LONDON, Dec 23 (The Electronic Telegraph): When Brian Lara signed a new contract with Warwickshire Saturday, the rubber plant in the corner of the Heathrow Airport Excelsior Hotel's Trident Suite was dwarfed by all the olive branches: olive branches and enormous carrots.

Lara, who was en route to the Caribbean from Sharjah, will earn up to 200,000 pounds for five months' work if the club come anywhere close to repeating their astonishing success of 1994, when they became the first county to win three of the four major competitions. They were runners-up in the other.

When Jonathan Barnett, Lara's agent, was asked how much his man would be earning, he replied: That is a matter for the club and the player." But when I suggested the figure of 100,000 pounds. Barnett replied: If Warwickshire have a very successful season, it will be closer to double that."

Dennis Amiss, the club's chief executive who looked as excited as any autograph hunter as he sought Lara's signature. said: "Brian will be the highestpaid county cricketer in the country." His one-year deal is believed to be heavily bonus-related. There is no sponsorship deal. The money is coming straight from Warwickshire's swollen coffers.

Gooch to assist Durham

LONDON, Dec 23: Former England captain and Test selector Graham Gooch has joined David Boon's Durham as a consultant and batting coach for next season, reports AFP.

Gooch, manager of the England 'A' team for a three-month tour of Kenya and Sri Lanka beginning in January, will join the country for pre-season training in early April.

Durham's Australian captain Boon praised the appointment of the former Essex opener, saying: "The club and team will benefit from any input Graham can give."

Bangladesh Boys recorded a three-wicket win over Orient Sporting Club in the lone First Division cricket league match at the City Club ground in Mirpur yesterday.

In a low-scoring affair. Bangladesh Boys, set to score 165 runs for an outright victory in the allotted 45 overs, reached the target with 14 balls to spare and with three wickets in hand. After a disappointing start with Bangladesh Boys reeling at 30 for three, Sayed Hasan and Nadeem Ahmed put on an invaluable 98 runs for the fourth wicket to set the stage for victory. Both Sayed and Nadeem scored 48 runs apiece.

Earlier, the Orient total was built around a gritty 47 from their opener Karim. But once he was departed in the 29th over. leaving his side at 103 for three. Orient lost their last six wickets with the addition of only 61 runs in the face of some controlled bowling from Nadeem Nazar and Shaheen Ahmed who evenly shared six wickets among them.

ke bowler Glenn McGrath and the Australian policy of fielding separate one-day and Test sides will help them take the first Test which starts here Friday, reports AFP.

McGrath and leg-spinning genius Shane Warne, are undeniably Australia's two matchwinning bowlers, but McGrath has played just two limitedovers internationals in the last six weeks as he recovers from an abdominal injury.

McGrath, who captured 36

wickets at 19.47 in this year's Ashes series in England, is trying to convince selectors of his fitness this week but the odds are against him being at his best when Hansie Cronje's men take on the top-rated Aussies.

There's also the possible disruptive effects of Australia's new policy of splitting its oneday and Test teams meaning that key men Mark Taylor and lan Healy, along with Matthew Elliott and Greg Blewett have been kept out of the Australian limited-overs team in recent

South Africa, in contrast, largely have kept together their Test and one-day teams with only out-of-form Adam Bacher left out of the abbreviated game

They currently lead the triangular one-day series which also involves New Zealand.

Shaun Pollock and Lance Klusener struck form against Australia A in Brisbane last weekend and along with potent strike bowler Allan Donald shape up as a cohesive, confident three some to share the new ball against some lessthan-certain Australian batsmen, most noticeably one-day skipper Steve Waugh.

As always, Warne looms as South Africa's boogey man with his leg-spin wiles yet Cronje is confident his team have finally mastered the art of playing against wrist-spinners and believes Warne will not pose as great a threat as when he claimed 43 wickets in their last eight Test meetings.

Cronje believes facing Australia A leg-spinner Stuart MacGill and a recent tour of Pakistan have adequately prepared his side to handle Warne. "It's good to play someone like him before you go into a Test match against Warne," said Cronje.

"I do feel that South Africans have started playing spinners better and better over the years. We are getting slowly better at the way we are playing them and this was good preparation.' But Cronje recognises the

"The series will largely depend on how well Warne bowls," said Marsh of Warne, who has endured a fortnight of taunts about his weight and fitness.

"He is capable of getting anyone out cheaply and quickly if he's bowling well. It doesn't look such a daunting batting line-up when you've got a spinner of his calibre.

The Australia A coach also said he rated South African quicks Allan Donald and Shaun Pollock as close to the same class as Pakistani pair Wasim Akram and Waqar Younis.

The South Africans drew their leadup four-day match against Australia A with MacGill returning the unflattering figures of 2-69 and 2-150. Such was the nature of the finish of the game, South African wicketkeeper Dave Richardson bowled the second last over - his first bowl in 194 first class games - swapping the gloves with Bacher. "I do feel coming back from Pakistan and also playing against MacGill in Queensland has helped us prepare a lot for this match," Cronje said.

Substitute forward Mizan directed a Barun lob to an unmarked Zakir who nodded the ball home to steer the sky blues to their ninth victory in the elite league.

The Dhanmondi outfit, with this win, moved into second place with their old rivals Mohammedan Sporting Club having raised their tally to 31 points from 14 matches. Leaders Muktijoddha Sangsad have 32 points with a game in hand. Fakirerpool's eighth defeat in 14 matches kept them jointly fifth in the table along with Farashganj. Both teams are having equal 12 points. The Motijheel club which has registered only three wins so far, could count themselves unlucky as they made a positive start against their much illustrated counterparts. In the eleventh minute when forward Jalal Senior received a
