Smith fails to be De Bruin

SEVILLE, Spain, Aug 22: Michelle de Bruin's gold rush at the European Championships came to an unexpected halt on Thursday but Russian Alexander Popov made a triumphant return after injury to capture the 100 metres freestyle title, reports AFP.

De Bruin, who won three Olympic golds last year under her maiden name Smith, had to settle for silver in the 400m freestyle — one of the events she won in Atlanta.

German Dagmar Hase produced a perfectly timed swim to go past De Bruin in the final 50m after the Irishwoman, who was dogged by rumours of drug-taking during and after Atlanta, had led almost from start to finish.

Hase's time was 4 mins 9.58 secs, the fastest in Europe this year with De Bruin finishing second in 4:10.50 another German Kerstin Kielgass took bronze.

De Bruin, 27, has already won the 400m individual medley and 200m freestyle here. And she plans to compete in a further two events — the 200m individual medley and the 200m butterfly — this week.

If she wins them, she will equal Hungarian legend Kristina Egervari's record of four individual golds in a single European Championship, set in Sheffield in 1993.

Popov, competing in his first major championship since his stabbing by a watermelon seller in Moscow last August, showed he has made full recovery with the fastest time in the world this year in the 100 free.

After looking sluggish in the heats the reigning Olympic 50m and 100m freestyle champion from Russia once again rose to the big occasion, clocking 49.09 sec to hold off Sweden's Lars Frander and Oleg Roucklevitch of Belarus.

"I wasn't very happy with my time in the heats this morning, but I'm amazed at my speed this afternoon, especially in the last 50," Popov said.

"When I saw the time I said 'Wow... this is a real renaissance'.

Other golds on Thursday went to German Antje Buschschulte in the women's 100m backstroke and Russian Vladimir Selkov, who hung on grimly to grab the men's 200m backstroke title.

Germany won the final event of the day, the 4x100m freestyle, by more than two seconds.

Boca: Wistful, wishful

BUENOS AIRES, Aug 22(Reuters): Boca Juniors, boosted by the return of Claudio Caniggia and with Diego Maradona continuing his unimpaired comeback, believe they can finally knock arch-rivals River Plate off their pedestal in the Argentine championship which starts on Sunday.

The last championship, the strike-hit 1996-97 Clausura tournament, was fairly typical as the club finished ninth while River walked off with yet another crown.

Whether the latest squad assembled by high-profile president Mauricio Macri can fulfil expectations is the question Argentine soccer is waiting to see answered.

A slimline Maradona began his latest comeback at the age of 36 last month, playing for an hour and inspiring Boca to a 3-1 win over Racing Club. He then announced he would save himself for the new season.

Caniggia, a veteran of two World Cups, ended a year's absence from professional soccer then joined Boca last week in a move partly financed by a security-alarm manufacturer.

Boca also signed Mexico's Caniggia look-alike Luis Hernandez, top scorer in the recent Copa America, and Peruvian international midfielder Nolberto Solano from Lima club Sporting Cristal, this year's Libertadores Cup runners-up.

"We always have to set our sights on the championship," said coach Hector Veira. "I have a lot of faith."

Maradona, however, still claims Boca are not strong enough, especially after an attempt to sign Paraguay's explosive goalkeeper-cum-free-kick specialist Jose Luis Chilavert from Velez Sarsfield flopped this week.

"The squad is not complete," said Maradona, who even patched up a long-standing animosity with Chilavert to pave the way for his arrival.

Ironically, Boca begin their campaign on Sunday away against newly-promoted Argentinos Juniors — Maradona's first club.

Two tournaments are held in each Argentina season, which confusingly runs from August to July with a break in January and February. The 20 First Division teams play each other once in each and there is no overall champion.

The competition beginning on Sunday is the opening championship — known locally as Apertura — of the 1997-98 season.

They start away to Lanus, one of the smaller Buenos Aires clubs.

Velez Sarsfield have just lost the services of coach Oswaldo Piazza, who left after failing to agree new terms.

Former Argentina captain Oscar Ruggeri, his country's most-capped player, is also without a club after San Lorenzo sacked him this week for his involvement in the strike which paralysed the recent Clausura championship for nearly two weeks.

Bowling saddens Sachin

COLOMBO, Aug 22: India's captain Sachin Tendulkar today urged cricket officials back home to prepare sporting wickets for domestic cricket if his team was to perform well abroad.

Tendulkar admitted the failure of his two strike bowlers Venkatesh Prasad and Anil Kumble contributed to India's inept display on the Sri Lankan tour, which concludes Saturday with the final one-dayer, reports AFP.

It's a match that holds only academic interest after Arjuna Ranatunga's reigning world night's rest before the Indians travel to Toronto, Canada for a five-match one-day series against arch-rivals Pakistan will rejuvenate Prasad and Kumble.

With Srinath still out, these two are my main bowlers. They will obviously be overworked. I am sure the rest will do them good," he said.

Tendulkar, still looking for his first series win abroad after a year as captain, said India badly needed a physical trainer to improve the fitness of his team.

"We are obviously not the fittest team in the world and it shows in our fielding. Having a

The Sri Lankans hammered a world record score of 952 for seven in the first Test, while left-handed opener Sanath Jayasuriya amassed 773 runs in his last six innings against the Indians.

Not surprisingly, India's lone success on the tour was against Test aspirants Bangladesh which helped them qualify for the Asia Cup one-day final.

Tendulkar said the practice of preparing turning wickets at home had undermined the skills of Indian bowlers.

"On those tracks anybody can get wickets. The real test of skill comes when you have to bowl on true wickets abroad."

"Bowlers sometimes complain the wicket didn't help them. But it's the job of bowlers to get wickets. Otherwise, we may as well play with 11 batsmen."

Boris pays last homage to Axel

MUNICH, Germany, Aug 22: Boris Becker, who dropped out of next week's US Open because of the death of his adviser Axel Meyer-Weolden, attended his close friend's funeral today at a sombre ceremony with about 300 other mourners, reports Reuters.

Wearing a black suit, Becker and his wife fled silently past dozens of journalists into a small cemetery church in the southern Munich district of Gruenwald for a 45-minute mass that was held in Italian — a final request from Meyer-Weolden.

Many German celebrities were at the funeral, including Bayern Munich president Franz Beckenbauer.

Becker had hoped to play his last Grand Slam at the US Open starting next Monday. But he felt he could no longer compete.

An influential sports manager, the Munich lawyer died on Monday after fighting liver cancer for several years. He was 56.

Becker worked closely with Meyer-Weolden in the latter part of his career after breaking up with former manager Ion Tiriac. The lawyer also because a close friend and the pair often watched soccer matches together at Becker's beloved Bayern Munich.

The 29-year-old former world number one, who had been training hard for the last two weeks to prepare for the Open, first cancelled his trip to Boston, where he was scheduled to play Brazilian Fernando Meligeni on Tuesday night.

On Wednesday, Meyer-Weolden's aide Peter Duvinage said he had informed the US Open organisers of Becker's decision not to take part in their tournament.

Becker won the US Open in 1989.

GIFU, Japan, Aug 22: Russia stormed back from two sets down to seize a five-set victory over Atlanta Olympic gold medalists Cuba in the World Grand Prix women's volleyball tournament today, reports AFP.

The Russian spikers, losers in the bronze-medal playoff at Atlanta, profited from fine blocks by Evgenia Artamonova and Elizaveta Tichchenko for a 14-16, 14-16, 15-8, 15-12, 15-12 victory.

"As I had expected, our young players have been improving a lot. We started to play better and were better physically and won the match," said Russian coach Nikolai Karpol.

In the other match Japan defeated the United States 9-15, 15-7, 15-10, 11-15, 15-12.

The three-day tournament is the third stage of the eight-team World Grand Prix series. The top three teams as well as hosts Japan will advance to the finals to be held in Kobe next week.

Nantes back on track

PARIS, Aug 22: Doubt-ridden Nantes restored some confidence and claimed their first points of the season with a convincing 2-1 away win at Strasbourg on Thursday, reports Reuters.

The 1995 champions lost several key players as well as their coach during the summer break and began the new season with three defeats, failing to score in the process.

They finally found their way to the net Thursday thanks to their new striker Samba N'Diaye who beat Strasbourg goalkeeper Alexander Vencel in the 22nd minute.

Strasbourg reacted strongly and equalised shortly before halftime when former Metz striker Frederic Arpinon headed home a David Zitelli cross.

But Nantes claimed all three points when defender Bruno Carotti scored with a powerful shot in the 54th minute.

The victory lifted Nantes to 13th place and left Cannes rooted to the bottom without a point after they lost 2-0 at home to Bordeaux in the night's only other game.

Cannes seemed on course for a point until the visitors struck twice in the last 10 minutes. Kodjo Alanou got the first in the 81st minute and Kaba Diawara the second during injury time.

Coetzer defeats Novotna

STONE MOUNTAIN, Georgia, Aug 22: Top seeded Czech Jana Novotna was ousted in the quarterfinals of the 450,000 dollars US women's Hardcourt Championships Thursday by fifth-seeded Amanda Coetzer, whose 1-6, 6-3, 6-1 victory put her in her 10th semifinal of the year, report agencies.

The 5 foot 2 inch South African has failed to advance past the semifinals in eight previous tournaments this year but won in Budapest in April.

Lindsay Davenport continued her unbeaten streak on the court where she won her Olympic gold medal last year as she advanced to the semifinals. The tournament is being held at the Olympic Tennis Stadium.

Davenport, the fourth seed, will play Coetzer in Friday's semifinals after beating unseeded Dominique Van Roost 6-1, 7-5 in Thursday's quarterfinal.

The seventh-ranked American beat Spain's Arantxa Sanchez-Vicario on the same court to win the Olympic gold for the United States just over a year ago.

Second seed Monica Seles' 10-match win streak ended when she pulled out of the tournament because of illness on Thursday morning. Her opponent — unseeded Sandrine Testud of France, the player who beat Seles in the third round at Wimbledon earlier this summer — got a walkover into the semifinals where she will play third seeded Croatian Iva Majoli.

Majoli, the reigning French Open champion, defeated sixth seeded Brenda Schiltz-McCarthy of the Netherlands 6-2, 7-5 to advance to the last four.

Coetzer remains one of the few healthy players among the top women. Seles withdrew from the tournament with a fever and throat virus and both Majoli and Schiltz-McCarthy have injured back, Novotna has playing in her first tournament since July 13, returning from an abdominal muscle strain.

Novotna dictated play in the first set by creating opportunities to reach the net and put away the winning volley, taking it 6-1 in 30 minutes.

But Coetzer turned on the power in the second set, accelerating the pace on her backhand to win the set 6-3 with a backhand crosscourt passing shot.

The players traded breaks for the first three games of the third set until Coetzer took advantage of forehand errors by the Czech to break her three straight times. Coetzer won the match as Novotna netted a backhand.

"I doubted myself a little because I got down at first," Coetzer said. "Luckily it turned for me. Things tend to happen naturally for me. I tend to play well if I get myself really focused and somebody like her gives me more of a target to hit."

"I was struggling hard in the first set to get myself in a good state of mind," she said. "I told myself to focus on every point, and not on the outcome of the match. I felt really into the match, really committed, and things start to happen for me when I'm focused."

It was a great match despite the scores," said Novotna, nursing a sore shoulder afterwards. "We played some incredible points but in the second set she started to be more aggressive when I kept coming in she kept passing me."

Italian Super Cup final today

TURIN, Italy, Aug 22: Juventus need to bounce back from their resounding defeat to AC Milan if they are to lift the Italian Super Cup against Vicenza on Saturday night, reports AFP.

The reigning champions were beaten 3-1 in front of 76,000 people at San Siro on Tuesday night, after Milan tore apart what was supposed to be the toughest defence in the Serie A.

Now coach Marcello Lippi has to rebuild confidence in time to face the Italian Cup winners, who have re-shuffled their squad since last season.

Lippi can also count on the returning members of his foreign legion — Portugal's Manuel Dimas, and Uruguay's Iglesias Montero and Daniel Fonseca — who all missed the match in Milan.

Dimas and Montero are almost certain to play, at the back and in midfield respectively, while Fonseca will be on the substitutes' bench, waiting to come on for either Alessandro Del Piero or Filippo Inzaghi.

Vicenza were one of the revelations last season, but have subsequently paid the price. Three of their best players have been snapped up by bigger clubs — Giampiero Maini (AC Milan), Luigi Sartor (Inter Milan) and Giovanni Lopez (Lazio).

On the plus side, they have a formidable new striker in Pasquale Luisio, whose 16 goals last season saved Piacenza from relegation and condemned Cagliari to the drop.

However, coach Francesco Guidolin is typically keeping his team's expectations to a minimum here this weekend.

"Against Juventus, it will be enough for us just to put on a good performance, so that we don't lose face," he said.

"The team are not where I want them to be, but that's only to be expected since half of the squad are new and we've only been training for a month. But I can do see a real desire to work and to improve in everyone."

"We've just got to keep our heads up, and accept that in normal circumstances, it's hard for us to attack a team who are as well organised as Juventus are."

Last season's Italian Cup was their first trophy to be won in the club's 95-year history. With Juventus anxious to put their European Cup final and Berlusconi Trophy disappointments firmly behind them, Vicenza will be hard pressed to add another one on Saturday.
