England face uphill task

Sports Reporter

The West Indies last wicket pair of Ian Bishop and Dinanath Ramnarine put on a record partnership against England to possibly close the doors for the tourists on the penultimate day of the fourth Test at Georgetown, Guyana yesterday.

Bishop hit a responsible 44 not out while Ramnarine scored a carefree 19 as the pair took West Indies from their overnight 127 for nine to 197 all out, a lead of 379, 10 minutes before lunch. The 70-run partnership broke the long standing record of 67 by Colin Croft and Andy Roberts way back in 1980-81 at St John's, Antigua.

In the one over from Curtly Ambrose possible before lunch England scored five runs without loss.

Yevgeny lifts Guardian Cup

LONDON, Mar 2: Yevgeny Kafelnikov took a two-set victory Sunday over France's Cedric Pioline, controlling a baseline match for the Guardian Direct Cup indoor title in west London, reports AP.

The 24-year-old Russian had beaten Pioline in eight of nine previous matches, and he stayed true to form winning 7-5, 6-4.

Waqar ends SA resilience

Pak triumph at Kingsmead

DURBAN, Mar 2: Waqar Younis seized South Africa's last two wickets on the fifth morning of the second Test at Kingsmead today to give Pakistan victory by 29 runs and a 1-0 lead in the three-Test series, reports Reuters.

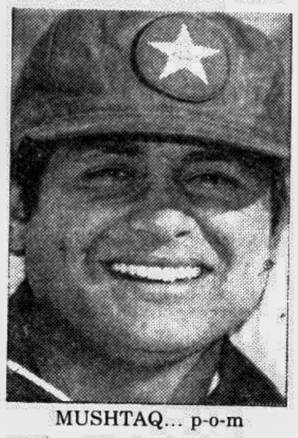
Resuming on 186 for eight in pursuit of 255 for victory, Mark Boucher and Fanie de Villiers raised hopes of an extraordinary win by extending their ninth wicket partnership from 53 overnight to 86 before Waqar struck twice in quick succession.

A yorker finally broke through wicketkeeper Boucher's Defence two balls after reaching his second Test half-century, and Allan Donald was lbw for nought in Waqar's next over.

"It was a wonderful win. South Africa threaten everyone with their record at Kingsmead but we produced a magnificent team performance to beat them," said captain Aamir Sohail.

"Everyone forgot Saeed Anwar's century. He played a great knock and it gave us that advantage at a crucial stage. Azhar Mahmood is developing into a fine all-rounder ... his century in our first innings was the turning point.

"But Mushtaq Ahmed really won it for us yesterday with his six wickets. He has won so many Tests for us, he is a brilliant, match-winning bowler."



MUSHTAQ... p-o-m

De Villiers resumed in the morning in the same belligerent fashion that he began his innings on Sunday, reverse-sweeping Mushtaq for a boundary in the leg-spinners second over and then walking down the wicket to Waqar and aiming expansive cover drives at the fast bowler.

The seamer moved from 26 to 46 not out from 67 balls with six boundaries but Sohail claimed his side were never worried that victory might escape them.

"We knew all along that we just needed two good balls. They were the ones under pressure, not us," he said.

Both century-makers were ignored for the player-of-the-match award, as was Shaun Pollock for his second innings return of six for 50 and 100 runs in the match. The accolade went to Mushtaq for a match haul of nine for 149.

Mushtaq's career continued its sharp rise to greatness in world cricket. Having an armoury of vicious leg-spinners, quick top-spinners and the best disguised googly the little wizard proved too much for every South African apart from Boucher, who batted with maturity and skill.

Having taken just 44 wickets in his first 18 Tests, Mushtaq has now captured 111 in his second 18 matches.

His performance only highlighted the folly of South Africa's decision not to play a spinner on a pitch always likely to take spin as the match progressed.

"The history of Kingsmead has never warranted a spinner. We felt it was the right decision to include an extra seamer," South African captain Hansie Cronje said after the match.

"Our batting remain the problem and we have been trying to address it since September last year. Naturally we are very disappointed but we are very, very determined to win and square the series in Port Elizabeth on Friday."

Jansher in fine form

HATFIELD, England, Mar 2: Jansher Khan vowed to retake the world number one title this year after defeating British champion Simon Parke in the Super Series final on Sunday, reports Reuter.

"I intend now to win every major title in 1998 to reclaim my rightful position at the top of the game," the 20-year old Pakistani said after beating Parke 15-12, 13-15, 15-11, 15-10.

"Then, given the way I am playing and the players who are around, I can probably stay on top from three to five years more," he added.

Scotland's Peter Nicol, who took the number one title from Khan last year, beat world number 11 Mark Chaloner of England 15-9, 15-7 for third place.

Rohan, Sanjay run riot

LAHORE, Mar 2: Unbeaten centuries by Rohan Gavaskar and Sanjay Raul and their unbroken 228-run sixth wicket stand helped India 'A' pile up a mammoth 557 for five at close in their first innings on the second day of the third cricket 'Test' against Pakistan 'A' at the Gaddafi Stadium here today, reports PTI.

The visitors lost three quick wickets this morning after the addition of just 30 runs to their overnight score of 300 for two.

Skipper Gagan Khoda was out after adding just eight runs to his overnight 181 and Abbas Ali, who resumed with him on 67 also perished for 76. Wicket-keeper M S K Prasad was out after scoring just one run.

But Gavaskar and Raul made light of the early blows and batted well to take their team to a strong position.

Both batsmen duly reached their individual centuries and at stumps were batting on identical scores of 115.

Ali Rizvi who took three for 183 was the most successful bowler for the hosts.

The visitors would declare tomorrow morning and put pressure on Pakistan, Indian coach K Srikkanth said.

He said they did not declare their innings today because of bad light.

Srikkanth, elated over the brilliant batting display of Raul and Gavaskar, said they applied themselves well and held the innings together after the fall of three quick wickets to put the team in a commanding position.

Venus opens her account

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar 2: Third-seeded American teenager Venus William, who has been proclaiming that she will be the new world no 1 before she is much older, won the first title of her career on Sunday when she defeated fourth-seeded Joanette Kruger of South Africa in straight-sets in the final of the 164,250 dollar WTA tournament here..reports AFP.

The powerful Florida-based 17-year-old, who turned professional in October 1994, raced to a 6-3, 6-2 win. The 24-year-old, 27th-ranked Kurger was always under pressure from Williams' big serves and sledge-hammer groundstrokes and never looked likely to cause an upset.

Williams had been favouritre to win the title after beating world no 2 Lindsay Davenport in the semi-finals on Saturday.

Mixed bag on Akram affair

Star Sport Monitor

Controversial fast bowler Wasim Akram will join the Pakistan team in South Africa ahead of the third Test, Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) chairman Khalid Mahmood said on Sunday, according to a newspaper report from Karachi.

The News quoted Mahmood saying that the former captain, now training with his English county Lancashire, would join the team two days before the third Test starting at Port Elizabeth on March 6.

He said Akram had confirmed his fitness to the board. "I received his (Wasim's) fax on Saturday. That was followed by another letter from Lancashire confirming that the pacer has regained complete fitness," Mahmood said.

Wasim was left out of the original squad after allegations of betting and match-fixing. Tour officials also claimed Wasim was injured although the exact nature of his injury was clouded in mystery.

News of Akram's likely joining the team in South Africa however surprised chief selector Salim Altaf. "I have no idea how and who selected him," he said. "I feel that it's the domain of the selectors to pick or drop a player."

Altaf said, he did not feel the team needed a new player in South Africa. "All the players are fit and delivering the goods."

But Khalid Mahmood said, Wasim had been picked following a board decision that he would be told to join the team in South Africa as soon as he felt he was fit. "I don't think Wasim is a player on whose selection a lot of debate was required," he said.

Wasim has appeared before a parliamentary committee assigned to investigate the allegations. But the sub-committee of the Senate has not yet cleared Akram of the allegations, committee member Iqbal Haider said. "We have not cleared him, not in the least and, as far as I know, the board was conducting its own investigations and they too haven't cleared him either," Haider said.

Meanwhile, another report from Durban suggests, the Pakistan tour management had no official word on this development back home till late Sunday evening. Manager Asad Aziz told that so far he had not been informed anything about Wasim joining the team in Port Elizabeth by the PCB although he had spoken to the board secretary Waqar Ahmed on Saturday.

"We have no such information, but the last time I spoke to the board official, they asked me about the possibility of sending Wasim to join the team and I had conveyed the tour management's feeling that firstly it was up to the selectors to decide whether to send Wasim or not and secondly that no player should be sent back to accommodate him."

"The Board discussed with me about Wasim joining the team when he was available and I conveyed to them, that he should come in as an additional player and not as a replacement, so that we have to send someone back home." Asad Aziz disclosed he had informed the board that the tour management would not like to see any player being sent back home, since the spirit in the camp was excellent and the youngsters accompanying the team in particular were learning a lot.

"The atmosphere in the camp has been very, very good, with Rashid Latif, Aamir Sohail and Waqar Younis doing a satisfactory job in maintaining a disciplined, friendly but fighting spirit in the team."

Asad Aziz did not have any idea whether the United Cricket Board of South Africa (UCBSA) would provide hospitality to 17 players and three officials, once Wasim joins the team in Port Elizabeth.

Sampras tastes success

PHILADELPHIA, Mar 1: Pete Sampras stretched his reign as the world's number-one player to 99 consecutive weeks on Sunday on winning his first tournament of the season — beating third-seed Thomas Enqvist in the final of the Advanta Championships, reports AFP.

But the 26-year-old American was pushed hard before he gratefully snatched a 7-5, 7-6 (7/3) victory over the stubborn Swede who once gain displayed the excellent form which enabled him to triumph in Marseille three weeks ago.

Sampras, who hadn't won a title since his success at the ATP Championships in Hanover last November and who was beaten by Andre Agassi in the San Jose final two weeks ago, was clearly determined to set the record straight.

Having been under pressure earlier in the week when Australian Open champion Petr Korda had an outside chance of overtaking him in the rankings a chance which disappeared when the Czech bowed out before the quarterfinals of the ATP event at Batersea Park in London, Sampras desperately wanted a win in Philadelphia to restore his confidence.

Against Enqvist he started well, breaking the Swede in the second game, but he came dangerously close to letting Enqvist off the hook when he was serving for the set at 5-3 by double-faulting to allow his opponent back to 5-4, but he made no mistakes in the next game, taking the set with a wonderful forehand cross-court passing shot.

In the second set Enqvist kept up the pressure with his nagging baseline accuracy and he broke Sampras in the third game.

The world number-one fought back, not without a little help from a net-cord shot, to make it 4-4 and then punished the Swede in the tie-break and took the title with another superb cross-court forehand.

"You can not afford to make an error, if you do that, you're going to lose to him of or sure," said Enqvist, who has now lost seven of eight matches against the American.

Sampras who won the first of his 53 career titles in Philadelphia in 1990, also won the event in 1992 and 1997.

Austrian Open Novotna's

LINZ, Austria, Mar 2: Jana Novotna won a tournament for the first time since November, defeating Dominique van Roost of Belgium 6-1, 7-6 (7-2) Sunday to capture the 450,000 dollars Austrian Open, reports AP.

After sailing through the first set in 24 minutes, Novotna was pushed to a tiebreaker and won the match in 65 minutes.

"I'm very happy on this day," she said. "I've had a wonderful week in Linz," she said.

On Saturday the top-seeded Czech became the 14th player on the WTA Tour with 500 victories.

Neither player lost serve in the second set. At the start of the tiebreaker, van Roost was treated on court for a shoulder injury. Play resumed with Novotna leading 6-0. Van Roost fought off pain to save two match points before losing.

Novotna's previous title came at the Chase Championships in New York, where she beat Mary Pierce in the final.
