Dr Mallick's first death anniversary today

The first death anniversary of Dr Azizur Rahman Mallick will be commemorated today, says a press release.

Dr Mallick was Professor of South Asian History at the University of Pennsylvania, USA in the early '60s and the founding vice-chancellor of Chittagong University, where he set up resistance during the Liberation War. After independence, he was appointed Secretary, Ministry of Education. He was the first High Commissioner of Bangladesh to India in 1972 and in 1975, was made a technocrat Finance Minister in the cabinet of Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman.

Dr Mallick was awarded the status of Professor Emeritus, Jahangirnagar University, in 1983. Late in his career, Dr Mallick became the founding chairman of National Bank Limited. He was the President of Asiatic Society and a fellow of Bangla Academy. He also carried out ground-breaking research work into the history of the Liberation War of Bangladesh. Amongst his publications is a book titled, 'Amar Jibon Katha O Bangladesh Mukti Shingaram.'

Rafiq visits Khagrachhari today to see preparation of arms surrender

A 20-member team led by Home Minister Rafiqul Islam will visit Khagrachhari hill town today to see the preparation of the ceremony of arms surrender by the tribal guerrillas on February 10, reports UNB.

Some 600 armed Shantibahini guerrillas headed by PCJSS leader and Commander-in-Chief of Shantibahini Jyotindra Bodhipriya Lama alias Shantu Lama will surrender arms to Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina on the day at the newly-built stadium in Khagrachhari.

Besides, Convenor of the National Committee on CHT Chief, Whip Abul Hasnat Abdullah will be on the team to discuss with the authorities responsible for arranging the ceremony, where the insurgents will give a guard of honour to the Prime Minister before laying down their arms.

The surrender of arms as per provision of the CHT peace accord would make a way for the return of Shanti Bahini members to normal life.

The authorities have imposed restriction on meetings, rallies and demonstrations from Chittagong to Rangpur point from February 6 to 10 to ensure smooth conduct of arms laying ceremony.

BNP Secretary General Abdul Mannan Bhuiyan yesterday said that BNP will go ahead with its scheduled programme of countrywide demonstration on February 10 to protest the agreement.

"Since the arms surrender is a part of the agreement which we don't accept as it was signed without discussion with the opposition, we will hold the protest on that day," Bhuiyan said.
