Bangabandhu Murder Case

He said Sheikh Kamal's voice was heard thrice and after that there was a pin-drop silence for sometime and then about five to six army personnel carrying SMG and stengun entered the house and asked all to raise their hands up.

Nurul Islam said he along with the police surgeon raised their hands up when with a great surprise Sheikh Kamal identifying himself told the armymen that "I am Sheikh Kamal, son of Sheikh."

The armymen shouted, "Hands up," he said adding as Sheikh Kamal raised his hands one army man in black dress opened fire on Sheikh Kamal from stengun, Kamal cried out, "Babare..." He jumped on the nearby reception room and fell down," Islam said.

Islam said the army men who fired shots at Sheikh Kamal also fired on him and one bullet hit above the knee on his right leg and another on his leg finger.

The PW-50 said he then went to his room adjacent to the reception and found Siddique Rahman, ASI of SB and the armed sub-inspector. He also brought Muhtul Islam, resident PA of Bangabandhu, at his room. An army man also put him (Islam) in line.

He said sound of crying and groaning was being heard from the upstairs of the house.

At that time an army person ordered to kill all who were on the line and a soldier fired one shot killing ASI of SB Siddique Rahman.

The army personnel then brought a maid and servants into the line. One army person who brought Bangabandhu's brother Sheikh Naser into the line and asked him something.

The army man then took Sheikh Naser to a reception bathroom and sound of firing was heard, Islam said he heard Sheikh Naser was asking for water and an army personnel asking another to give him water. And again he heard sound of firing.

Another five to six army personnel then came inside and along with a naik, a house guard of Bangabandhu, went upstairs, he said.

Islam said, after sometime one army person brought Bangabandhu's youngest son Sheikh Russel into the line. Russel caught hold of Muhtul Islam and servant Rama asked whether they (army) would kill him. Russel, he said, asked the same question to the army man, who replied in the negative. He (Russel) then asked him to take him to his father and mother.

The army man took Russel inside the house and after a while, a sound of firing was heard, Islam said.

At about 6 to 6:15 am, the witness said, five to six army personnel came down from upstairs and talked in English with others who were outside the gate. Islam said he only heard one saying "all are finished."

The army men then ordered for taking out the police force from the house, he said adding he and his force were taken out of the house and lined up near the bridge.

Getting permission for medical treatment, he said he along with one police constable came to Lalbagh police station and from there he went to Dhaka Medical College Hospital. After the treatment, he said out of fear he left the hospital and went home.

After three months of treatment at his home, Nurul Islam said he joined his service.

Islam was later cross-examined by state defence counsels and Advocate Abdur Razzak Khan, defence counsel for Col (ret'd) Sultan Shahriyar Rashid Khan.
