Ctg police asked to prepare separate lists of criminals

CHITTAGONG, Oct 13 In a bid to crack down on the criminals, Home Minister Rafiqul Islam has directed the district and police administrations to prepare separate lists of criminals, including their godfathers, reports UNB.

His directive came from a review meeting of Divisional Law and Order Committee held at the Circuit House conference hall Sunday.

"You will have to make separate lists of terrorists and extortionists of the last six years," said the Home Minister who attended the meeting as chief guest.

"Police will have to keep vigil how the illegal arms entered the country and intensify their anti-smuggling drives," he said emphasising the need for maintaining law and order in EPZ, port areas and educational institutions.

Responding to a query of city Mayor A B M Mohiuddin Chowdhury, Rafiqul Islam said the police officials will be allowed to conduct their drives without fear and favour and ruled out the possibility of harassment in discharging their duties properly.

The Home Minister was learnt to have expressed dissatisfaction over the low performance of arms recovery and increasing trend of robbery on highways.

The minister said the government is determined to hold the upcoming union parishad elections peacefully and impartially.

About the Chittagong University situation, he said it's up to the university authorities how they will deal with the campus situation. "The law enforcers will simply work as their helping hands."
