By proper application of laws Child homicide must be stopped

Minister for Law, Justice and Parliamentary Affairs Abdul Matin Khasru yesterday said that child homicide and child abuse must be stopped by proper application of the relevant laws and also through creating a social awareness against it, reports BSS.

Only formulation of law will not be enough to stop child homicide or child abuse," the minister said while inaugurating a cultural competition marking the 34th birth anniversary of Sheikh Russel in the Shishu Academy auditorium in the city.

Sheikh Russel, the nine-year-old youngest son of father of the nation Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, was brutally gunned down along with his parents and other family members on the fateful night of August 15, 1975.

Jatiya of Shishu-Kishore Parishad organised the competition chaired by Mahmudus Samad Chowdhury and addressed, among others, by Awami League leader Abdul Mannan, former Chhatra League president Shahe Alam, former student leader S M Kamal and secretary of the parishad's Dhaka city unit Md Mujibur Rahman.

The law minister described the children as the symbol of innocence and said a child should not have any enemy but the killers did not even spare minor boy Sheikh Russel.

"There is a big question in the people's mind as to what can be the cause of killing a minor boy like Sheikh Russel after gunning down father of the nation and other family members," he said adding this gruesome murder has surpassed all brutalities in the world.

Khasru called upon all socio-cultural organisations to wage a countrywide movement to create awareness against child homicide and child abuse in the country.

Tk 1490 cr needed for rehabilitation of roads, bridges damaged by flood

Nearly Tk 1,490 crore will be required for emergency and long-term rehabilitation of the roads and bridges battered by this year's flood, according to official estimates, reports APB.

The Roads and Highways Department has already restored communications across the country, barring a few thana areas.

After preliminary repairs, traffic on all national and regional highways and most of the feeder roads connecting thanas has been restored, said an official document.

The Roads and Highways Department would continue its effort to repair and rehabilitate the damaged roads in phases to restore those.

According to the estimate, a total of 9,622 kilometres of national, regional and feeder roads, out of the country's total 20,285-km network, were submerged during the recent flooding.

Over 8,000 kilometres of roads and road embankments, 1,200 bridges and culverts, and 54 ferry terminals have been damaged severely or partially by the worst-ever flooding in the country.

The government has already sought from donor countries and agencies over 850 million US dollars in special aid, most of which would be spent for rehabilitation of roads and other infrastructures.

According to officials, the multilateral donor agencies have decided to rehabilitate their on-going infrastructural projects while evolving strategy for other long-term rehabilitation.
