

Mobil

Now in Bangladesh

For over 100 years, the name Mobil has stood for trust, leadership and partnership to millions around the globe. As one of the world's leading oil and gas companies, Mobil has consistently pioneered breakthroughs in world-class quality lubricants. Today, motorists, plant engineers and equipment maintenance professionals everywhere recognise Mobil's automotive and industrial lubricants as the world's most innovative and advanced.

We're now in Bangladesh, and a new generation of customers here will benefit from premium products like Mobil 1, the world's first fully synthetic engine oil. Our commitment to Bangladesh is demonstrated by our over 110 crore Taka investment in the country. Together with the extensive network of Jamuna, our local partner, we are committed to being a major player in Bangladesh's drive towards the new century.
