Tourist spots of S-W dists need to be preserved

Monojit Kumar Das

MAGURA, July 26: The historical places in South western districts, like Raja Sitaran's palace, temple, and ponds in Muhammadpur of Magura district, Khan Jahan Ali's Shat Gambuj Mosque in Bagerhat, Great Poet Michael Madhusudan Dutta's birth place at Sagardari on the Kopotak river Jessore, Rabindra Nath Tagore's father-in-law's house at Dakhkhin Dihi in Khulna district, Amjhupi Lord Clive's Kutli in Chuadanga district, Lalan Fakir's mazar at Cheuri and Rabindra Nath's Kutibari on the bank of the Padma at Shildah in Kushtia district and Mujibnagar at Baidyanath-tala in Meherpur district. Due to indifference of BPC in developing the existing historical places most of historical spots have been lost in oblivion.

Meanwhile the historical places at thana headquarters in Muhammadpur of Magura district are: Sitaran Raja's 'Rajbari' (Palace), temples, Digbi, Nader Chand ghat on the Madhumoti river. These are getting dilapidated due to lack of proper attention and negligence of the concerned authorities.

Beside, some other places of historical interests also in the south western region like Poet Golam Mostafa's residence at Monoharpur in Saikupa, the residence of Kalipada Basu (KP Basu) famous mathematician at Harisankarpur in Jhenidah district, the residence of Poet Kaji Kader Naoaz at Mujdia village near Sripur thana headquarters in Magura district, Kalu Gaji Champabatis mazar at Barobazar, Garib Shah's mazar at Nohata in Magura district, the residence of Mir Mosaraf, famous Bengali litterateur at Lahiripara and Kagal Harinath's memorial at Kumarkhali in Kushtia are lying neglected. As a result all the historical places will be ruined very soon. It is apprehended.

The local elite appealed to the concerned authorities to take immediate steps to develop the historical places with a view to enriching our heritage.

River erosion affects 200 villages

MANIKGANJ, July 26: The tributaries of two major rivers flowing through five thanas of the district have eroded a vast tract of land of more than 200 villages, reports UNB.

According to Flood and Disaster Warning Centre at Aricha, the erosion began with the increasing of water levels of these rivers and washed away many dwelling houses in Shibabala, Gheor, Daulatpur, Sattaria and Harirampur thanas.

Although the Padma and the Jamuna started receding, the centre said, these tributaries including Ichhamati, Kaliganga and Dholeswari continued to rise during the last few days.

The sources said a portion of the Padma-Jamuna embankment at north side of Aricha ghat has already been eroded leaving the use of the ghat risky.

The two-storied building of Gheor Degree College is under threat and the breach at both sides of the roads of Sreedhar bridge stopped the road communication with Dhaka.

It is alleged that the embankment at Aricha and Gheor ghat went into the rivers following the negligence of the authority.

The affected people are taking shelter on high lands or premises of educational institutions. Many of them rushed to the city in search of jobs for their livelihood in absence of any work and relief activities.

Children of these areas are suffering from malnutrition, local people said.

Divorce rate up in villages of Faridpur

From Our Correspondent

FARIDPUR, July 26: The number of unregistered marriages has increased in most of the villages of the district.

As a result large number of divorces are taking place. There is a strict law in the country that no girl below the age of 18 years and a youth below the age of 22 years can be united in wedlock. But in a survey conducted recently by a non-governmental organisation it was found that a good number of marriages are being held between the couples who are actually below the age of marriage as fixed by the government.

Some unscrupulous marriage registrars in exchange of a lucrative amount of money are executing these illegal marriages without registration. It is causing many untold social problems. This malpractice on the part of the registrars is depriving the government of revenue income in this sector.

The tendency of unregistered marriage is growing among the people because the registrars demand much more money as fees against 'Denmohar'.

According to law the registrar will get only Taka four for Taka one thousand Denmohar. But in fact the registrars demand Taka 50 to 60 for one thousand taka Denmohar. This is why poor couples avoid registration of marriage and manage to get married by village Moulti in unregistered way.

If this mal-practice is not stopped, the cases of divorce and women's oppression will increase in an alarming dimension.

So the concerned authorities should look into the matter and take appropriate measures to prevent unregistered marriage.

Water-logging multiplies Pabna people's miseries

PABNA, July 26: Water logging, environmental pollution and traffic congestion in the municipality have made lives of the residents miserable, reports UNB.

The residents have been facing water-logging caused by heavy downpour during this rainy season due to lack of adequate drainage system.

Most of the kutchra drains have already been silted up at different points by due to indiscriminate dumping of garbage by the dwellers.

After a slight rainfall, most of the roads go under water and remain submerged for hours hampering movement of the pedestrians. In the low-lying areas of the town, many houses also get submerged.

A section of the residents dump garbage on the roads polluting the environment.

Body recovered

SYLHET, July 26: Police recovered a slaughtered body of a pregnant woman from Bagerkhal village in Jointapur thana and arrested her husband on Wednesday night, reports UNB.

On information, Office-in-Charge of the thana went to the village and recovered Piya Begum, 22, wife of rickshaw-puller Monjur Miah, 30.

Police said Piya was slaughtered by a sharp dao and they suspected that she might be killed following a family feud.

The body was sent of Osmani Medical College Hospital morgue. Piya's father filed a case. Local MP visited the spot on the following day.

Earlier on Tuesday, another body of a madrasa teacher was recovered from his bedroom of a lodging house at Akakhazna village in Baniabazar thana.

Scarcity of medicine

Scarcity of medicine in different health complexes of the district has been causing suffering to patients.

Local people alleged, ordinary medicines like dettol and paracetamol are not available in almost all thana health complexes.

A large number of people coming from remote areas to thana health complexes every day are to go back disappointed for lack of proper treatment and admission facilities. In absence of physicians, compounded or staff members give prescriptions to the patients, it is alleged.

The doctors posted in the rural areas are mostly reluctant to carry out their responsibility as they remain busy to be transferred to urban areas. Doctors are also seen busy with their private practices instead of attending patients in health complexes. Some physicians of the thana and union health complexes are unwilling to attend outdoor patients due to non-availability of medicines, it has been learnt.

Local people alleged that some dishonest officials of the health complexes are involved in selling medicines in the black market.
