LONDON, Apr 23: Blackburn and Southampton boosted their chances of Premier league survival on Tuesday with vital victories in difficult circumstances, reports Reuter.

Blackburn beat UEFA Cup hopefuls Sheffield Wednesday 4-1 at Ewood Park — a result which should ensure them top flight soccer next season.

Southampton went to Sunderland, also battling to stay in the top flight, and came away with a 1-0 victory. In the night's other matches Chelsea beat Wimbledon 1-0 in a re-run of their FA Cup semifinal earlier this month while Leeds and Aston Villa drew 0-0. Blackburn, the 1995 English champions, took a 3-0 lead by halftime thanks to goals from Norway's Henning Berg, England wing-back Graeme le Saux and captain Tim Sherwood.

Gary Flitcroft added a fourth after the interval and, although Wednesday pulled back a goal from the penalty spot through Italian Benito Carbone, Blackburn never looked like losing. Norwegian Egil Ostenstad scored Southampton's vital goal at Sunderland to take Southampton into 15th place in the 20-side table.

Sunderland drop to 17th just two points above the relegation zone.

Senator calls for judgement

NEW YORK. Apr 23: A US senator asked the US Olympic Committee on Monday to explain why officials linked to the misuse of more than 1.3 million dollars in grants to the group that runs amateur boxing in the United States remained in USOC jobs, reports AP.

In a letter to USOC president Bill Hybl, Sen John McCain called for a "substantive USOC penalty" against former leaders of USA boxing and said failure to do so "would set a harmful precedent.

"It would definitely not comport with the high standards of integrity and accountability that athletes, USOC members and the American public deserve and expect," he said.

The letter, released by Mc-Cain's office in Washington, mentioned three former USA boxing officials involved in the scandal and targeted two - Jim Fox, a former boxing executive director and now head of the USOC's broadcast division; and Steve Ducoff, a former boxing treasurer and currently volunteer head of a USOC committee.

McCain said he was especially concerned that officials implicated in the case remained on the job in the Olympic community and "would appreciate being informed of the rationale for allowing individuals allegedly involved in the misallocation of over three million dollar in USOC funds to remain with the USOC. "This is not a case of minor management errors or a series of administrative oversights." Fox remains in his job while the district attorney in the USOC's hometown of Colorado Springs. Colorado, considers bringing charges. USOC executive director Dick Schultz said no administrative action would be taken against Fox as long as the DA's investigation remained open. While acknowledging that the case "has been a difficult and painful situation for the USOC," McCain said he hoped his intervention "will lead the USOC to strengthen its oversight procedures for all (sports governing bodies) to prevent any similar misconduct in the future."

Compton passes away

LONDON, Apr 23: Denis Compton, one of the all-time greats of cricket and an England international soccer, died Wednesday at the age of 78, report AP.

The dashing Compton, undoubtedly the most popular sportsman of his era and the original playboy of English sport, died in a hospital early Wednesday following complications from surgery.

Prime Minister John Major was one of the first to pay tribute to the man who captivated cricket fans in the immediate post-war years.

"There will be a tear in many an eye at the loss of one of the greatest batsmen cricket has ever known," Major said. "It wasn't just the game he played. it was the way he played it.

"Those who ever saw Denis Compton bat have an imperishable memory of the greatest cavalier of cricket. Quite literally, he is irreplaceable and the memory of him and the way he played will last for as long as the game of cricket itself." It was ironic that the former Middlesex batsman and Arsenal soccer player should die on the opening day of cricket's county championship — with an Ashes series against the visiting Australian team only six weeks away.

Compton excelled at both cricket and soccer and inspired a generation in post-World War II England to achieve the same. Hampered from an early stage by a knee injury, Compton ignored fitness sessions and relied on his flawless technique instead to demoralise batsmen with his timing and footwork.

At soccer, he mesmerised defenders with his attacking runs and set up goals for his strikers and club and international level. Compton was English sport's equivalent of US football and baseball star Deion Sanders A brilliant right-handed

The injury grew steadily worse, and despite scoring 278 in less than five hours against Pakistan, he was forced to have his knee cap removed. He scored a century on his return for Middlesex and scored a brilliant 94 in the final 1956 Test against Australia.

Compton, however, struggled on the tour to South Africa that winter and retired the following season. For his career, he scored 38,942 at 51.85 - including 123 centuries and reached a hundred hundreds in just 552 innings, the quickest player to reach the milestone other than Australian great Don Bradman.

As an outside-left for Arsenal, Compton won the league title in 1947-48 and the FA Cup in 1950. He also won 14 wartime England international caps.

Hingis hurts her knee

ZURICH, Apr 23: Top-ranked women's tennis player Martina Hingis underwent surgery Wednesday for an injury to her left knee suffered in a fall from a horse. She will be sidelined at least three weeks, her mother said, reports AP.

"So far it is certain that Martina will have to miss Hamburg, Rome and Berlin," said Melanie Molitor, who also is Hingis' tion confirmed that Hingis had cancelled her appearance in the Hamburg tournament, that runs from April 28 to May 4.

It is possible that she also may have to miss the French Open from May 26 to June 8, Molitor said.

The injury came just as Steffi Graf, whom Hingis dethroned as No 1, was recovering from her own knee injury and planning a comeback, in the mid-May tournament in Berlin.

Hingis' pause won't affect the standings immediately. She has a 771-point lead over Graf. The mass-circulation daily Blick reported that the 16-year-old Hingis was able to stand and laugh off her fall Monday from the horse, which belongs to a friend. But when she awoke the next day she was unable to straighten her left leg. Hingis was then examined at various hospitals and specialists near her home in Truebbach in eastern Switzerland on Tuesday. On Wednesday she underwent arthroscopic surgery for a partly torn ligament, Molitor said, but she didn't disclose where the operation was performed or whether Hingis remained hospitalised. Last January Hingis was uninjured when she fell from a horse in Australia before going on to win the Australian Open.

Molitor previously has insisted that Hingis have as normal a life as possible and continue to enjoy her passions for equestrian sports and roller blading in spite of any risk to her career. She made no comment

Wednesday on whether she would change her opinion on that policy.

Aussie-US semi on Sept 19

MELBOURNE Apr 23: The United States will host the *Davis Cup semifinal against Australia in September on hardcourt, increasing the likelihood that Pete Sampras will lead their challenge, Tennis Australia (TA) said today, reports Reuter. The tie will be played in either North Carolina, or Washington DC from September 19-21. TA said in a statement.

Australian non-playing captain John Newcombe said the United States' decision, as hosts, to play on one of a Sampras' favourite surfaces suggested the world number one would take part.

"We want the US to field their best team, so for the (ruling body) USTA to select hardcourt indicates that Pete Sampras will play," Newcombe said in the statement.

The United States had been expected to opt for the slower clay surface if Sampras did not make himself available, TA

AIFP's soccer match Sunday

PARIS, Apr 23: The International Soccer Players' Union (AIFP) said on Tuesday a benefit match long promised to Belgian Jean-Marc Bosman would take place on Sunday in Barcelona, reports Reuter. AIFP said in a statement the match, which has been repeat edly blocked by several soccer authorities in the past year, would be played on April 27 in Barcelona's Ólympic Stadium. Last month the Spanish Football Association vetoed the benefit match being staged in Spain, earlier plans to have it organised in Paris where the AIFP is based, were also opposed and abandoned. The benefit match hit anoth snag last week when the Belgian Soccer Union said it would oppose the game which AIFP secretary-general Didier Roustan hoped to stage in Brussels. Bosman's case in the European court of justice brought an end to transfer fees for out-ofcontract EU players but left Bosman himself financially stranded after a five-year legal fight.

The match will be played between a European side and a team from the rest of the world, top players like Manchester United's Frenchman Eric Cantona and Bulgarian Hristo Stoichkov will play for Europe while Diego Maradona will lead the other team.
