Kashaituli goat market lying idle

By Staff Correspondent

Dhaka City Corporation's (DCC) recently built Kashaituli goat market is lying idle while private entrepreneurs are running their own market illegally across the road.

Although DCC's Tk 55 lakh abattoirs-cum-goat market was inaugurated by the Mayor in August 1996, for 'mysterious reasons' the goat market, situated on the first floor of the building has never been used. The modern facility of the market can accommodate up to 3,000 goats, DCC sources said. A top DCC official, on condition of anonymity, alleged that a few months ago when two DCC departments started moves to lease out the market, a top official of the corporation officially asked for the file to be shelved temporarily.

"If the DCC market is started, the illegally set-up market will immediately become inoperative, and that is hampering the move to lease out," alleged the official adding that the illegal market was run by a 'very influential person.' As a result DCC is deprived of at least 50 lakh taka annually', he said.
