Essex drub Derbyshire

LONDON, June 29: Spinners Peter Such and Paul Grayson ran through Derbyshire to bowl Essex to the top of the county championship table after an innings victory inside three days of their match at Southend, reports Reuter.

Left-arm paceman Mark Holt picked up two early wickets as Derbyshire chased a target of 231 to save the innings defeat after Essex reached 373 for eight shortly after lunch yesterday.

But Such with five for 27 and Grayson with three for 20 moved in for the kill and Derbyshire were skittled for only 86 losing by an innings and 145 runs.

Australian Stuart Law and captain Paul Prichard had earlier both completed centuries as Essex hammered home their advantage. Prichard made 106 and Law was finally dismissed for 157.

Glamorgan also earned a day off as paceman Darren Thomas claimed five for 24 in his team's 234-run victory over Sussex at Swansea which lifted them level on points with previous leaders Middlesex, one behind Essex.

England off-spinner Robert Croft also claimed three for nine in eight overs as the visitors were bowled out for 67 in just 32.4 over following their first-innings total of 54 all out.

Sussex lost their last four wickets for seven runs in 19 balls as Glamorgan recorded their fourth championship win of the season.

Lancashire took three more Worcestershire wickets at New Road, reducing the home side to 100 for seven when rain finished play just before lunch.

Darren Shadford claimed his third victim when he dismissed captain Tom Moody for 26, and former England seamer Peter Martin had figures of three for 30 off 17 overs. Gavin Haynes stood firm for Worcestershire, reaching 38 not out.

Barcelona make Bobby proud

MADRID, June 29: Portuguese striker Luis Figo scored his second goal 25 minutes into extra time and gave Barcelona its 23rd Spanish Cup title Saturday with a 3-2 victory over Real Betis, reports AP.

Figo knocked in a rebound after Juan Antonio Pizzi scored off a header in the 88th minute of the match 2-2 and sent it to the extra seconds.

It was the second title this season for Barcelona, who also captured the UEFA Cup but finished two points behind arch-rivals Real Madrid for the league crown.

Betis still will qualify for the European Cup Winners' Cup, with Barcelona earning a berth in the Champions League by virtue of their runner-up spot.

The match finished with a flurry when Alfonso Perez, who scored Betis first goal, set up what looked to be the winner in the 81st minute.

Alfonso drove down the right wing and sent in a cross to Finidi, who finished to give Betis a 2-1 lead.

But Pizzi's goal off a cross from Josep Guardiola revived Barcelona's hopes by forcing the extra session.

Betis, a team known best for its defence, appeared the stronger team early, pressing Barcelona steadily. Alfonso got the opening goal on a pass from Finidi, knocking a shot that Portuguese goalkeeper Vitor Baia was able to block, but the rebound struck Al Fonso in the face and bounced into the net.

Barcelona's first chance to equalise came when Luis Enrique Martinez fired a 17th minute header that hit the post.

When Barcelona failed to clear a corner kick in the 30th minute, Betis had another chance on Finidi's blast from the left corner of area that was tipped over the crossbar by Baia.

Barcelona pressed with more conviction in the final minutes of the first half, finally equalising in injury time when Figo swept across the top of area through two defenders and beat Pedro Luis Jaro cleanly into the right corner.

Alfonso came close to restoring Betis' lead in the opening minutes of the second half when he fooled two Barcelona defenders to get clear for a shot that was barely tipped away by Baia.

The victory gives coach Bobby Robson a fitting farewell. The former England manager is expected to end his spell at club.

Martina in marauding mood

From Tawfiq Aziz Khan

LONDON, June 29: Martina Hingis walked into the fourth round of the championships today as the committee decided yesterday to hold matches on the first Sunday of the championships.

This, for the records, is the second time in the history of Wimbledon that such a tradition-breaking decision had to be taken. The scores of the match 6-1, 6-3 do not reflect the high standard of competition offered by the 26-year-old American Nicole Arendt. The stylish left-hander from Somerville, New Jersey sent down eight aces to the bewildered or the world number one.

Both players executed a number of sizzling ground strokes in long drawn rallies that drew applause from a large crowd on Court One in a cloudy and chilly day. Hingis has improved a lot in her service and the twohanded backhand, especially the ones down the line that left her taller opponent stranded in the middle. Undoubtedly, Martina is one of the best returners of serves in the game today and her volleys meant for the far corners of the court could be unplayable for any opponent. Arendt put up a brave face but when it came to the crucial moment Hingis was, as usual, always the better of the two.

Earlier Mary Pierce, the number 9 seed, was unexpectedly up against a real fighter from Spain — Virginia Ruano-Pascuala in the second round.

She was a real prototype of her more illustrious compatriot Arantxa Sanchez-Vicario — only a few inches smaller. Her dress, hairstyle, movement on court and specially the built, all were very similar to Arantxa and she had all the fighting quality of Arantxa. As the first set ended in 0-6 in favour of Pierce in only 19 minutes, possibly everyone thought they would not have their money's worth and all the trouble to come to the court on a Sunday.

No one had the slightest idea what was coming in the next set. Pascuala broke Pierce twice, held her own service games despite vicious ground strokes by Pierce and finally clinched the set 6-2.

By now Pierce showed signs of instability as she threw her racquet and kicked the ball in exasperation. She was serving well and playing tremendous shots. The only slip she showed was the lack of proper knowledge about the position of the net while volleying. Cheered by the spectators, and she has many supporters wherever she plays, Pierce collected herself, put her act together and proceeded to win the third set as Pascuala served a double fault (6-3).

Pierce, a lovable personality, a moody one too, was always a delight for the photographers.

WC qualifiers Japan in final round

TOKYO, June 29: Japan drew with Oman 1-1 to finish top of the Asian zone Group Four tournament here Saturday and assured themselves of a place in the final qualifying round for the 1998 World Cup finals, reports agencies.

Hidetoshi Nakaeta put Japan one up only four minutes into the match, but Majdi Sa-haaban Fatah Samir hit an equaliser into the right corner from a Mohamed Khamis Juma Al Arai pass in the 64th minute.

Japan ended the competition with five wins and one draw for 16 points, three points ahead of Oman, who finished with four wins, one draw and a sole defeat.

Only the top team from each of Asia 10 first-round groups advances to the final qualifying round in late October and early November for three berths in next year's 32-nation finals in France.

In their earlier encounter in Boshier in March, Japan beat Oman 1-0.

In their second head-to-head encounter on Saturday, Oman needed to defeat Japan by a margin of 10 goals or more to reach the final round.

Earlier, Macau rallied past Nepal 2-1 for its first victory in the group.

Hide claims WBO crown

NORWICH, England, June 29: Herbie Hide knocked Tony Tucker down three times late in round two Saturday to win the vacant WBO heavyweight title, reports AP.

The veteran, 38-year-old Tucker, who went the distance with Mike Tyson when he lost the IBF title 10 years ago, couldn't handle the speed of the far lighter British fighter and lay on the floor for fully a minute after the third knockdown at 2:45 of the second round.

Hide, who held the title in 1994 before being knocked down seven times by Riddick Bowe, won the fight in his home town and said he now wants to meet the winner of the Evander Holyfield-Mike Tyson rematch later Saturday.

"It feels great," said the 25-year-old British fighter, who now is 28-1-0. "People forget, I'm a good puncher. When I hit, they go."

At 222 pounds (100.7 kgs), Hide was 24 pounds (10.8 kgs) lighter than Tucker, who weighed in at 246 pounds (111.5 kgs).

While Tucker lumbered around the ring, Hide opened up his defense with some sharp counters and he ended the fight quickly having sized up his opponent in the opening round.

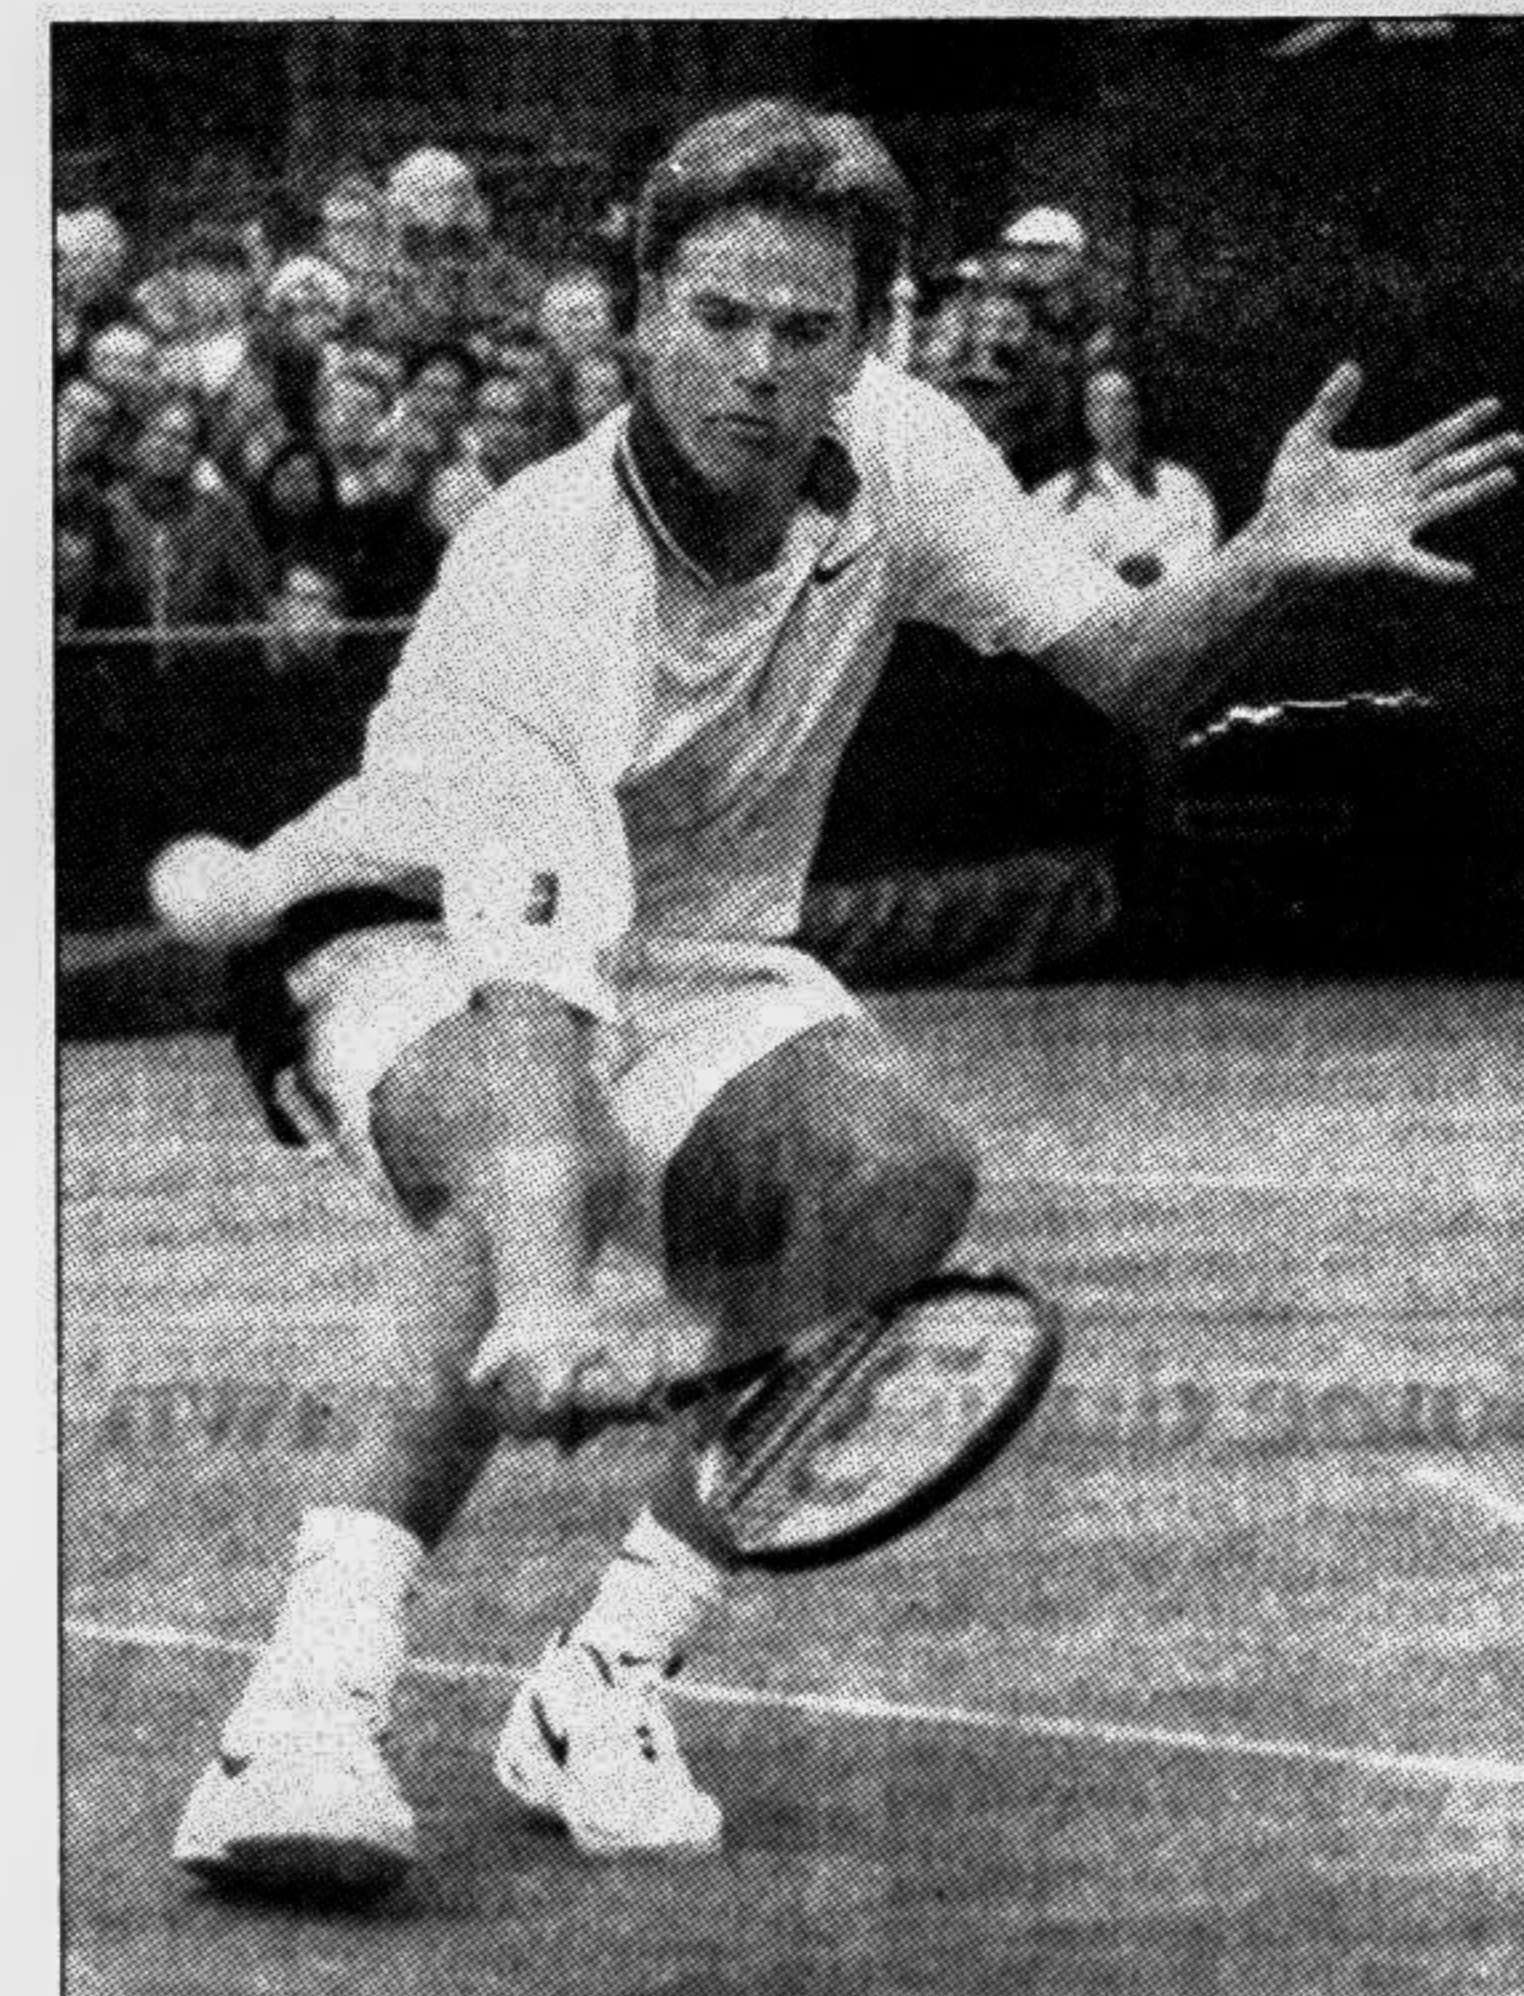

He floored Tucker with a left hook flush on the chin in the middle of round two and put him down again with a combination.

for the first time in 20 years. Bookmakers made it just 6-1 against a British winner.

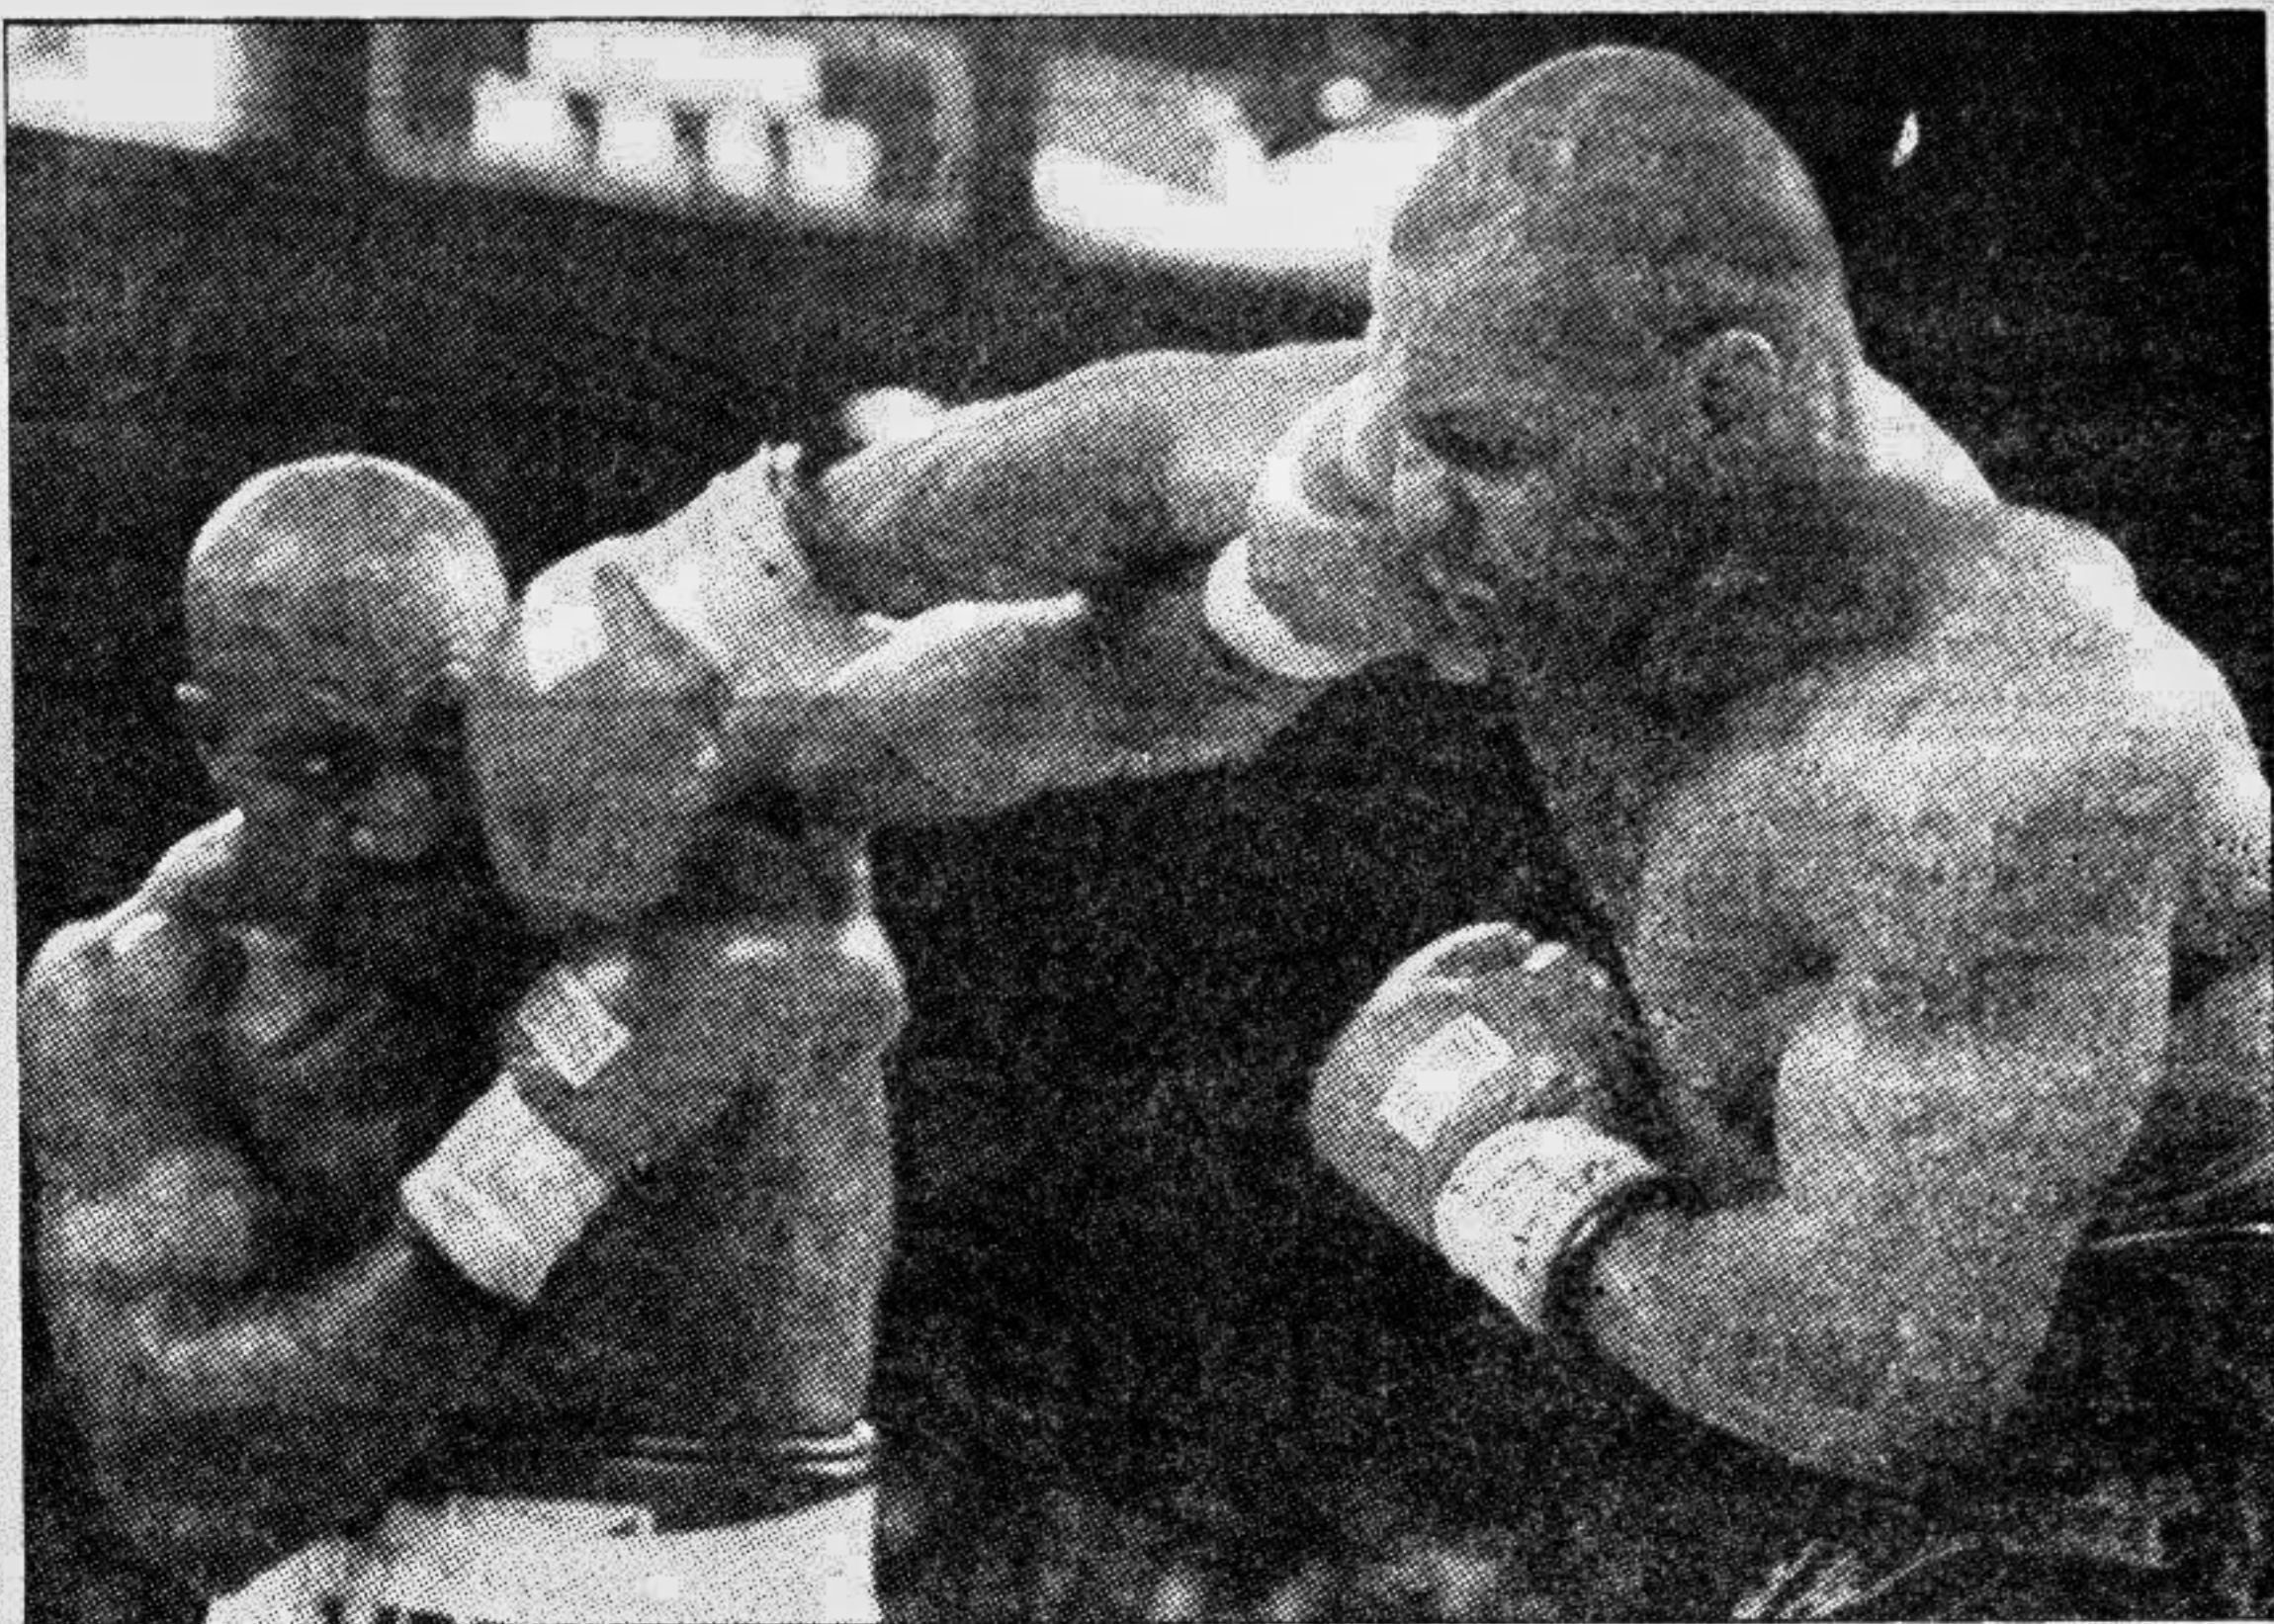

Tenth seed Carlos Moya was a casualty, however, falling 6-4, 6-3, 6-3 to American Richey Reneberg to leave South African Wayne Ferreira as the only remaining seed in the bottom quarter of the draw.

Monica Seles faces an anxious wait after her second round match against 20-year-old American Kristina Brandi was halted with her opponent leading 7-5, 1-3.

Rittner led 6-4 and 5-1, only for Kournikova to battle back and take a second set tiebreak 9-7 before winning the last 6-3.

Belt retained in bizarre bout Mike bites Evander's ear

LAS VEGAS, June 29: Evander Holyfield, bleeding badly from his right ear after being bitten by Mike Tyson, retained the WBA heavyweight championship Saturday night when Tyson was disqualified after the third round, reports AP.

After the fight was stopped, Tyson complained to referee Mills Lane and then charged across the ring to Holyfield's corner as the ring filled with security people. He never got to Holyfield, but he did hit a police officer before being pulled away.

Several seconds after the ruckus was stopped, another broke out as Tyson again tried to get across the ring. He was stopped and Holyfield and his entourage left the ring.

Tyson was winning the third round when, with about 40 seconds left, Holyfield suddenly jumped up and down in anger and walked away, blood streaming from his right ear. Tyson ran after Holyfield and pushed him before Lane got him away.

Time was called while Dr. Flip Homansky went to Holyfield's corner to examine the wound, which was caused by a bite.

While Homansky was examining Holyfield, Lane told the judges he was deducting two points from Tyson. Later he said: "I told Tyson after the first bite, 'One more like that and you're gone.'"

The fight resumed after a delay of four minutes and, when it did, Tyson bit Holyfield on the left ear. Both men then threw wild, angry punches that didn't connect.

After the round ended, Lane disqualified Tyson, not, he said, because of the bleeding but because of the foul.

Lane was named referee Friday after Mitch Halpern voluntarily withdrew, saying he didn't want to be the focal point of the fight. John Horne and Roy Holloway, Tyson's managers, had protested to the Nevada State Athletic Commission that Halpern, the referee of the first fight, wouldn't treat him fairly. The commission rejected the protest by a 4-1 vote.

The sellout crowd of 16,331 in the MGM Grand Arena was in an uproar from the time the fighters entered the ring.

Tyson came out more cautiously than in the first fight when he rocked Holyfield with the first punch, a right to the head, and he tried to box. But Holyfield had the best of the round with a couple punches, to the head.

In the second round, Tyson was cut at the corner of the right eye by what Lane ruled was an accidental head butt. Holyfield had the best of the round, which was marked mostly by holding and mauling.

Then came the weird and wild third round. Early in the round, Tyson landed several short punches to the head that moved Holyfield back and he was controlling the round when he bit Holyfield on the ear. The champion jumped up and down in anger and turned away.

After the fight, as Holyfield was being interviewed, a chunk of his right ear seemed to be missing.

"The things that happened didn't have to happen," Holyfield said. "The first time, my corner told me, 'Just keep cool.' Then he spit his mouthpiece out and bit me again."

Lane said he took two points away after the first bite and told Tyson, "If you bite him again, I'm going to disqualify you."

"It was an easy way to get out of a fight, to foul someone," Holyfield said. "Fear causes people to do something to get out of a fight. This was a boxing match, not a rumble. Why do you have to bite my ear?"

Lane said Homansky told him Holyfield could have continued, but he reiterated that Tyson was disqualified because of the double foul.

Asked if he thought Tyson was retaliating for the head butt in the second round, Lane said, "I don't know. You'll have to ask him."

John Horne, Tyson's co-manager, blamed Tyson's fouling on the head butt in the second round.

Horne also said Tyson had a 3-inch (8-centimeter) cut on his forehead, apparently from the head butt and that Holyfield got a little nick on the ear.

When Tyson appeared for an interview, there was no cut on his forehead, but there was a cut near the outside corner of his right eye.

Before the fight, Holyfield said, "I'm the man and he can't handle me. This individual can't get over the fact that I did it before."

Tyson certainly blew his cool and left Lane little choice. Each fighter weighed 218 pounds (98.9 kilograms).

The victory, for which Holyfield earned at least 35 million dollars, boosted his record to 34-3 with 24 knockouts. Tyson got 30 million dollars for his third loss against 45 victories, 39 by knockout.

Whether the wild fight will lead to a third match between the two remains to be seen. There could be, if there is enough money on the line.

"Holyfield is not the warrior he claims he is," Tyson said. "He got a nick on his ear and he quit."

Judge Duane Ford, however, said, "Tyson bit a hunk out of his ear and spit it out on the floor."

Aussies keep up fine work

SOUTHAMPTON, June 29: Captain Mark Taylor continued his return to form with an unbeaten 61 as Australia dominated the opening day of their three-day match against Hampshire on Saturday, reports Reuter.

Taylor shared an opening partnership of 95 with Test opener Matthew Elliott, who fell to the off-spin of Shaun Udal for 61.

Greg Blewett was run out for two but Mark Waugh stayed to reach 25 not out as the Australians reached 157 for two by the close.

Earlier, Hampshire's decision to bat first after winning the toss looked a distinctly poor one as they slumped to 93 for eight at lunch.

Former England batsman Robin Smith made 22 and Hampshire scrambled to 159 all out thanks to a battling 31 not out from their wicketkeeper Adrian Aymes.

Michael Kasprovic took three for 33, including the wicket of Hampshire's Australian import Matthew Hayden for six. Leg-spinner Shane Warne removed three for 30 while Jason Gillespie, back from a hamstring injury, collected two.

MARK TAYLOR...61 n.o. lected two for 65.
