development of Chittagong and Mongla ports.

Fall of Gowda govt likely to hit Indian economy

NEW DELHI, Apr 12: Downcast Indian business leaders said the fall of the country's coalition government Friday would hit the economy and scare off foreign investors, reports AFP.

"This is a severe stress point for the Indian industry, there is anxiety," said V Raghuraman, Secretary General of the Associated Chamber of Commerce and Industry, responding to Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda's fall.

"The budget has not been passed by the parliament, foreign investors are confused about the policies being followed by various governments and do not know whether the next government will stick to the same," he lamented. Raghuraman said many major economic decisions were pending.

"And they will not unless they get a feeling that economic policies by successive governments will not be rolled back," Industrialist Tushar Ruyia agreed, saying, "investment decisions will be delayed and economic growth which was slowly picking up the past six months will slow down again."

4 US Senators favour food sales to DPRK

Meanwhile, Reuter reports

Washington, Apr 12: Four US senators, fresh from a trip to North Korea, said Friday the United States should ease its restrictions on food sales to North Korea as a way to relieve the threat of widespread starvation.

During a news conference, the delegation described an alarming absence of livestock on farms near Pyongyang and a capital city so short of energy that streetlights were dark.

North Korean officials at first demanded 2.5 million tonnes of food aid as a precondition to four-party peace talks but backed off to requesting 500,000 tonnes, they said.

Sen The Stevens, R-Alaska, who was delegation leader, said the group stressed that the way to better US-North Korean relations was through the four-party talks for peace on the Korean peninsula.

AFP adds: They said failure to provide humanitarian assistance to North Korea could result in military action by the communist nation.

They further added that Washington should join an international effort to offset starvation in North Korea, but should not accept this as a precondition to four-party talks between North and South Korea, the United States and China.

"Intelligence reports and the general atmosphere indicate that North Korea is in a crisis. If the world community does not respond to the present crisis, I think we may be in for trouble," Daniel Inouye (Dem. from Hawaii) told a news conference.

2-day steering body meet begins Call to save underutilised fruits from extinction

A two-day steering committee meeting on Underutilised Tropical Fruits in Asia began at the Horticulture Research Centre of BARI at Gazipur yesterday, reports UNB.

Inaugurating the meeting in the morning, Executive Chairman of Bangladesh Agricultural Research Council (BARC) Dr Z Karim urged the agri-scientists to help enhance the production of more than 40 underutilised fruits which play an important role in upgrading people's nutritional standard.

The underutilised fruits can also be an important source of timber, fuel, and cattle and poultry feed, he said.

The BARC chief urged the scientists to take measures to save underutilised fruits from the verge of extinction.

He also called for activating germ plasma sharing and disseminating technologies for intensifying the production of underutilised fruits, which is also important for conserving bio-diversity.

Clinton renews push for free trade in L America

WASHINGTON, Apr 12: President Bill Clinton renewed his push to expand free trade in Latin America Friday, saying that delay will cause American businesses to lose ground to their global competitors, reports AP.

"If we don't seize these opportunities, our competitors surely will," Clinton said in a speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors. "There is no reason to think that others will wait while we sit idle."

Clinton noted that last year for the first time, Latin American countries had more trade with Europe than they did with the United States.

The US president has asked Congress for "fast-track" authority to negotiate trade agreements that must be accepted or rejected by Congress without amendments.

Republican opponents who control Congress have said they are willing to grant Clinton this authority, which every US president has had since 1974, but only if he drops a demand that has blocked the issue for two years — that the negotiating authority cover labour and environmental safeguards.

Clinton had hoped to use his first presidential trip to South America in May to highlight the huge opportunities the continent represents for American companies. But his knee injury has forced postponement of that travel until October.

Free trade opponents said Friday that the absence of actual legislative language highlighted an even bigger problem — the administration's inability to reach a consensus on the labour and environmental questions.

House Speaker Newt Gingrich sent Clinton a letter Thursday saying he was "deeply concerned" that Clinton had yet to submit a formal request for fast track authority to Congress because of the standoff over labour and environmental questions.

"You cannot allow those who insist on incorporating those issues into trade authority to halt our progress toward reaching good trade agreements," Gingrich told Clinton.

Fast track opponents said they believe all the delay is working to their advantage, giving them more time to point up the flaws in the current North American Free Trade Agreement that links the United States, Canada and Mexico.
