A rally marking the National Voluntary Blood and Posthumous Eye Donation Day '97 was brought out in the - Star photo city yesterday.

10 lakh blind people in country

Health and Family Welfare Minister Salahuddin Yusuf yesterday urged the workers of the voluntary organisation. Sandhani, to work with dedication to meet the huge demand for blood and eradicate blindness from the country by expanding their activities at district and thana levels, reports BSS.

Salahuddin Yusuf said there are 10 lakh blind people in the country now and nearly 30,000 to 40,000 children are adding to the number due to malnutrition and damage to cornea.

"We need a co-ordinated programme to ensure the removal of blindness from society and supply of pure blood to the patients." he said while inaugurating the National Voluntary Blood Denation and Posthumous Eye Donation Day '97 at Osmani Memorial Hall in the

The health minister said the yearly demand for blood in our country is about 2,50,000 units of which 50,000 units are supplied by Sandhani after collection from the donors. Blood is also being collected by Lions Club, Red Crescent Society. Blood also comes from professional donors most of whom are suffering from different killer disease, he said. The health minister said there is no religious bar to eye or blood donation, rather all the religions have encouraged

He said the health sector was seriously neglected by the gov-ernments of last 21 years. As a result, the rich of the country go abroad for better treatment and spend crores of taka every year, he added.

The minister said despite limitations in the health sector, the government is sincere to extend maximum possible service to people.

He said the government will allocate enough money for expanding the activities of Sandhani at district and thana levels in the next budget.

Later, the minister inaugurated a week long voluntary blood and eye donation programme and led a rally from Osmani Uddyan to Shahbagh crossing organised by the Min-istry of Health and Family Wel-

JCD call to gear up agitation against govt
