STAMFORD, Connecticut, Sept 16: Steffi Graf will not return to the WTA Tour as a conumber one in the same manner Monica Seles was able to share the top spot after her comeback from being stabbed, ranking. Instead, the WTA will use its "special ranking rule" that was written in case of long-term in-

Graf would be eligible to return at number three because that was where she was rated after her final event before the layoff, in this case the French Open.

Graf could use her special ranking for entry into 11 tournaments, one of them a Grand Slam, should she be out until the Australian Open.

The Davis Cup Euro African Zone Group One relegation tie was due to be played in Tel Aviv from September 19 to 21.

In Israel, Israel Tennis Association chairman David Harnik expressed disappointment at Morocco's decision.

"We regret the decision (not to play in Israel), which has resulted from political considerations," he said in a statement. In the meantime, Marzio

Martelli dropped out of Italy's

Davis Cup squad with a pulled left hamstring on Monday, just days before his side's semifinal clash with Sweden. Martelli was replaced by Davide Sanguinetti, who has never played in the competition before. Sanguinetti broke into the top 100 in the world rankings for the first time this year and is currently ranked 95. He is expected to compete in the singles, leaving veteran partners Omar Camporese and Diego Nargiso to play doubles.

Simpson leaves Brentwood

LOS ANGELES, Sept 16: O J Simpson has moved out of the Brentwood mansion he once shared with his murdered exwife, a lawyer for the former football star said on Monday. reports Reuter.

Attorney Dan Leonard said Simpson, who lost the home in foreclosure after falling behind on his mortgage payments, has moved elsewhere in the Los Angeles area.

A civil jury in February found Simpson liable for the June 12, 1994, stabbing deaths of ex-wife Nicole Brown Simpson and her friend, Ron Goldman, the same jury ordered him to pay 33.5 million dollars in damages.

Half revolution in English cricket

LONDON, Sept 16: English cricket officials were forced to admit defeat on Monday in their efforts to alter the face of the traditional county championship, reports Reuter.

The 18 first-class counties, joined by the MCC, voted 12-7 to retain the current all-play-all format, albeit with increased incentives for the top eight sides who will qualify for a new one-day Super Cup the following season.

Although there will be promotion and relegation in the new national league one-day tournament starting in 1999, the failure to introduce two divisions at first-class level disappointed English Cricket Board (ECB) chairman Lord Maclaurin.

"County chairmen are very conservative and they have to be led along slowing and gently," he said. "Personally I would have gone for two divisions and I think that in my lifetime we'll get there. We'll give it three years and then see what happens."

The bulk of the other proposals put forward in the original "raising the standard" document last month have been retained, notably a restructuring of club and second team cricket.

Touring teams are also likely to face more representative sides on future visits to England, although the counties have been promised that their money-spinning games against the tourists will not completely disappear.

English Test players are also likely to be contracted to the ECB rather than the counties in future. Lord Maclaurin did not put a date on it but described the move as "inevitable."

C'wealth Games' cricket may lose attraction

SYDNEY, Sept 16: Next year's Commonwealth Games cricket tournament, which will go ahead without the traditional powers of England and West Indies, could be weakened further since Australia and Pakistan may send just secondchoice sides, reports Reuter.

A spokesman for the Australian Cricket Board said today that it was likely that the Games in Kuala Lumpur would clash with Australia's tour to Pakistan.

"The tour dates haven't been finalised yet but they will be around the same time as the Commonwealth Games (September 11-21)," Patrick Keane said. "If that's the case then we'll be sending a team instead." Cricket has been included in the Commonwealth Games for the first time next year, but has already suffered several body blows. English officials last week announced they would not be sending a team because the Games coincided with the end of their domestic county season.

The West Indies are ineligible to compete as a single entity because they are represented by their individual states at the Commonwealth Games.

Macau's maiden female matador

HONG KONG, Sept 16: A con-troversial bullfight in the Portuguese-run territory of Macau will feature a woman bullfighter this year, it was reported Tuesday, reports AFP.

Organiser Jose Pinto told local newspapers that Maria Manuela, 24, from Portugal will appear in the five-day, five million Hong Kong dollar (650,000 US) fiesta.

The event is aimed at attracting tourists to the territory, which has been plagued by gang warfare. Tourist arrivals plummeted 25 per cent in July amid battles which have killed 17 people since the start of the year. Rival gangs are fighting for control of Macau's gambling, loansharking and prostitution rackets.

The event, for which the Macau government has contributed 2.5 million dollars, is scheduled for September 27-28 and October 1, 4 and 5.

Basuki trailed 2-5 in the first set and then faced two set points at 4-5 and 15-40. She got back to deuce by charging in for a winning half-volley and then a smash. Four points later, she reached 5-5 with a forehand crosscourt.

The 26-year-old Indonesian broke for a 6-5 lead by forcing Pitkowski into a netted passing shot attempt and finished off the set with a good serve down the middle.

The second set looked easier. with Basuki taking a 5-3 lead, but Pitkowski saved two match points at 4-5 as Basuki sailed two backhands long.

Unable to serve out the match at 5-4 and - after another service break — at 6-5, Basuki dominated the tiebreaker, serving her seventh ace of the day for a 5-1 lead and finally winning with a net charge that stampeded Pitkowski into hitting long.

Tamarine, ranked 41st, won with heavy hitting, though Maleeva served up nine aces to her five. The problem at the start, she said, was that the rain meant there was no court available to warm up, and Maleeva "was hitting every ball on the line. I was lucky in the second set - my serve was coming back. She had to save two break points in a five-deuce game at 4-4 in the second set before breaking Maleeva to take the set.

Also advancing directly to the second round were the next three seeds' - Arantxa Sanchez-Vicario and Conchita Martinez of Spain and American Kimberly Po. Po will meet Hiraki in her first match.

No. 6 seed Elena Likhovtseva of Russia withdrew because of a kidney infection. Russia's Anna Kournikova and American Mary Joe Fernandez had dropped out earlier, Kournikova with a foot injury and Fernandez because of illness. Japan's Haruka Inoue replaced Likhovtseva as a lucky loser, while Henrieta Nagyova of Slovakia took her place as a ninth seed.
