Rabi farming hampered

NOAKHALI, Jan 30 : Acute scarcity of seed has been hampering the cultivation of various 'Rabi' crops in Hatia thana of the district, reports UNB.

Local farmers said they were not getting adequate and quality seed of the crops including nut, potato and watermelon either from the government agencies or from the vendors in the markets. They feared that the production target of these crops during the current season might not be achieved due to this reason. They also complained that the post-flood agriculture rehabilitation programme undertaken by the government was being implemented here in an unplanned manner. The programme failed to provide the growers with necessary and timely help, they said. The government agencies distributed vegetable seed among 1,000 growers and maize seed and Di-Ammonium Phosphate fertiliser among 200 farmers of the thana almost at the end of the season. Each grower was provided with only 200 grams vegetable seed four-kg maize seed and 12-kg fertiliser. Only 17 kg of wheat seed was distributed among each of nine farmers.

Admission seekers harassed at RU

From Our Correspondent

FARIDPUR, Jan 30 : Hundreds of students seeking admission into first year honours classes at Rajshahi University (RU) during the academic session 1998-99 are being harassed.

Their guardians have to spend a huge amount of money for their wards due to the unwise decision taken by the university authorities relating to admission.

According to the sources, testimonials of Secondary School Certificate (SSC) examination and Higher Secondary Certificate (HSC) examination issued by the principal of affiliated colleges and mark-sheets of HSC examination supplied by the respective boards are the authorised documents to apply for admission into the first year honours classes. But during this session, the RU authorities invited applications with the attested copies of SSC and HSC original or provisional certificates. But these certificates generally reach the respective educational institutions three or four years after passing the aforesaid examinations.

Some admission seekers trying to get themselves admitted into the classes at the university told this correspondent that hundreds of candidates rushed to the Dhaka Board office in the capital city for collecting their SSC and HSC provisional certificates. They had to stay there for five to seven days for taking delivery of the certificates. They had to pay good tips to the concerned clerks, not to speak of hotel and other charges.

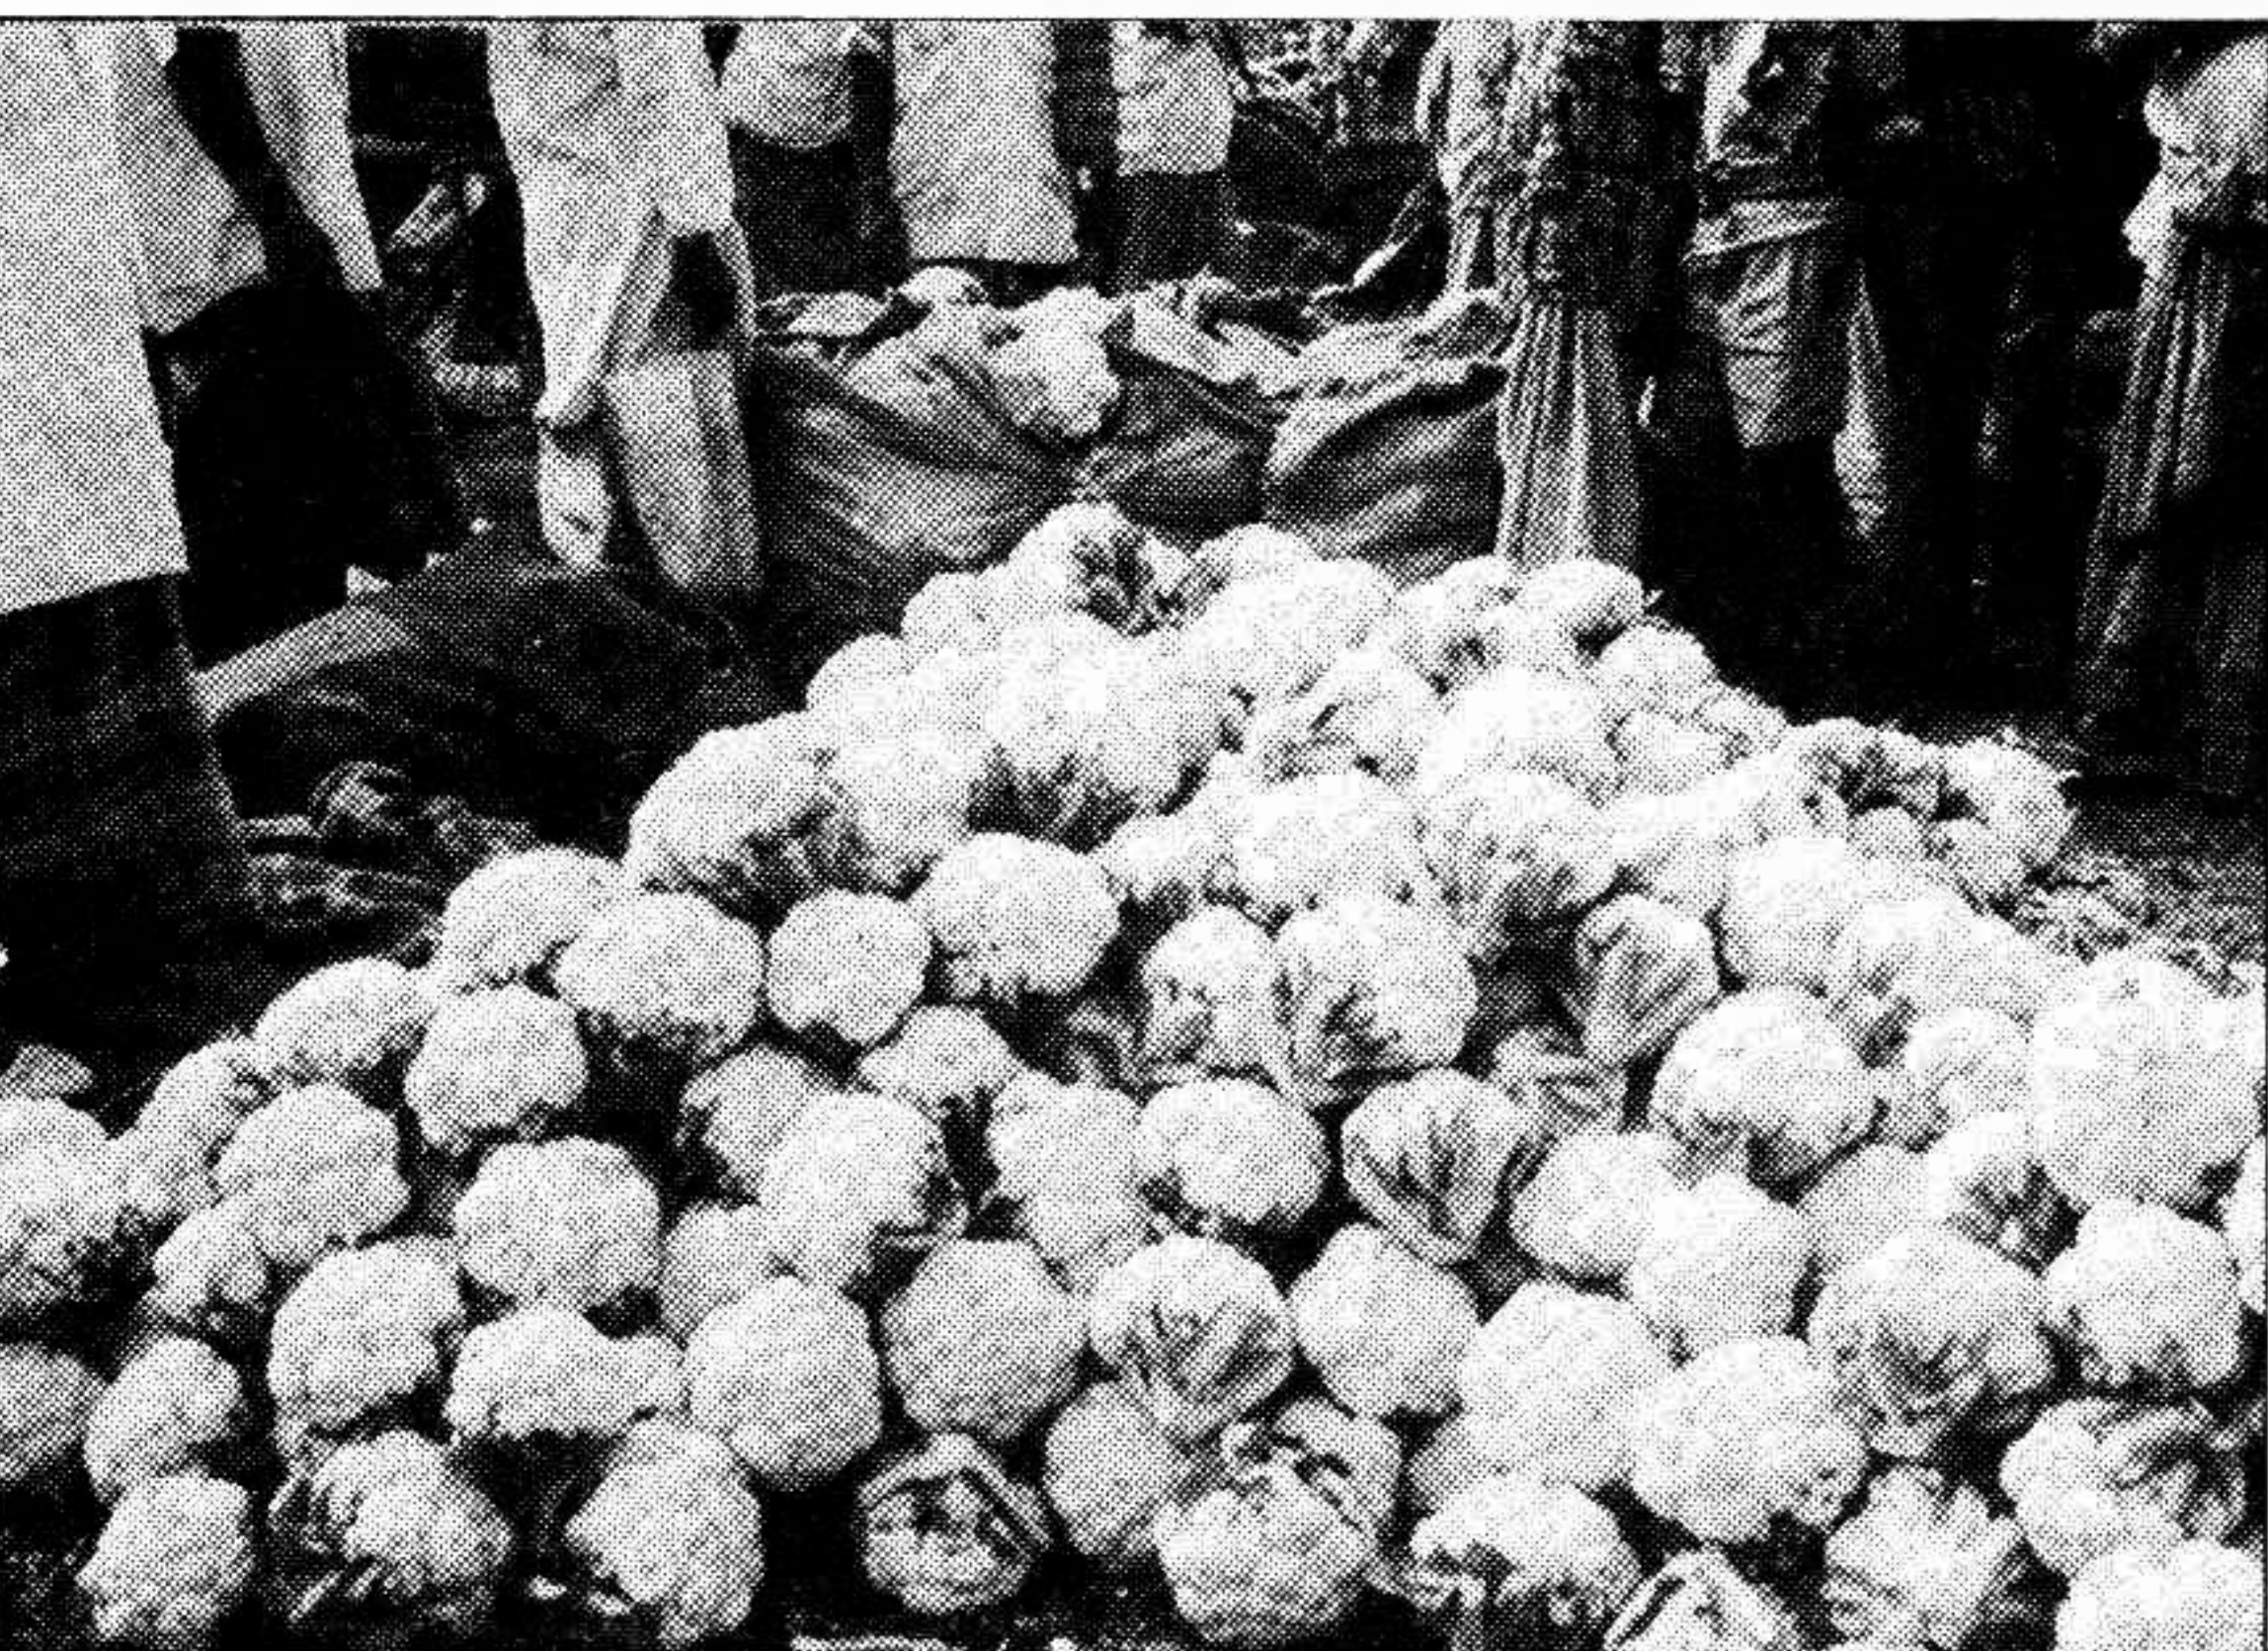

The RU authority though informed the admission seekers through readvertisement in the national dailies a few days before the closing date that the attested copies of the certificates would not have to be submitted, the concerned applicants in the meantime collected their provisional certificates.

Some concerned guardians alleged that the cost for collecting necessary papers to apply for admission into the university even before going to appear at the written test stands at several thousands taka. They said in utter despair that higher education is not possible for the students coming from the middle class families, not to mention of the poor.

It is worth mentioning, the sale proceeds of the admission forms of the university during this session reportedly stand at Taka one crore and thirty two lakhs, the price of each form being Taka 75. The guardians opined that each admission form should be sold at Taka five to 10 only to cover the price of paper and printing charges, adding that admission forms were once distributed among the applicants free of cost.

The government should look into the matter and stern measures should be taken so that the admission forms are sold at minimum rate at all the universities in the country.
