

McGrath won't play in second Test

SYDNEY, Nov 14: Australian fast bowler Glenn McGrath has been ruled out of next week's second Test against New Zealand because of a groin injury. The Australian Cricket Board said today. McGrath damaged his groin during the first Test in Brisbane but still managed to take five wickets in New Zealand's second innings to lift Australia to a crushing win by 186 runs on Tuesday.

"Even though I am keen to play the last thing I want to do is play in this Test and then break down and so miss the rest of the season," McGrath said.

ACB chief executive Mal Speed said team physiotherapist Errol Alcott and chairman of selectors Trevor Hohns made the final decision after McGrath visited a specialist today.

"After the second Test, a decision will then be made on Glenn's availability for the third Test match at the end of the month," Speed said.

Laxman reminds selectors

CUTTACK, Nov 14: The stylish VVS Laxman staked his claim for a place in the Indian Test team with a classy unbeaten 87 to guide Board President's XI to a commanding 180 for one before unseasonal rain played spoilsport on the opening day of the three-day cricket match against the visiting Sri Lankans at the Barabati Stadium here today, reports PTI.

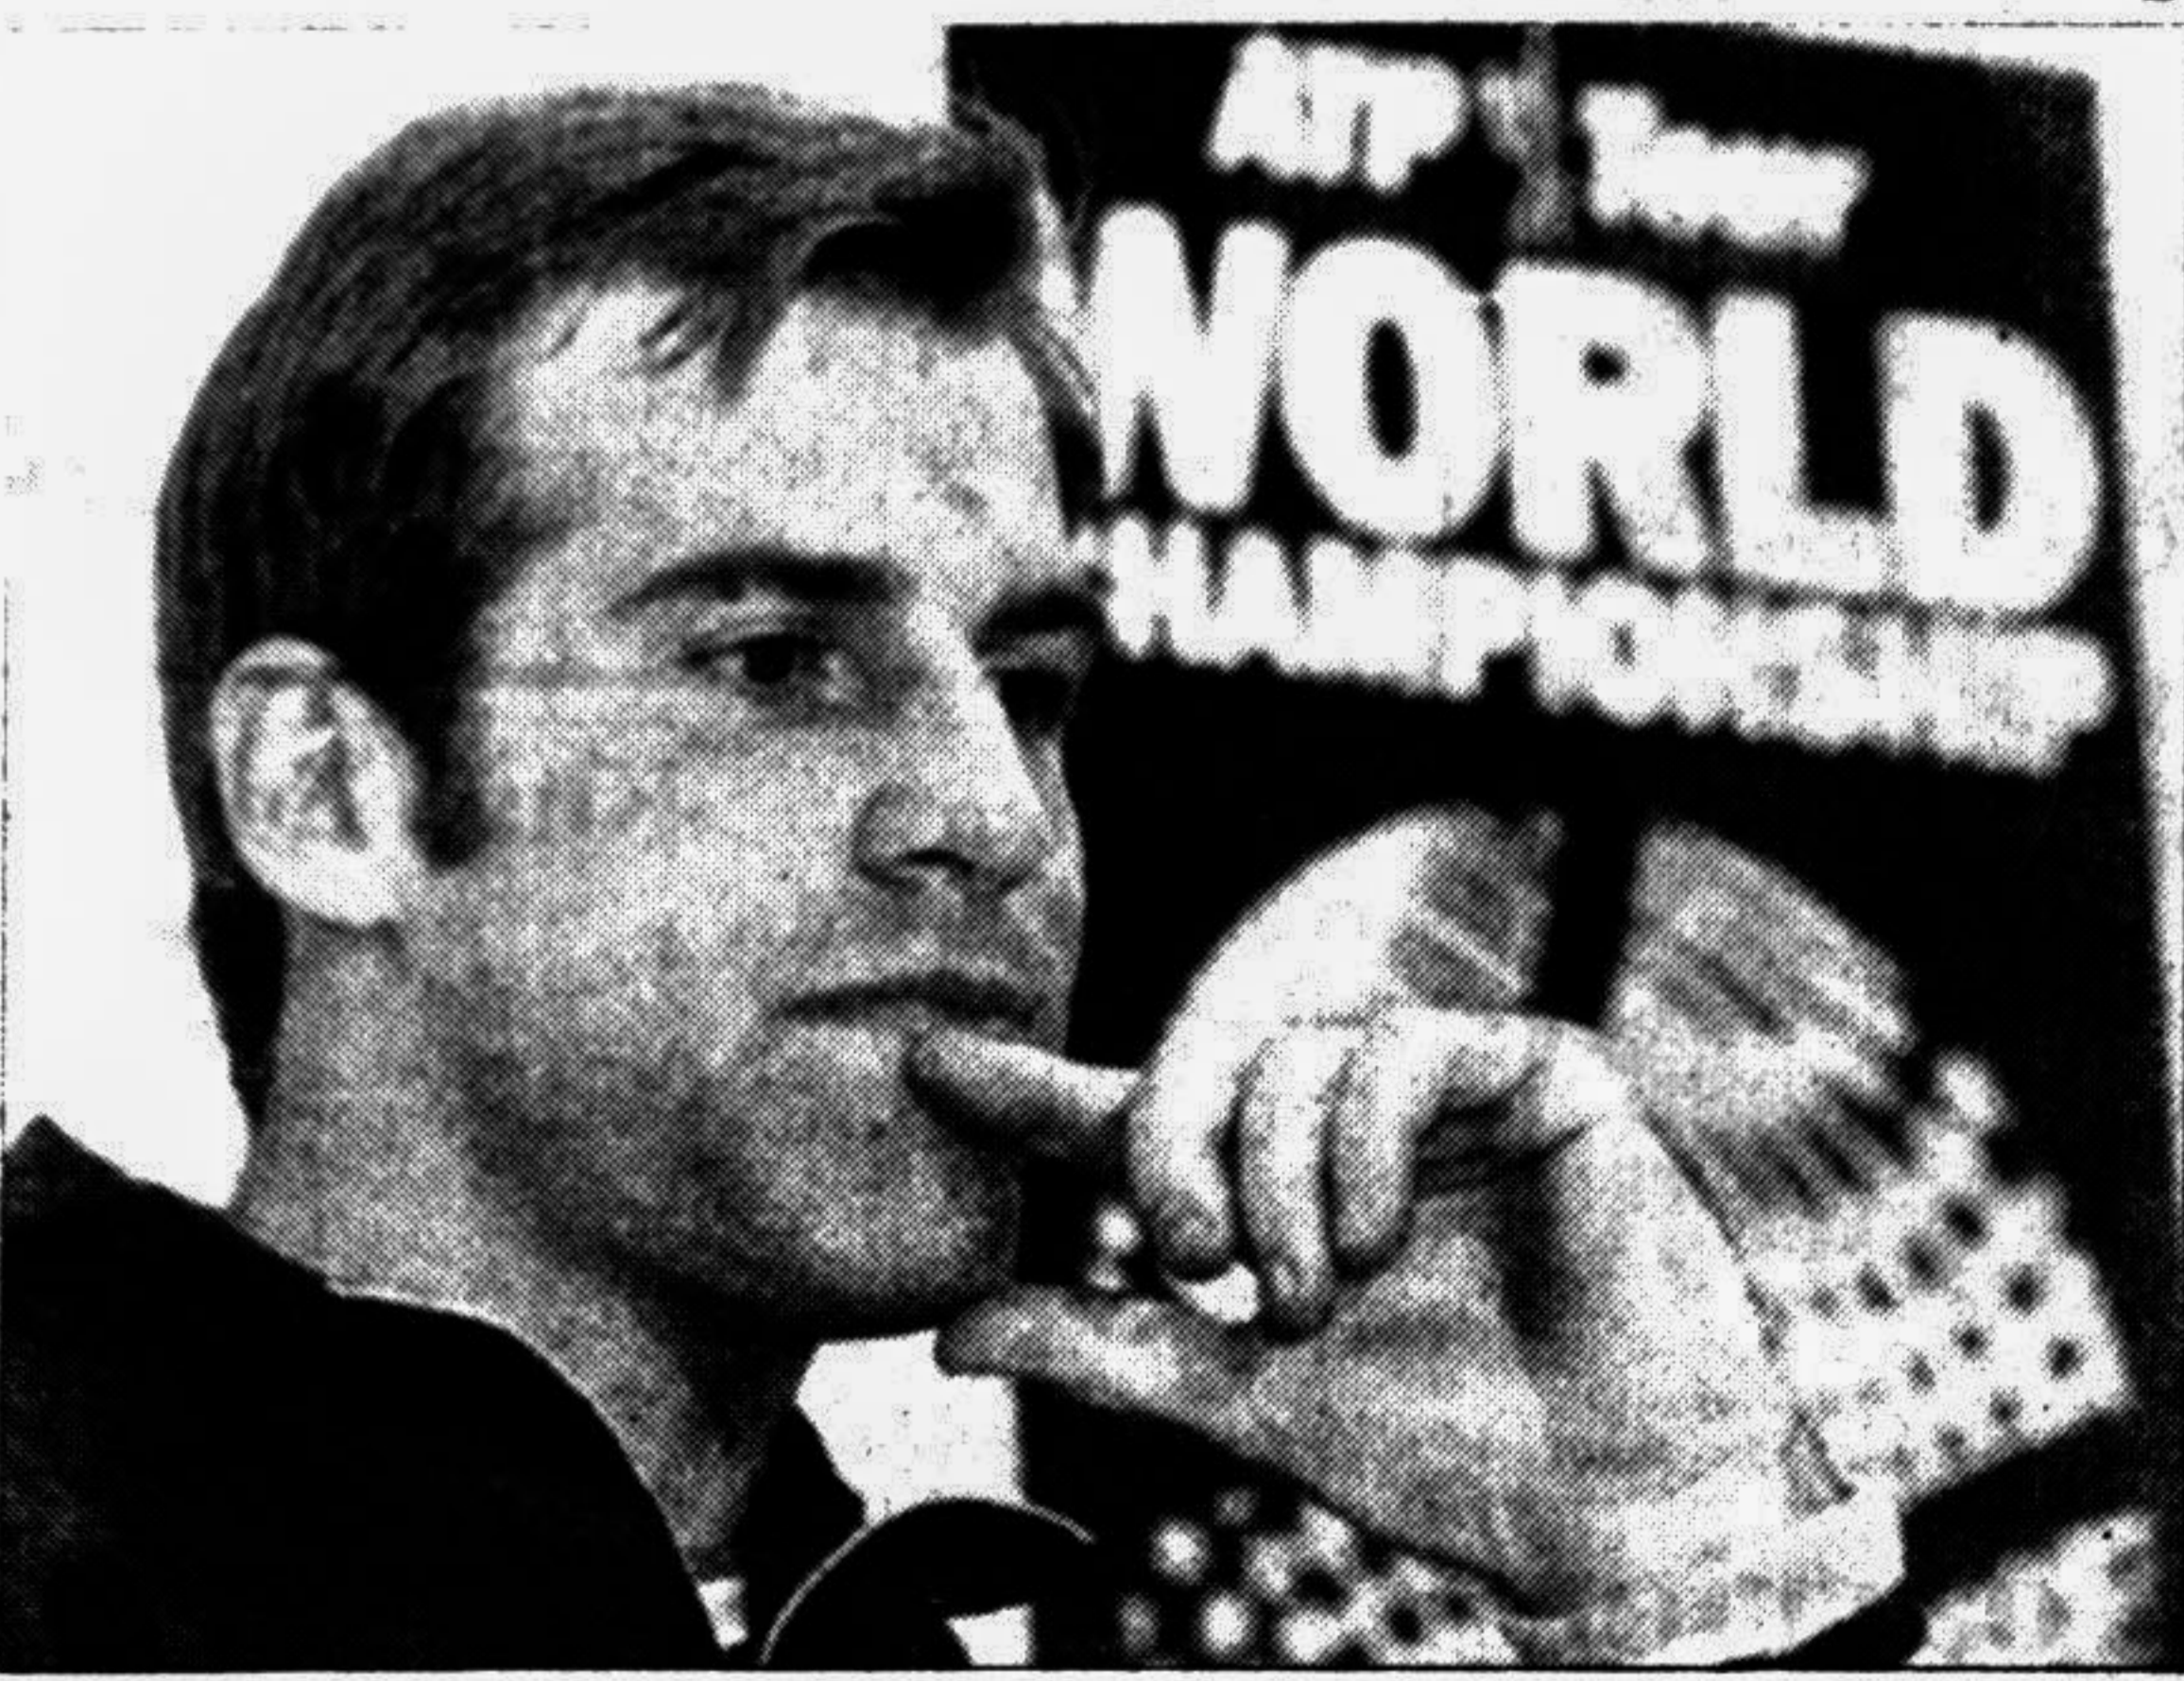

Electing to bat after skipped Venkatesh Prasad won the toss, the Board President's XI lost opener Gagan Khoda (6) early but a disciplined 151-run second wicket partnership between Mumbai opener Wasim Jaffer (batting 78) and Laxman put the team in a comfortable position before play was called off due to inclement weather.

Hashan Tillekeratne, who was captaining the Sri Lankan team with most of the senior players resting, kept rotating his bowlers to break the flourishing partnership but without much success.

Ron back at Wednesday

LONDON, Nov 14: Ron Atkinson was today named as the new manager of English Premier league club Sheffield Wednesday — six years after walking out of Hillsborough in acrimonious circumstances to join Aston Villa, reports Reuters.

Sheffield Wednesday chairman Dave Richards speaking on BBC Radio 4's Today programme, confirmed that Atkinson had signed a contract until the end of the season.

Yevgeny first in last four

HANOVER, Nov 14: Yevgeny Kafelnikov blasted past second-ranked Michael Chang 6-3, 6-0 in 57 minutes Thursday and became the first player to qualify for the semifinals of the ATP Tour World Championship, reports AP.

Kafelnikov, with a perfect 2-0 record, was helped by Jonas Bjorkman's 6-3, 6-1 victory over Sergi Bruguera. Bruguera dropped to 0-2 and was the first player to be eliminated.

Chang, runner-up in 1995, dropped to 1-1 and will play Bjorkman Friday for a place in the semifinals. Bjorkman is also 1-1.

The 3.3-million dollars tournament brings together the top eight players in the world, split into two groups. The top two from each group advance to the semifinals.

Meanwhile, Greg Rusedski pulled out of the championship because of a right hamstring injury.

Rusedski, the first British representative to qualify for the season-ending event, will be replaced by alternate Thomas Muster. Muster will play Carlos Moya later Thursday. Muster cannot qualify for the semifinals.

Ranked No 5 in the world, Rusedski had lost his first two matches.

Kafelnikov, the No. 6 in the world, is playing his third consecutive ATP championship and has reached the semifinals for the first time.

The Russian only clinched a berth in the event by winning the Kremlin Cup in Moscow on Sunday.

But he overwhelmed Chang by hitting winners from all over court, hitting the lines and corners with powerful ground strokes.

"I cannot play better than that. It's by far the best match of the year for me," said Kafelnikov, who missed more than three months at the beginning of the year because of a broken finger on his right arm.

Kafelnikov, the 1996 French Open champion, broke serve for a 3-1 lead and faced two break points while serving for the set. He hit an ace, took the next point and held on to win the set.

He rolled through the second set, breaking the American's serve three times. A lucky net cord gave Kafelnikov a break point in the fifth game, and Chang then hit a forehand into the net.

Kafelnikov used his second match point when Chang's return ended in the net.

Chang is making his sixth appearance at the elite event, in which he now has a 7-15 record. Bjorkman, who has shot to No 4 in the world, needed even less time against a disgruntled Bruguera, winning in 52 minutes.

Rusedski, a big-serving Canadian-born left-hander who plays for Britain, lost to top-ranked Pete Sampras Wednesday and then complained about his injury.

His 6-4, 7-5 victory over Rusedski put Sampras back on course for his fourth title. He had lost his opening match to Moya.

LATEST

HANOVER, Nov 14: Pete Sampras reached the semifinals of the ATP Tour World Championship when he beat Patrick Rafter in straight sets Friday eliminating the US Open champion from the event, reports AP.

Sampras, defending champion and No. 1 in the world, won 6-4, 6-1, eliminating Rafter and allowing Carlos Moya to advance.

Rafter needed to win a set off Sampras to advance. Sampras, Rafter and Moya all finished with 2-1 records. But Moya had a higher win-loss sets and games average than Rafter.

Sampras used a devastating backhand return to blunt Rafter's serve and volley game, winning the last three points of the match with that same shot as he broke Rafter's serve for the third time in the second set.

Sampras also had seven aces to one for Rafter, and hit 28 winners, compared to 13 for Rafter.

In each of the three years he won the ATP championship, Sampras had lost a round-robin match. The only time he failed to reach the last four was in his debut in 1990. He has qualified for the event every year since 1990.

Sergi Bruguera, eliminated Thursday, pulled out of his last, meaningless match against Kafelnikov with a lower back injury.

The ATP invited Tim Henman, the next available alternate who is ranked No 17 in the world. Henman is playing the British nationals in Taiford and was scheduled to fly to Hanover after finishing his quarterfinal match against Jameal Delgado. Henman will end up playing two matches in one day in two different countries.

As an alternate player, Henman will pick $60,000. If he beats Kafelnikov, he will earn 100,000 dollars. Henman cannot advance.

MELBOURNE, Nov 14: The Australian Cricketers' Association said talks with the Australian Cricket Board over pay and conditions had broken down in acrimony again on Friday, reports AP.

The ACA said its revised pay claim had been rejected by board officials during an hour-long meeting Friday and strike action was now a distinct possibility.

ACA president Tim May said the board had refused to move on several vital claims put forward by the players union.

"The board is not prepared to have a guaranteed players fund or deal collectively with the ACA on behalf of the players," May said.

"I don't understand why cricket should be completely different to other professional sports. To be frank, I'm bloody disappointed."

The ACA was also angry the board had made a cross-town announcement at the same time the union was revealing the latest impasse.

May said this went against a confidentiality agreement between the two parties.

The ACA stressed strike action was still the players' last resort but said it was obvious that industrial action was now a stronger possibility.

"We are running out of avenues," said May.

Rain spoils first day

MELBOURNE, Nov 14: New Zealand, thrashed by Australia in the first cricket Test on Tuesday, were deprived valuable match practice today when rain washed out the opening day of their latest tour match, reports Reuters.

The umpires for the four-day match against Victoria abandoned play at lunch without a ball being bowled.

New Zealand, who lost the first Test in Brisbane by 186 runs, face Australia in the second Test at Perth's WACA ground, starting on November 20.

The tourists rested captain Stephen Fleming and fast bowler Simon Doull, while Victoria gave test leg-spinner Shane Warne and pace bowler Paul Reiffel a break after their exertions in Brisbane.

New Zealand's frustrations could heighten over the next three days, with local weather forecasts predicting further rain interruptions.

Wallace whacks 142 Windies draw tour game

RAWALPINDI, Nov 14 (UNB/AP): West Indian Philo Wallace scored a career-best 142 as the four-day game against Dr A Q Khan XI ended in a draw here on Friday.

The tourists who did not enforce a follow-on Thursday after dismissing the home side to 267 in reply to 464, went on to score 303 for in their second innings before declaring midway into the second session.

Needing a mammoth 501 runs off 33 overs for victory, AQ Khan XI ended up at 107 for three. Franklyn Rose, Phil Simmons and Rawl Lewis grabbed one wicket each before the match was called off after the completion of 28 overs.

Wallace, the 27-year-old wicketkeeper-batsman from Barbados, surpassed his previous first-class best of 135 against Lewards in 1991. Together with nightwatchman Lewis, Wallace put on 135 for the second wicket in 130 minutes.

Lewis was one of the two wickets to fall prior to lunch but not before the batsman had scored 59 with the aid of six fours. The rightarm medium

Wallace, 69 overnight, completed his century off 138 balls and punished a mediocre bowling attack. He hammered 14 boundaries, three successive off Nazir.

The right-hander was caught on the second attempt by Naved Qureshi at extra cover off Nazir shortly after the lunch break. His best-ever knock lasted 204 balls and featured 19 fours and two sixes. During his nearly five-hour stay at the crease, Wallace played only one loose shot when he was dropped by Buzid Khan Thursday afternoon when he was on 13.

Nazir and off-spinner Murtaza Hussain both snatched two wickets apiece, giving away 83 runs each.

The first Test between Pakistan and West Indies starts at Peshawar Nov 17.

Friendly cricket

A friendly cricket match between the Jattia Press Club and Uttara Club ended in a tie at the Armed Police Battalion ground at Uttara yesterday, reports UNB.

Batting first, Press Club made 175 for six in the stipulated 30 overs. In reply, the Uttara Club reached the same score losing eight wickets in 30 overs.

Mujtaba Danish of Press Club was adjudged man-of-the-match.

Huber deprives Raymond

VILLANOVA, Pennsylvania, Nov 14: Anke Huber earned a tough victory over Lisa Raymond in the second round of the Advanta Championships Thursday, setting the 16-player field in next week's season-ending Chase Championships, reports AP.

Raymond's loss in three sets meant that Brenda Schultz-McCarthy and Sabine Appelmans secured the final two spots for the 2 million dollars tournament at Madison Square Garden.

The Chase Championship features the tour's top 16-ranked players. Schultz-McCarthy will play top-ranked Martina Hingis in the opening round, while Appelmans will play Mary Pierce.

Huber, who faces Hingis in Friday's quarterfinals of the 450,000 dollars Advanta tournament, had split the first two sets with Raymond and was ahead 5-1 in the third set before Raymond rallied.

Playing for a spot in the Chase Championships and with support from her hometown crowd, Raymond pulled even at 5-5 before Huber easily won the final two games for a 2-6, 6-2, 7-5 victory.

"I'm very disappointed," said Raymond, who would have qualified for the next week's tournament in New York if she had won. "I'd be lying if I sat here and said I wasn't thinking about it."

Momentum swung several times in the match, but Huber finally prevailed with what Raymond termed "two unbelievable games." Huber closed out the final game with two aces.

"At 5-2, I was still a little nervous," said Huber, ranked 12th in the world. "Then it got to 5-3, then 5-4 and I was afraid to hit the ball. I let her back in the match and she started to play better."

Raymond, ranked 17th, was upset because she didn't keep the pressure on after dominating in the first set. "Anke's a player who loves to play with momentum," she said. "I let her get on a roll."

Sixth-seeded Iva Majoli, who lost to Huber in the first round, was the only one of the top eight seeds not to reach the quarterfinals. The last time seven of the top eight finishers made it to the quarterfinals in this tournament was in 1991.

The second round also saw No 5 Lindsay Davenport rout Conchita Martinez 6-3, 6-0 breaking a six-match losing streak to Martinez and extending her current match winning streak to 10.

Joginder the one and only

WELLINGTON, Nov 14: Joginder Singh is a certainty to make a clean sweep of prizes in the 105-years-and-over section at an athletic meet in New Zealand, the New Zealand Press Association reported today, says Reuters.

The 105-year-old Indian will compete alone in his age group, running, throwing and jumping in the Oceania Veteran Championships in the north island town of Hastings in January.

Singh, a Sikh from northern India, claims the world record for the men's 95-years-and-over long jump of 4.15 metres, which he set in 1990.

His passport, which was provided to the organisers as proof of age, shows he was born in Patiala on June 12, 1892, making him the oldest of the 500 entrants by 20 years.
