'Stop deforestation for development'

Speakers at a seminar in the city yesterday cautioned that the country's future development would be hampered if indiscriminate deforestation is not stopped immediately, reports UNB. The reserve forests of the country are being destroyed widely to meet various commercial needs, creating adverse impact on the ecology and causing set-back to the national economy, they said, addressing a seminar on "Land, Forest and Environment."

Organised by Society for Environment and Human Development (SEHD), the seminar was held at the German Cultural Center with Dr Shakhawat Ali Khan in the chair. It was addressed, by former Vice-Chancellor of Jahangirnagar University Prof Zillur Rahman Siddiqui, Raja Deva-sish Roy, Dr Nawajesh Ali Khan, Secretary of the Committee for the Protection of Forest and Land Rights Suditta Bikash Tanchangya and its convenor Goutam Dewan, Rupayan Dewan, and Hill Women's Federation president Kabita Chakma.

The speakers stressed the need for immediate adoption of a planned programme to halt deforestation, pointing at the nearly ruined Madhupur Forest and the already destroyed Chakoria Sunderbans.

The tribal leaders addressing the function, wondered about the benefit of the government's afforestation and reserve forest programmes in the hilly regions. It would not protect the interest of the indigenous people, they argued.

The people of the Chittagong
Hill Tracts have a century-old tradition and practice of living in harmony with forests, they

The tribal leaders were against the conversion of forest and other lands into industryoriented plantations because it will destroy the biological and cultural diversity of the region and bring no direct benefit to the local people.

They said it would disrupt the natural eco-system as well as the socio-cultural and economic integrity of the people of the region and might lead to the extinction of the indigenous people and diverse plant and animal life.

The tribal leaders said they were not against afforestation which is respectful towards human rights and environ-

'We are willing to extend all-out cooperation to the government in any afforestation pro-gramme, which is carried out with the informed consent and active participation of the local

They also emphasised the need for rehabilitating the landless indigenous people for maintaining stability and peace in the region.
