tournament, reports AP. Top seed Monica Seles didn't stay on court long enough for much to go wrong. She beat No 8 Natash Zvereva of Belarus 6-1, 6-0 in 45 minutes, and explained later "It was so windy today I hoped the match wouldn't go too long. It was very difficult to play."

Naoko Sawamatsu, hitting some spectacular shots at a full sprint, gave host Japan something to celebrate by upsetting No 3 Conchita Martinez of Spain 7-6 (7-4), 6-4 in a nearly two-hour battle.

The racket slipped from Sanchez-Vicario's hand as the No 2 seed served at 4-all and 15-40 in the second set. Li hit back an easy forehand return that the Spanish player could only

But then leading 5-4, Li couldn't cash in on any of her three set points as Sanchez Vicario responded with some of her best shots of they day. She lost the game after six deuces. Sanchez Vicario then saved two break points for a 6-5 lead and broke Li again.

and the humid conditions caused her to let the racket slip and crash hard into the court. "It fell, I lost the point, and I broke the racket." she said. "Fortunately it doesn't happen too often.' It had happened once before and she was able to pick up the racket and continue, but this time, "No way," she said.

Sanchez's Vicario, a former No 1 who has slipped to 10th in the WTA rankings, beat Li 6-2, 6-0 in their only other meeting.

SYDNEY, Sept 19: Australia will field their best possible cricket team at next year's Commonwealth Games, in a one-day tournament already snubbed by England, reports

Australian Cricket Board chairman Denis Rogers said Friday that a full-strength team was possible for the Games, starting September 11, because a tour of Pakistan in the same month would not interfere.

"I am sure the players would like to win a gold medal and win in another environment," Rogers said.

Leading Australian players, including vice-captain Steve Waugh, had indicated their desire to play in the Games. England withdrew when they were told the Common-not pay players. Citing a busy schedule, England then offered to send an amateur team, which was re-

Cricket will make its debut at next year's Games. "I'm not concerned about what England are doing. I'm looking forward to going there," Waugh said this week. "We're all for it as players, we want to go there. We want to represent our country and try and get a gold medal. "It's a unique opportunity we wouldn't otherwise get and I think it'd be great to go there, representing Australia at the Commonwealth Games." Young batsman Ricky Ponting said the players had spoken about it last month when they were still in England playing for the Ashes. "We spoke about this before and that fact came up, that we probably wouldn't be paid for going there but that didn't worry us," Ponting said.

"I know that everyone wants to play and hopefully get a medal for Australia.

"It's going to be something very different and just to be involved in that sort of environment will be sensational, to be able to mix with other athletes."

The Australians would still be eligible for payment from the ACB although a decision was not announced.

India, Chile finish Day One evenly

Gabriel Silberstein 6-3, 6-2, 6-2 in 84 minutes. In the second match, world No. 7 Marcelo Rios was stretched to four sets and faced some tough opposi-tion from low-ranking Mahesh Bhupati before conquering him 6-2, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Sept 19: An all-star track and field lineup that includes eight gold medalists from last month's World Championships in Athens will compete Friday in the inaugural Jamaica invitational, reports AP.

Among the stars are Cuban sprinter Ana Fidelia Quirot. who holds the world record for the 400 metres, and Trinidad's Ato Bolden, who bolted to the year's fastest 100-metre time to take the world title in Greece. Cuban high jumper champion Javier Sotomayor will also compete, alongwith 200metre champion Zhanna Pintussevich of the Ukraine, US 100-metre hurdles champion Derrick Adkins and Sweden's Ludmila Engguist, who holds the world title in the 100-metre hurdles.

The Jamaican delegation is led by Deon Hemmings, Olympic gold medalist in the 400-metre hurdles, and Sandie Richards, who won the silver medal in the 400 metres in Athens.

The invitational is Jamaica's first international meet since the Norman Manley Games in 1979, and coincides with Emancipation celebrations in the Caribbean country.

HARARE, Sept 19: Zimbabwe were bowled out for 298 on the second day of the first Test against New Zealand today, report agencies. Earlier on Thursday Grant Flower and Dave Houghton steered Zimbabwe out of trouble and into a safe position. After the Kiwis had taken the initiative in the second session - when they reduced the hosts from their lunch score of 30-0 to 144-4 just before tea two of Zimbabwe's most experienced batsmen added an unbroken 61 for the fifth wicket in just over 90 minutes to take the score to 205-4 at the close.

When bad light stopped play with another half-an-hour still to make up for the 65 minutes lost during the opening session due to rain, 26-year-old Flower was unbeaten on 85 and Houghton was 20 not out. Flower playing a characteristically watchful, laborious innings, was grinding his way towards his third Test century. his innings spanning five min-utes short of five hours with 10 fours. He faced 249 balls. At the other end, player-cum-coach Houghton faced 87 balls in his 97-minute stay at the crease.

Four wickets fell in the second session, two to Chris Cairns and one each to Share O'Connor and Nathan Astle.

With Houghton playing the anchor role it was Flower who went onto the offensive in the final session, straight driving Cairns and driving him off the back foot and also slashing Astle backward of point, all for boundaries.

the bespectacled Rennie was caught by first slip Stephen Fleming in the 20th over after making 23.

Andy Flower followed in the next over, taken low down at the second attempt by Craig Spearman at third slip with the score on 57. The former Zimbabwean skipper only made eight.

It could have been worse for Zimbabwe had Spearman not dropped Guy Whittal at third slip off Heath Davis with the score on 64-2 in the very next over.

Whittal, who had not gotten off the mark at that stage, went on to score a belligerent 33 off 55 balls and, more importantly. shared in a third-wicket stand of 60 with Grant Flower.

Whittal finally went when he was caught at slip off O'Connor.

Zimbabwe captain Alistair Campbell did not last long. though. After hitting three fours in his first 18 runs, the left-handed Zimbabwean skipper was caught at short midwicket off the economical Astle. Grant Flower reached his seventh half-century shortly after the tea interval with a single before hitting out. Cairns had the best figures of 2-42 off 18 overs while Astle was the most economical, his 19 overs costing only 22 runs. Zimbabwe gave Rennie and leg-spinner Adam Huckle their first Test caps while New Zealand capped opening bowler
