Plaintiff.

BASEL, Switzerland, Oct 2: Greg Rusedski ousted David Prinosil 4-6, 6-4, 7-5 here on Wednesday as he outmanoeuvred his opponent in the first round of this milliondollar Swiss Indoors event. report agencies. Rusedski needed an hour and 45 minutes to earn his second round berth against South African Wayne Ferreira. A forehand volley winner broke Prinosil's serve in the last game of the match to see the US Open runner-up through. Britain's 10th ranked Rusedski, playing his first tournament since splitting with coach Brian Teacher, could not be faulted for positive play in the first set. But, in rushing to the net on every point, Rusedski paid the price against the accurate groundstrokes of the Czechborn German.

A superb backhand pass saw the fourth seed broken in the first game of the match and he trailed 0-2 against his 59thranked opponent.

But the Brit held service the next time round with an ace as he rattled off three games in a with an ace right on the time. But Prinosil stayed with him and a lob, a great passing shot and a superb return on break point in the ninth game left him serving for the set at 5-4. He duly held serve when Rusedski put a backhand over the baseline to draw first blood against his Canadian-born opponent The British player came back into the match in the second set as he broke to lead 4-2. But a foot fault seemed to lead to a momentary loss of concentration in the very next game. Rusedski trailed 0-40 before eventually losing the game on a double fault. And Prinosil held serve with an ace to level at 4-4 and come within two games of victory. But Rusedski won eight points in a row to win the second set 6-4 following a netted backhand from his opponent. Rusedski's service, not in full swing in this match, improved in the final set but Prinosil would not let him get Rusedski's 12th ace saw him take a 3-2 lead, and two games later he led 4-3 with a single double fault being his only point lost on service in the set.

He was then a break down at 4-4 but held his nerve to take the game. Then at 6-5, a superb forehand return down the line left Rusedski at 0-30 up and two points form victory. He went on to lead 40-15 and converted the second of his two match points with a forehand volley.

Fifth-seed Jonas Bjorkman of Sweden easily advanced, defeating France's Arnaud

Boetsch 6-2, 6-3, while fellow Swede Thomas Enqvist, seeded sixth, beat Bohdan Ulihrach of the Czech Republic 6-3, 3-6, 6-1. Albert Costa was the only seed to fall.

Hard-serving Mark Philippoussis of Australia denied the Spaniard his first ever career indoor victory, advancing to the second round with a 7-6, 6-3

American Jeff Tarango also collected a first round win, disposing of Jan Siemerink of the Netherlands 7-6, 6-2. Canadian Open champion Chris Woodruff of the United States beat France's Guillaume Raoux 7-6, 6-2.

Paes sent packing

BEIJING, Oct 2: Number three seed Thomas Johansson of Sweden beat India's Leander Paes 7-5, 6-1 in the second round of the China Open men's tennis here forcing out the last Asian competitor in the event. reports AFP.

Johansson's strong serve was too much for Paes, bronze medal at the Atlanta Olympics Johansson was joined in the quarterfinals by fellow Swede Magnus Gustafsson, Kenneth Carlsen of Denmark, Italy's Gianluca Pozzi, and Byron Black of Zimbabwe. Black had the toughest match of the day, fighting back to beat Justin Gimmelstob of the United States 3-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Japan go into a crunch World Cup qualifier against Kazakhstan here Saturday with injury doubts about star striker Kazuyoshi Miura and manager Shu Kamo fighting for his job. reports AFP. Miura injured his back in the 2-1 defeat by South Korea last weekend which left Japan slumbering five points behind their Korean rivals and also trailing United Arab Emirates in Group B of the Asian qualifying final.

The top team from each of the two groups qualify automatically for the finals in France next year. The second-placed sides will playoff for a third

Japan must win on the difficult and weed ridden central stadium pitch in the Kazakh capital to keep alive their hopes of reaching a first World Cup final. And Miura's injury will not still feel pains. But the swelling has gone down thou: I have little problem when I a. .. walking," said Miura, who clashed with a Korean defender. The injury is not his only problem as the 30-year-old star striker has hit a goal drought since firing four past Uzbekistan in Japan's first group

He had only three shots in the scoreless draw with the UAE and did not get a single shot against the Koreans. "I'm going to refresh myself in central Asia, beat the United Arab Emirates at home and crash South Korea away, Miura vowed "The game is not over yet. I'll show you that we can reach the finals by winning all the remaining games," he added.

Japan's with a four points from three matches, must beat Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan to save the job of Kamo, who was blamed for the Korea defeat by replacing Brazilian-born striker Wagner Lopes with a defender after Japan took a 1-0

Kamo has named right back Hiroshige Yanagimoto, who returns to national duty after a four-month break with a foot injury.
