Goutam's painting exhibition begins tomorrow

By Staff Correspondent

A week-long miniature water colour painting exhibition by Goutam Chakraborty begins at the Shilpakala Academy tomorrow.

Some 70 works, including two series of paintings — Red Hot Iron Bar and From the Pages of History — will be put on display everyday from 2 pm to 7 pm.

In the 12-piece series of Red Hot Iron Bar, the brightly coloured, detailed and stylised works of Goutam describe the perception of the Liberation War of Bangladesh.

The other series describes the artist's own perspective about the history of the country. Other highly textured works highlight detailed features of horse, cat, elephant, woman and other subject.

"The miniature paintings presents me more intensely," Goutam Chakraborty said of his works. "They also compel the viewers to see the paintings from a closer distance. Besides, I love to draw details."

Goutam paints about 100 pieces a year. All his works are mainly focused on single characters while the colours emphasise the tonal variation of hues.

He previously held a miniature painting exhibition at the Shilpakala Academy in 1992 and another in the USA in 1993.

Russian Ambassador to Bangladesh Evgeniy P Ivanov called on Dr Mohiuddin Khan Alamgir, Minister of State for Planning, Civil Aviation and Tourism, at his office yesterday.

NSU signs accord with S African university

By Staff Correspondent

The North South University (NSU) has signed an academic collaboration agreement with the Witswatersrand University (WITS) of South Africa.

The agreement was signed during the recent visit of NSU president Muslehuddin Ahmed to South Africa. Ahmed disclosed this while briefing newsmen on the main campus of the university yesterday.

A student-exchange programme between WITS and NSU will be initiated soon, he said. During the trip, Ahmed also held meeting with the Dean of WITS Medical School to explore the possibilities of its academic support for the proposed medical school of NSU.

The NSU will introduce higher courses in medical science and engineering as soon as it shifts its campus to its own site at Bashundhara on the outskirts of the city at the end of 1998.

About the administrative affairs of the private universities, Ahmed suggested that the University Grants Commission should set up a separate cell within its jurisdiction to oversee the activities of the private universities. Such a cell, according to him, will enable UGC to perform its responsibilities more smoothly.
