24-day mela begins Feb 5 PM may open Ekushey Book Fair

With only a week to go, the Bangla Academy authorities are busy with preparation for the traditional Ekushey Book Fair. Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina, is expected to inaugurate the fair, reports BSS.
The academy officials said 300 bookstalls would be set up inside the academy premises and these stalls would be distributed among the reputed publishers only.
This year's fair will be an exclusive book fair and unlike previous years, no book stalls or food shops will be allowed on streets adjacent to the academy complex, an Bangla Academy official said.
The 24-day mela, beginning on February 5, will open at 3 pm and shut at 9 pm every working days of the week. On holidays, the fair will open at 9 am and remain open till 9 pm with a two-hour break from 12 noon.
Academy officials said a video projector would be used for the first time this year to introduce new books and project the fair related information along with microphones. Besides the authorities will also open a web site for interested people across the world.
One official said this year the academy would accept applications from publishers, who have so far published at least 50 books or 15 books in the past one year.
"In view of the decision, we are receiving comparatively less applications for stall allocation," one official said.
The officials said the Bangla Academy would sell its books on "usual 15 per cent discount" while other participants would give 20 per cent discount for the buyers.
Apart from the display and sale of books, discussions and cultural functions will be staged every day from 4 pm. Noted literateurs and artists will take part in the functions.
