That Turin-based Juventus was founded in 1897 by a group of students, who had actually adopted red as the colour for their shirts. In 1903, when an official of the six-year old club visited England he was so impressed by Notts County's black-and-white stripes that he bought a set of shirts to Turin. Juventus had to wait almost three more decades before laying the foundation of their legend, by winning the Italian league championship five times in a row in the 1930s. This far, they have taken the Italian league 23 times, the national cup ten times, the World Club Cup in 1985, the European Cup in 1985 and 1996, the European Cup Winners' Cup in 1984, and the UEFA Cup in 1977, 1990 and Calcutta Mohammedan Sporting adopted the colours black and white for their club in 1896 and, despite innumerable visits by their officials to England, they have found no reason to change them. It just goes to show that Mohammedans are more original than Juventus. Incidentally, the jersey of both clubs, even it photographed in colour, appears b/w.

Carl's classy double ton

LONDON, May 17: West Indies all-rounder Carl Hooper completed an outstanding double century to save Kent's county championship match against Lancashire at Canterbury on Saturday, reports Reuters.

Hooper extended his overnight 147 to 203 as Kent, 259 behind on first innings, piled up 517 in their second innings to leave Lancashire a victory target of 259 in a minimum 50 overs.

After losing former England captain Michael Atherton and his opening partner Nathan Wood cheaply. Lancashire settled for a draw at 125 for two on the fourth and final day. Hooper's runs came from 212 deliveries and contained 23 fours and one six, his double hundred following that of another overseas player 24 hours

Needing 402 to win, Somerset had slumped to 50 for six by the close on Friday, though they offered slightly more resistance on the last day before being dismissed for 190.

Mark Lathwell added 88 to his first innings of 91 but Middlesex were not to be denied victory by 211 runs, their sixth in succession in all competitions.

Rios ropes in Italian Open

ROME, May 17 (AFP/ Reuters): Chilean clay-court specialist Marcelo Rios won the 2.45 million dollar Italian Open by default here today when Spanish opponent Albert Costa was unable to play due to a wrist injury suffered on Saturday.

Rios, ranked third in the world, claimed a cheque for 350,000 dollars without striking a ball as world number 20 Costa failed a late fitness test minutes before the scheduled start of the best-of-five final. The unseeded Spaniard fell on his right wrist early in the third set during his semifinal against compatriot Alberto Berasategui, injuring his wrist more seriously than first thought. Costa won 6-3, 4-6, 6-3. In the other semifinal at a packed Foro Italico, Rios defeated reigning French Open champion Brazilian Gustavo Kuerten 6-0, 7-5.

Donald wrecks Worcester

WORCESTER, May 17: A vintage display of fast bowling from Allan Donald fired South Africa to an unlikely win by 89 runs in their opening tour match against Worcestershire on Saturday, reports Reuters. The county side, set a victory target of 279 in 62 overs on the third and last day, collapsed from 125 for one to 189 all out.

Donald, having looked a, little off colour in a wicketless first innings, bowled un-changed for two hours to produce a spell of 13-4-24-6 which ripped the home side's innings to pieces.

on 69 before Solanki (34) played around a straight ball and fell lbw to the medium pace of Hansie Cronje. Weston and acting captain Graeme Hick added another 56 before Weston (48) mistimed a pull off Donald to square leg. Gavin Haynes (1) and David Leatherdale (3) both chipped catches into the infield.

Hick's defiant 58 from 70 balls was ended by Lance Klusener, who had the England batsman caught behind.

Donald then took the next three wickets in four overs by bowling Steve Rhodes (3) and Scott Ellis (0) and trapping Stuart Lampitt lbw for 11.

The innings had a final twist when the last pair of Phil Newport and Alamgir Sheriyar survived six of the final seven overs, only for Newport (9) to edge a catch off left-arm wrist spinner Paul Adams to first slip with four balls of the match remaining.

Earlier, South Africa's second innings, 107 for two overnight, had been dominated by a solid rather than attractive 74 from the powerful right hander Jacques Kallis, who hit 75 in the first innings.

Lewis gets another life

LONDON, May 17: Mercurial allrounder Chris Lewis earned another recall to the England cricket fold here today when he was named in the squad for the three one-day internationals with South Africa to be played this week, reports AFP.

The 30-year-old Leicestershire player, who was dropped yet again from the England setup 21 months ago when he turned up late on the Sunday of The Oval Test with Pakistan, is one of seven changes to the squad who were thrashed 4-1 by the West Indies on the winter Lewis' Leicestershire teammate. Darren Maddy, the uncapped 23-year-old batsman, joins him in the squad along with another uncapped player. Sussex's outstanding captain Chris Adams, whose superbly aggressive batting has inspired them into second place in the championship this season.

There are also recalls for surrey batsmen Alistair Brown, Warwickshire spinner Ashley Giles and fit-again Yorkshire fast bowler Darren Gough.

Graeme Hick and Ben Hollioake, brother of captain Adam, head a list of seven players dropped.

The others left out are Dougie Brown, Dean Headley, Mark Ramprakash, Mike Atherton and Jack Russell.

David Graveney, England's chairman of selectors, said the changes would give skipper

CHRIS LEWIS

Adam Hollioake a team strong enough to beat South Africa.

Graveney added: "They (South Africa) are a very fine one-day unit and we will do well to overcome them. But with this squad we have a chance of winning."

Graveney said it was not a case of having to forgive Lewis, who has played 51 one-day matches and 32 Tests, for past misdemeanours - he has also consistently under performed for England despite being perhaps the most naturally talented all rounder in the domestic game. said when I became

A mild warning for Gazza "Paul's been smoking since LONDON, May 17: 100 per cent in the squad.

England coach Glenn Hoddle warned wayward midfield genius

Gascoigne that his place in the World Cup finals squad was not guaranteed - unless he met the England supreme halfway, reports

Hoddle will be meeting with the Middlesbrough playmaker, who receive unfair criticism earlier in the week when it was revealed he smoked, ahead of the run-in to the finals in France to discuss Gascoigne's ankle injury, which has plagued him throughout the season first with Rangers and then after his move to the First Division outfit.

"I want to give Paul in opportunity to learn and open his mind a little bit and see what he can achieve," Hoddle said.

"I think the falling back a little bit now to be honest. I've had words with him and I'll have more words with him. But at the end of the day Paul is Paul and I know in our first session he'll be giving it the full monty. Hoddle added: "At the moment there are 30 players in the squad and I've got to whittle them down. "The last four performances

Paul has put in have been tremendous for me. But I will add, since then, he's been injured at Rangers and Middlesbrough. He's not 100 per cent fit so I can't say at this time he's "Certain things worry me but there are certain things I see that show he's still got the genius in him. "I've always said we're not out of the woods here with Paul. I've said that to him. He's got to come 50-50 with me and I'm sure if he can we'll have a good World Cup."

Hoddle, who doesn't drink or smoke, had staunchly defended Gascoigne when it was revealed he had taken smoking back up again - the England boss has made it a habit of defending him even after allegations he beat his former wife Cheryl.

he was in Rome with Lazio, six or seven years," Hoddle said.

Kiwis to adopt Indian act

COLOMBO, May 17: New Zealand plan to follow India's example by not letting rival bowlers dictate terms on their tour of Sri Lanka, reports Reuters.

"We want to do what the Indians did to Australian spinners Shane Warne and Gavin Robertson in India recently," said Australian-born coach Steve Rixon today.

The New Zealanders arrived in Sri Lanka on Saturday to play a three-Test series and later compete with the hosts and India in the Independence Cup one-day tournament.

"Muthiah Muralitharan is no Shane Warne he is a good bowler and we respect him, but at the end of the day he is not a world beater. We will take him on and if he succeeds then good luck to him," Rixon said.

The New Zealanders arrived in Sri Lanka without Stephen Fleming who is in London attending an International Cricket Council (ICC) captains meeting.

In his absence all-rounder Chris Cairns will captain the side in the tour opener against a Board President's XI beginning in Colombo on Monday.
