Three more held in Calcutta

CALCUTTA, Sept 30: Police in the eastern Indian city of Calcutta have arrested three more suspects in a nationwide cricket betting ring, taking the total number of arrests to seven so far, reports AP.

Surajit Kar Purakayastha, superintendent of police, said Tuesday that the three arrested Monday included Basanta Kumar Gujari, who allegedly ran betting operations in northern Calcutta.

Basanta was arrested just a day after police raided an apartment in the city and arrested Om Prakash Dhanuka, suspected of being one of India's biggest bookies. Three of his as-sociates were also arrested.

Following the arrests Sunday and Monday, betting at Dhanuka's operations throughout the country had stopped, police said.

Monica, Lindsay earn the pass

NEW YORK, Sept 30: Monica Seles, Lindsay Davenport and Amanda Coetzer are the newest players to qualify for the season-ending Chase Champi-onships of the Corel WTA Tour, reports AP.

The three join top-ranked Martina Hingis in the select 16player singles field.

Seles is a three-time winner of New York's Madison Square Garden event, while Davenport and Coetzer each have 1997 victories over Hingis, who has lost only three times this year.

The November 17-23 tournament will be the 20th consecutive year the tour championships have been held at the Garden. In that span, Martina Navratilova has won seven titles and was runner-up five more times, while Steffi Graf has won five times, including last year's thrilling five-setter over Hingis.

All of Seles' titles came in a three-year span, 1990-92. Besides singles, the year's top eight doubles teams qualify for the Chase Championships.
