Back with a vengeance!

BRISBANE, Nov 21: England pace bowler Alan Mullally returned "home" today to claim a Test-career best of five for 105 in the opening Ashes match as Australia piled on 485 in their first innings at the Gabba, reports Reuters. Mullally, who had snared the wickets of Michael Slater and Mark Waugh on Friday, added Steve Waugh, Michael Kasprowicz and Stuart MacGill on Saturday to complete his Mullally moved to Australia as a toddler when his father shifted to Perth. He played all his junior cricket down under and went on to represent the national youth team.

Lindsay, Martina in semis

NEW YORK, Nov 21: Martina Hingis blunted the power game of Mary Pierce 7-6, 6-4 Friday night to gain a spot in the semifinals of the Chase Championships, reports AP.

The second-seeded Hingis will next play Romania's Irina Spirlea, with the winner advancing to the unique best-of-5sets final in this season-ending event, the only time during the year pro women play more than three sets.

In the other semifinal, the world's top-ranked player, Lindsay Davenport, has an-other date with the Corel WTA Tour's hottest player, Steffi Graf. The Madison Square Garden meeting comes six days after Graf beat Davenport in the final of a tournament in Philadelphia.

"She is obviously playing the best tennis right now, and you always want to kind of go up against the best, and she has definitely been doing that her last couple of tournaments," Davenport said of Graf. "Sometimes it is great of kind of get back out there against someone that you recently lost to and some of the stuff is still fresh in your mind."

Davenport advanced to the semifinals by easily defeating eighth-seeded Nathalie Tauziat of France 6-0, 6-3 in Friday night's opener.

"Last night's match was unbelieveable tennis, I thought," Davenport said.

The Hingis-Pierce match was a replay of last year's quarterfinals, which Pierce won in three sets. This time, Hingis didn't let it get that far.

She traded heavy groundstrokes with her French opponent, somehow finding yet another angle, a winning one. She had more variety to her game, and showed it, mixing in drop shots and regularly going to the net to put away a winning vol-

At one point, Pierce left the court for a few minutes. Hingis kept limber by playing against a ball boy, who used one of her rackets. Hingis, who is assured of fin-

As Davenport won game after game. Tauziat captured the Madison Square Garden crowd, which is always pulling for the underdog. Very little worked for Tauziat, the oldest player in the select 16-person field. And when she did win a hard-earned point, the crowd responded warmly. The loudest cheer came 30 minutes into the match when the Frenchwoman won her first game.

After hitting a good approach shot deep into a corner and heading to the net, only to see yet another Davenport winner go whizzing past, Tauziat at one point shook her head from side to side in exasperation and slapped her thigh. On another point, one where the ball tipped the top of the net during the rally, which she lost, she pointed to the net and hit her forehand while muttering to herself.

The final point of the night was a microcosm of the entire match.

Blame it on McGrath

BRISBANE, Nov 21: Australian paceman Damien Fleming struck his highest first class score against England here to-day and then blamed fellow tailender Glenn McGrath for costing him a chance to surpass Merv Hughes and Shane Warne, reports AFP.

The swing bowler with a previous highest Test score of 24 thrashed England bowlers for an unbeaten 71 on the second day of the first Test in a 108ball innings that included 11 boundaries.

Fleming was pleased but the Victorian player was disappointed McGrath cost him the chance to pass the Test best scores of former state teammate Merv Hughes and current Victorian captain Shane Warne. Fleming, who came in at number nine on Saturday, put on 40 runs with McGrath for the last wicket until his partner attempted an over ambitious big hit from spinner Robert Croft and was caught to end Australia's first innings at 485. "I've been demoted, the last Internet): The United States will face Chile in a friendly in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, on February 21, the U.S. Soccer Federation announced Wednesday.

The meeting will be the eighth between the two countries and the first since the United States beat the Chileans 2-1 at the 1995 Copa America in Uruguay

Chile leads the series, having won five, lost one and drawn the other.

The match will be the first for the United States at Lochart Stadium, the renovated home of the Miami Fusion, since November 23, 1980, a 2-1 victory over Mexico in a World Cup qualifier.

The U.S. federation also announced its Olympic champion women's team will face Portugal in Fort Lauderdale on Jan. 30, part of the United States' preparation for next year's Women's World Cup.

Jahangir was similarly bothered by continual injury and was also 29 when he made his last fling in Karachi against Jansher. But Jahangir lost this comeback final and Bajwa's implication is that Jansher may do no better. Even this scenario may be hoping against hope. A report

Thursday from an unnamed source in Peshawar and said to be close to the player claims Jansher has never fully recovered from the knee surgery he had five months ago. Jansher says he is receiving treatment here in London for his groin problem, but the source claims the former number one has been in England to see a knee specialist. This will be Jansher's sec-

Kuala Lumpur last year because of a legal entanglement with his Malaysian ex-wife over the maintenance of their son.
