Coach fired

PRAGUE, Sept 26 (Reuters/ Internet): Czech Cup winners Jablonec dismissed coach Jiri Kotrba ahead of Thursday's Cup Winners' Cup first round, second leg home tie against Appollon Limassol of Cyprus, newspapers said on Saturday.

They said Kotrba was fired due to the team's poor results so far in the Czech first division.

Jablonec are in 14 place with just one win in the first six games of the season.

"The beginning of the season was terrible," said Jablonec chairman Miroslav Pelta.

"Now we must get ourselves together fast and concentrate on Thursday's tie against Limassol. We must not let go the chance to advance.

Limassol won the first leg 2-1. Jablonec appointed Jaroslav Dockal and Zdenek Klucky as stopgap coaches for the autumn part of the season.

Fans battle before big game MOSCOW, Sept 26 (Reuters/ Internet): Hundreds of support-ers of Moscow soccer clubs CSKA and Spartak fought a pitched battle in the Russian capital on Saturday hours before a vital top-of-the-table derby.

Witnesses said several hundred skinheads from each side fought with sticks, bottles and fists for half an hour in a seemingly pre-arranged set-to on the other side of the city from Dynamo Stadium, where the premier division game kicked off at 5 p.m. (1300 GMT).

Mounted police reinforcements were called in and witnesses saw dozens of arrests and several injured people being taken away in ambulances from the scene of the battle. outside Spartak's ice hockey arena in the north of Moscow. RIA news agency said police fired in the air. A police spokesman confirmed there had been fighting but played it down. "It was nothing," he said.

Spartak's hockey team was playing a team from provincial Magnitogorsk when hundreds of young fans began streaming out of the game to join battle with CSKA rivals.

Both clubs, among five topflight teams based in the capital, have gained a reputation for crowd violence, although most fighting has tended to take place well away from stadiums, where the police maintain a heavy presence during games.

The soccer violence that blighted British and other European soccer in the 1970s and 1980s were largely absent from the Soviet Union thanks to the overwhelming presence of the police and KGB.

Since 1991, however, there have been regular but limited outbreaks of fighting between rival groups of supporters.

Spartak could virtually ensure their third championship in a row on Saturday if they beat second-placed CSKA, the army club, who are nine points behind them with five games to

US booters return to play Nov 6

WASHINGTON, Sept 26: The US soccer team will play its first game since the World Cup against Australia in an exhibition game on November 6 in California, reports Xinhua.

The Americans have been without a head coach since Steve Sampson resigned on June 29, four days after the United States finished last in the 32-team World Cup in France. Washington DC United Coach Bruce Arena is expected to take over the team this year. The United States, who hoped to advance to the World Cup quarterfinals, went 0-3 in the first round and the players blamed their coach for the humiliating failure.

Australia lost a playoff to Iran last year for the final World Cup berth.

BOSTON, Sept 26 (AP/Xinhua): Mike Tyson, who is undergoing psychological tests that could make or break his boxing career, has made himself at home in Boston. The man who served a prison term for rape and shocked the boxing world by biting off part of Evander Holyfield's ear has been cheered and kissed by adoring fans in Beantown.

And he has responded with smiles and autographs.

On Thursday, during a break from his third day of tests at Massachusetts General Hospital, Tyson attended prayers at a mosque in Sharon, about 20 miles (30 kilometres) south of

Earlier, Tyson took a stroll with his entourage near the hospital. "He's loved it," Tyson adviser

Shelly Finkel said. "It's not often that he says, 'Look, Shell. let's just walk in the street to go eat lunch'." Finkel said the visit has trast sharply with the seriousness of his visit ordered by the Nevada Athletic Commission. The Commission has asked a team of psychiatrists and neuropsychologists to decide if Tyson is mentally fit to return to the ring. Specifically, they have asked doctors to gauge his ability to handle stress and predict the chances he would lose control while fighting. Their recommendations are expected to weigh heavily in the commission's October 3 vote on whether to return Tyson's boxing license, stripped when he bit Holyfield's ears. Finkel said Tyson expects to complete the testing Saturday and is hopeful the medical team will give him a positive report. Hospital spokeswoman Peggy Slasman said the hospital could not comment on the progress of the tests, which have included hundreds of questions, a medical examination, drug tests and an MRI to study his brain. "His attorneys have basically asked us not to provide any information," she said.

Tyson, however, said with a smile: "Some people think I'm a psycho because I bit that guy's ear off. I just want to let the Nevada Commission know I'm extremely sorry and I'm really a good guy.

Dr Edwin Homansky, who is overseeing Tyson's evaluation for the commission, said: "In New Jersey he was with a psychiatrist for 45 minutes who commented he was like a teddy bear in his office."

Tyson will undergo at least 10 examinations which among other things, will measure his level of stress, social conformity, suspiciousness, impulsive behavior and excitability.

The tests are expected to last three days. Robert Schleser, a psychology professor, said he doubts the medical team will be able to predict Tyson's behaviour any better than a coin

"This is a weird situation," he said. There's no test that specifically is going to tell you whether a boxer is going to bite someone's ear. That is why this is a huge task for these guys."

After the testing, the team of doctors will have to answer several questions about Tyson's state of mind, which include: How will Tyson handle unpredictable situations? What's his potential to commit another major foul in the boxing ring? Will he be able to avoid a repeat of the Holyfield ear-biting incident?

If doctors say Tyson is normal, the Nevada Commission is expected to give him a new licence on October 3.

Evans may be disciplined

LONIDON, Sept 26: Roy Evans could face disciplinary action after a verbal attack on the standard of refereeing in English foc thall, reports Xinhua.

Liverpool's joint manager accused officials of 'ruining the game' after crucial decisions went against his team in Thursday's 2-0 defeat by Manchesster United at Old Traf-Evens is not the first boss to speak out, but the Football Association has given officials its full backing.

"We have a great product in the Premier League but I just think the majority of referees aren't good enough - and I'm not Ashamed to say that," local reports quoted Evans as saying on Friday.

Liverpool claim Jason McAteer's handball which led to United's first goal from the penalty spot was accidental.

"The decision to give a penalty was diabolical. We're getting sick to death with decision like that going against us," said Evans.

"I'm not saying the ball didn't strike his arm but he was being mauled to death by Paul Scholes and there was no way there was any intent on Jason's behalf.

He was also unhappy when referee Stephen Lodge rejected Liverpool's appeals for a penalty when the ball hit Ryan Giggs arm later in the game.

I tried to speak to the referee but it's like trying to get into fort knox to speak to referees these days as they surround themselves with so many people that you forget about it as it's a waste of time," added Evans.

But FA spokesman Steve Double insisted refereeing standards were 'as high as ever'.
