Jadeja pulls Indians thru' Dhaka Zonal schools semis

MOHALI, May 15: Vice-captain Ajay Jadeja hit 73 runs to take India to a comfortable five-wicket over underdogs Bangladesh in the opening match of a triangular cricket series on Thursday, reports AP.

JADEJA... p-o-m

Adjusting himself well to a slow wicket with uneven bounce, Jadeja hit eight boundaries and made victory look easy in the end. He tided over initial setbacks India suffered after losing opener Saurav Ganguly and Rahul Dravid cheaply. India reached the target with 28 deliveries to spare.

Kenya will play Bangladesh on Sunday in the second match at Hyderabad, capital of southern Andhra Pradesh state.

Bangladesh, babes of international cricket, adjusted themselves well with their bowlers maintaining tight line and length throughout. Fancied India were made to struggle for runs until Jadeja took command of the situation.

He was ably assisted by Robin Singh who remained 27 not out. Skipper Mohammad Azharuddin scored a brisk 31

Earlier, a solid 70 by Aminul Islam helped Bangladesh score 184 for nine in 50 overs after Azharuddin won the toss and asked Bangladesh to bat first. Fresh from their recent impressive victory over Australia in a triangular series at Sharjah, the Indians restricted Bangladesh to below 200.

Aminul, a stand-in captain in place of injured Akram Khan, stemmed a collapse with his patient knock. Khaled Mahmud also played well for his 31 runs.

India young fast mediumbowler Ajit Agarkar claimed three wickets for 41 runs. India decided to rest star batsman Sachin Tendulkar and

Marvellous Marseille thrives on football

15 (Reuters): Marseille, the most ancient city in France, will celebrate the 26th century of its foundation in 2000. But to most of its almost one-million inhabitants, the real celebrations will have taken place two years earlier with the World Cup.

For Marseille has been dubbed "the French capital of football" and for many "Marseillais," the local football club, Olympique Marseille (OM) is the focal point of their lives. "I'm not the mayor of Marseille, I'm the mayor of OM," said Gaston Defferre, the city's mayor from 1945 to his death

One of his predecessors said, 'I'm not the mayor of Marseille, I'm the mayor of Naples."

And it is true that Marseille has an unmistakable Italian flavour about it, with a huge proportion of its population being of Italian origin. This could explain the passion for soccer in a city which has constantly broken attendance records at its Stade Velodrome, located near the centre in the wealthiest part of town. The stadium has been de-melting pot for the Marseille population, with the sons and grandsons of the numerous communities attached to the city all supporting Olympique.

It also hosted one of the greatest international matches ever played - the 1984 European championship semifinal between Portugal and a French side inspired by the dazzling Michel Platini which France won 3-2 in extra time after Portugal had led 2-1.

France then went on to Paris to clinch the 1984 European title — but there was no comparison between the incredible atmosphere generated in the Velodrome on the night of that match and the rather more ordered delight when France beat Spain to win the title in the capital a few days later.

Thanks to its fans, Olympique became the most successful ever side in the history of French football with eight league titles and 10 cup victories. It is still the only French club to win the European Cup — even if their 1993 victory was tainted by the fallout from a bribery scandal which saw Marseille subsequently stripped of the title and demoted to the Second Divi-
