Ratan Thiyam's Magic

WO things are surely going to remain permanently - etched on the memory of Dhakaites: the creative lighting and innovative stagecraft of Padmashri Ratan Thiyam's Chorus Repertory Theatre at Osmani Memorial Hall March 9. Ratan Thiyam's production Chakravyha or The Wheel of War takes its inspiration and structural elements from Manipuri tradition and juxtaposes with modern technique to give a wholly new dimension to contemporary Indian theatre.

The six-scene play is emotionally charged and dramatically achieves a platform where audience participates themselves intellectually along with the actors. In Chakravyuha Ratan Thiyam poses piercing questions about dharma, war and ambition.

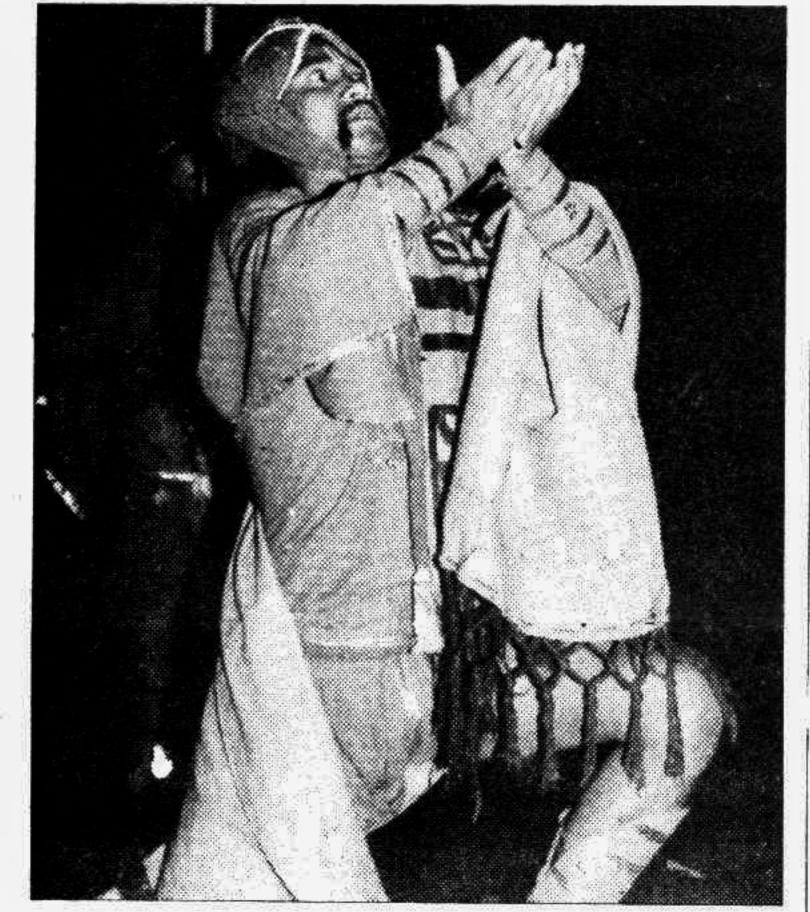

The play revolves around Abhimanyu, a boy warrior, his birth and death. What Thiyam wants to convey through his highly original production is whether we are handing our children a future full of lust and guiding them to a world to become a victim of mindless power game?

When our political scenario is vitiated with terrorism, and mindless wrangling of power. the staging of Thiyam's Chakravyuha is no doubt carries significance. The brochure that was available at the hall has a quote by Ratan Thiyam which to a curious audience holds key to the understanding of the particular genre of theatre that Thiyam has wonderfully successfully developed. The quote goes like this: "I communicate the basic things first. Language should be carried out with a vehicle - either a horse or a boat - where the actor has to win with his expressions and then the moment happens when a bridge is formed by the outward movement of the two". Yes, indeed the creative light play and the impressive expressions of the actors of Chakravyuha spun the emotional wheel of the audience present on March 9.

According to the brochure the repertory came into being in 1976 in the valley of hill state Manipur under the guidance of legendary theatre personality Ratan Thiyam. The repertory, beside being a professional theatre group, imparts training to young people in the field of direction, acting, stagecraft, and most importantly encourages and inspires theatre people to experiment with Indian traditional styles.

The repertory has been successfully staged its productions around the globe including London, Athens, Leningrad, Amsterdam, Bradford, Zurich etc. It has in its account a number of prestigious national and international awards.

Ratan Thiyam's Chorous Repertory's delightful performance was a rear treat.

The partition of India and Pakistan in 1947 is the backdrop of the film. Momtajuddin Ahmed plays the role of an erratic lawyer who refuses to leave East Bengal after the division. Afsana Mimi is his delicate daughter and Towkir, gets the role of a visionary who goes to Dhaka and attends university. Rowshan Jamil impersonates the role of their compassionate aunt, who comforts them in times of hardship.

The film starts with children of both Hindu and Muslim origin, playing by the river Chitra on a wintry day of 1947, "Sultana Biniyana Shaheb Babu'r Boithokhana...".

Najma. Salma are siblings of Badal and Minoti, the sibling of Biddut. These children and their parents are the main characters of the cinema. Minoti is the daughter of Shashikanta Sen Gupta (Momtajuddin Ahmed) who is a lawyer. With them, lives their aunt, Anupravha Dashi. They all live besides the 'Chitra' river in a single storied house named "Panthanir". During that time, many of the Hindu people were leaving for Calcutta or any other part of India and many were waiting for Shashikanta Sen Gupta to leave so that they could take over the old, beautiful house.

In the meantime, Badal and Minoti grows up to become mature teenagers. While Minoti (Afsana Mimi) goes to Narail country-men The serial produced by Impress Telefilm Ltd. stars Azizul Hakim, Afsana Mimi, Mozammel Hossain, Meghna and others. It will be repeated tomorrow during Impress TV Time on ATN Bangla.

College, Badal (Towkir Ahmed) goes to Dhaka University. Even though they were from different religions, they fell in love, proving, yet again, that love knows no bound. At that time (during the 60s) student politics and demand for democracy was at its peak and Badal too joined with them. Then, one fine day, he gets shot by a policeman, and dies an unnatural death.

The brother of Shashikanta Sen Gupta, Nidhukanta Babu is a homeopathic doctor. His daughter. Bashanti Chitra, gets raped one day, and she, not being able to bear it, commits suicide by jumping into the river "Chitra". Then. Nidhukanta Babu and family leaves home.

All these tragedies around him, makes Shashikanta Sen Gupta even more ill and one evening, he dies due to problems of the heart. At that point Minoti and her aunt leaves for Calcutta, with "Chitra Nadi" as the witness of all that has happened.

The Filming of "Chitra nadir parey" at Alliance Français on 10th March, 1999 was a huge success. It is no doubt that this film is the turning point of the actors and actresses concerned. specially Afsana Mimi, whose performance was trully remarkable, and Towkir Ahmed.

Corrigendum

In our culture page the news caption that was carried under the title Till Death Do Us Apart yesterday says Tauquir and Bipasha "are finally man and wife" should be "they are finally going to be man and wife in July. We regret the oversight.

Dristipath's 15th

IME: 7:00 p.m. Date: 9th March. The Mohila Shamity playhouse was almost packed with crowd. Dristipath's 15th production, 'Buddhu', a Moliere comic drama was on stage. Translated by Abdul Halim Aziz and directed by Shopon Kumar Dash, the play is packed with humor.

The story is a simple love story. Reshmi Begum and Abdullah are two people in love and their father's family fight against them. The story starts

by Nafid Imran Ahmed

with a scene where the loving couple is getting married, then with a flashback to the time when their love story begins. Reshmi Begum is the daughter of the chairman and she is deeply in love with Abdullah, the hero of the play. Well as the story continues she stands 'stoned' and pretends to be love sick as preplanned. Her father thinks that she has some spiritual influence on her and calls the Emam from the mosque to cure her. The fraud Emam examines her and says that there is an influence of a bad spirit over her.

Revealing Lustre and Adroitness

LREADY fifteen theatre A groups of children participated in National Children-boys Theatre festival, 99 for five days. On the consecutive sixth day the stage of the public library auditorium entitled "Muktow Jebon Goray Tolar Moncho Moder Torownee" was animated with the lustrous dramatic representations of

by Mahfuz Ali

The festival began, as in other days, at 4-30 PM with theatrical representation of the groups named "Kishore Theatre, Feni." Boys as well as girls belonging to this group staged the play 'Jhalapala" written by "Shukumar Ray" and directed by "Bappy Poddar". The play reflected how the growth of human being came to be obstructed under the feudal system. In the first scene the audience enjoyed an encounter between two students and a pundit. That Pundit has no right to claim his position to genuine scholarship and wisdom. Because he stuffed the head of his students with wrong information. As he brought about the exposure of his bogus scholarship, it became a source of humour to the spectators.

The Pundit whom the audience beheld on the stage felt enchanted with the idea of adulating the 'Zamindar'. And he constantly kept on winning the heart of the 'Zamindar' by praising him excessively. The children thorough their performance played brilliantly the roles of the Pundit and the Zamindar.

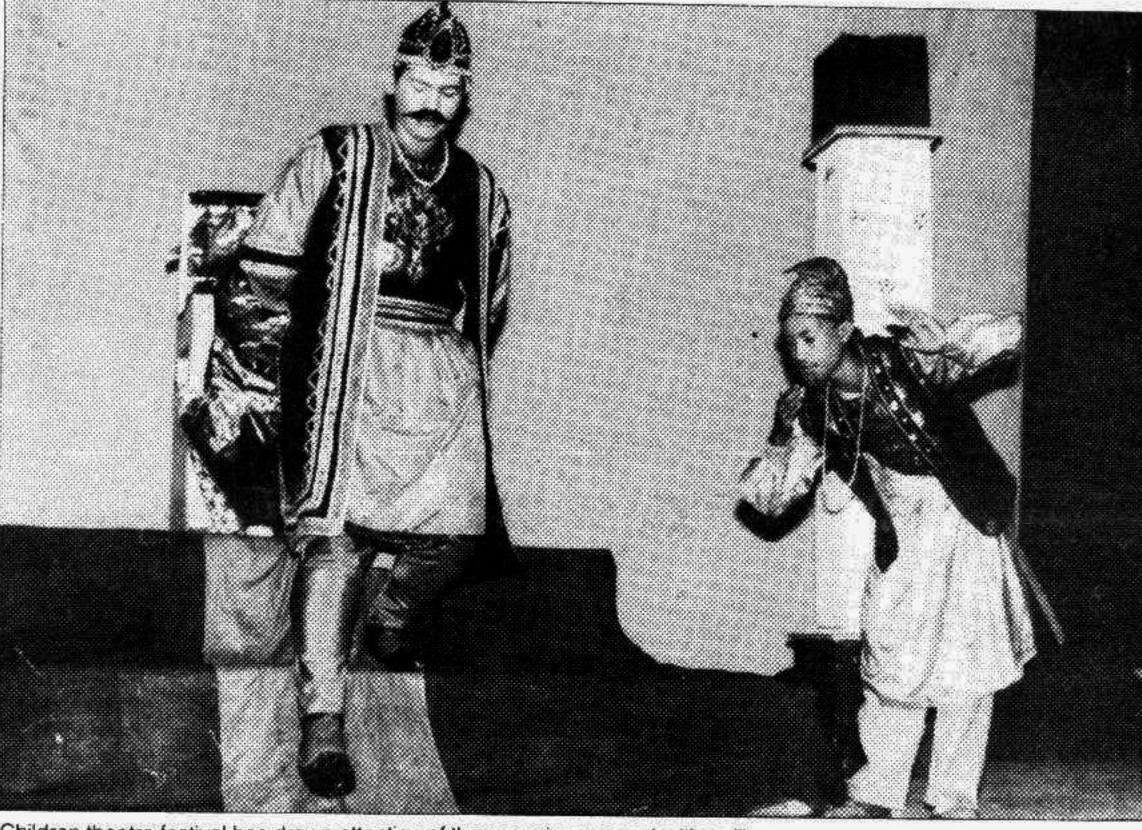

Two students who appeared on the stage were fickleminded. They did not concentrate their attention upon studies. Their mind was diverted from studies to music festivals arranged by the Zamindar.

In the feudal system, the social overlords precluded the flourishing condition of people by creating noisy situation in the name of holding festivals in this way. Thus the play ends.

The spectators who seated themselves in the gallery of the auditorium comprise people of all ages. They from time to time cheered up the little actors by clapping hands. After the play was staged, "Suborna Mostofa" a renowned TV artist of our country walked up the stage and she on behalf of Bangladesh Shilpakala Academy congratulated the little actors and gave them the laudatory certificates.

At six PM the stage of the auditorium bustled with the brilliant performance of a Children theatre group named "Agnibeena, Gazipur," Their representation was "Jago Sundoor Cherokishor,". Last of all a theatre group of Munshiganj named "Zagoron" staged the play "Porekkha pahser Mon-
