BELA serves legal notice for inaction to save Buriganga
Bangladesh Environmental Lawyers Association (BELA) has served a legal notice yesterday upon Secretaries, Ministry of Land, Home Affairs, Industries, Local Government and Rural Development, Environment and Forest, Director General, Department of Environment, Water Development Board and Bangladesh Inland Water Transport Authority for their inactions or omissions in protecting the river Buriganga from illegal encroachment and pollution, says a press release.
Mentioning a report prepared by the Department of Environment (DOE) the notice stated that a large number of encroachers have taken possession on the riverside and river bed and established various enterprises including dwelling houses, saw mills, whole sale market of timber as well as fruits and vegetable, trading and manufacturing factory, dyeing mill, market etc. from the Gabtali Bridge to Faridabad area. These illegal encroachment and inaction of the authorities has resulted in shrinkage of the river and encouraged further grabbing which may eventually turned it a dead river in near future.
The legal notice further mentioned that these unlawful establishments are also polluting the water of the river rendering it unfit for household and other consumption purposes thereby depriving thousands of people of their only source of water supply. Reportedly, the nearby inhabitants who, in the absence of alternative source, use the water of this river and suffer from various diseases.
Besides, the water of the river has become highly polluted and biologically desert from the point of sustenance of aquatic life at different places between Mirpur bridge to Pagla during the dry season.
It is stated in the notice that though an inter-ministerial committee has been formed in the name of 'Buriganga Bancho' (Save the Buriganga) but the committee has failed in all respect to initiate any effective measure.
The notice further demanded to take immediate step to recover the public property and inform BELA within 15 days failing which necessary legal action would be taken.
