BARI evolves 75 varieties of high yielding crops
GAZIPUR, Oct 22: Bangladesh Agriculture Research Institute (BARI) evolved 75 varieties of high yielding crops during the last five years in a bid to meet food deficit, reports UNB.
Director General of BARI Mamun-ur-Rashid disclosed this at a press briefing held here last week.
The varieties included different types of oil seeds, vegetables, coconut, mango and lichi. Besides, BARI also innovated over 100 types of new technology to check pest attack, detect soil nutrition, facilitate irrigation and for food processing.

Crushing season begins today Sugar production target 1.85 lakh tonnes

Sugarcane crushing in mills across the country begins today with a target for production of some 1.85 lakh metric tonnes of sugar this season, reports APB.
The season's first operations will begin in the three sugar mills in the greater Rajshahi district, sources in the industry said, adding that senior sugarcane cultivators in the respective areas will give the ceremonial kickstart.
These three units are Rajshahi Sugar Mills, North Bengal Sugar Mills and Natore Sugar Mills. The remaining 12 mills run by the Bangladesh Sugar and Food Industries Corporation (BSFIC) will go into operation phasewise up to December.
The sources, however, apprehended that this year's target of production may not be fulfilled as sugarcane in some 28,000 acres was either damaged by the devastating floods or in pest attack.
They said out of the 2.5 lakh acres of land under mill zones, some 2.34 lakh acres were cultivated for feeding the seasonal industry this year.
"We are optimistic about achieving the target but not upbeat," an official concerned told APB.
Illegal power crushers, especially in Rajshahi and Natore districts, might create strain on government target of production, mill sources said.
They said over 700 power crushers were being used in Natore mill zone alone for making molasses violating rules and regulations.
In 1997-98 season, the government had to import some 25 lakh tonnes of sugar to cater to the domestic consumers, although the mills had crossed the targets set for them.
The domestic demand for sugar is 3.25 lakh tonnes. Some 1.67 lakh tonnes of sugar was produced against the total target of 1.45 lakh tonnes last season.
