

Adieu to Shishu-Kishore Theatre Festival '99

THE National Child-Juvenile Theatre Festival '99 ended on 19th March. Children for sixteen days of the festival, continuing from 4th to 19th March performed forty seven plays on the stage of the Public Library Auditorium, shaped up as house for dramatic-representations of the invited participants of different districts of our country. The concluding part of the festival comprised brilliant theatrical-performances of the little actors, radiating an indescribable artistic charm and beauty.

by Mahfuz Ali

The festival began, as in other days, at 4:30 PM in a musical atmosphere. There gleamed before eyes of the spectators dramatic representations of three theatre-troupes namely, "Shishir Shishu-Kishore Sangathan, Dhaka", "Little Theatre, Bogra and "Ghoray-Byray, Dhaka". And the plays staged by them were "Sora Mama", Jhuddho O Sadhinota and Teray Ketay Dha."

Drama and society should be always regarded as being attuned with each other. Drama sustains the revolutionary force to celebrating the historical events, working in tune with the interest of mankind. The anti-liberation force of our country hatched a conspiracy to give a false colouring to the spirit of liberation war. Kids being brought to "Little Theatre Bogra" played a progressive part by reflecting the true history of Bangladesh so that the young might easily distinguish between the collaborators and the freedom fighters.

Though stylistic-features of opera constituted the structure of the play entitled "Jhuddho O Sadhinota" but it grew equally appealing to all as compared with other plays. Little actors furnished the stage with comic elements. Spectators couldn't but burst into a guffaw of laughter as the actor who played the part of the anti-liberation force began to give an account of his influential social position, remaining oblivious of his stage performance.

The little actors of "Ghoray-Byray, Dhaka" performed the last play of the festival entitled "Teray Ketay Dha". The central idea of the play is that the whole world suffers from a state of disharmony. Man has become egocentric and doesn't care for others. The agents of evil tend towards the ways and means of harming others. But boys, as well as girls in the play "Teray Ketay Dha" expressed their firm-determination to recover the lost harmony.

After the play was staged, Mou, a renowned TV, artist of our country walked up the stage, congratulated the little actors on behalf of the Bangladesh Shilpakala Academy and gave them the laudatory certificates.

Last of all Bangladesh Shilpakala Academy working in collaboration with Bangladesh People's Theatre Association arranged a discussion meeting, dance-representations and musical programmes to hold the concluding part of the National Child-Juvenile Theatre Festival '99.

Jurassic Park: Modhumita's Eid Gift

In our entertainment firmament Modhumita holds a special place. For cinema-goers Modhumita conjures up an image of good entertainment in a decent environment. The cinema hall's specious lobbies are tastefully decorated and kept absolutely spick and span making it an ideal place to take a time out from Dhaka's claustrophobic living. It is only natural that in 1992 the national award for best theatre hall went to Modhumita Cinema. Keeping pace with the fast changing time is what makes one modern. Modhumita in its effort to tune in with time has recently gone digital theatre system (DTS), the ultimate in sound system. In an exclusive interview with The Daily Star the backbone of Modhumita Cinema M Iftekharuddin spoke about the forthcoming releases, his future plans and country's entertainment industry. Excerpts:

By Ziaul Karim

Q: When Modhumita Cinema came into being?

A: Back in 1967 my late father Mohammad Serajuddin opened the theatre.

Q: Was it a 70mm cinema hall from the very beginning and what was the movie to hit the screen first?

A: It's big screen cinema hall right from the day one and it started its journey into the world of entertainment with such multistar blockbuster like Cleopatra.

Q: You have successfully upholding the tradition of bringing in the very best from Hollywood.

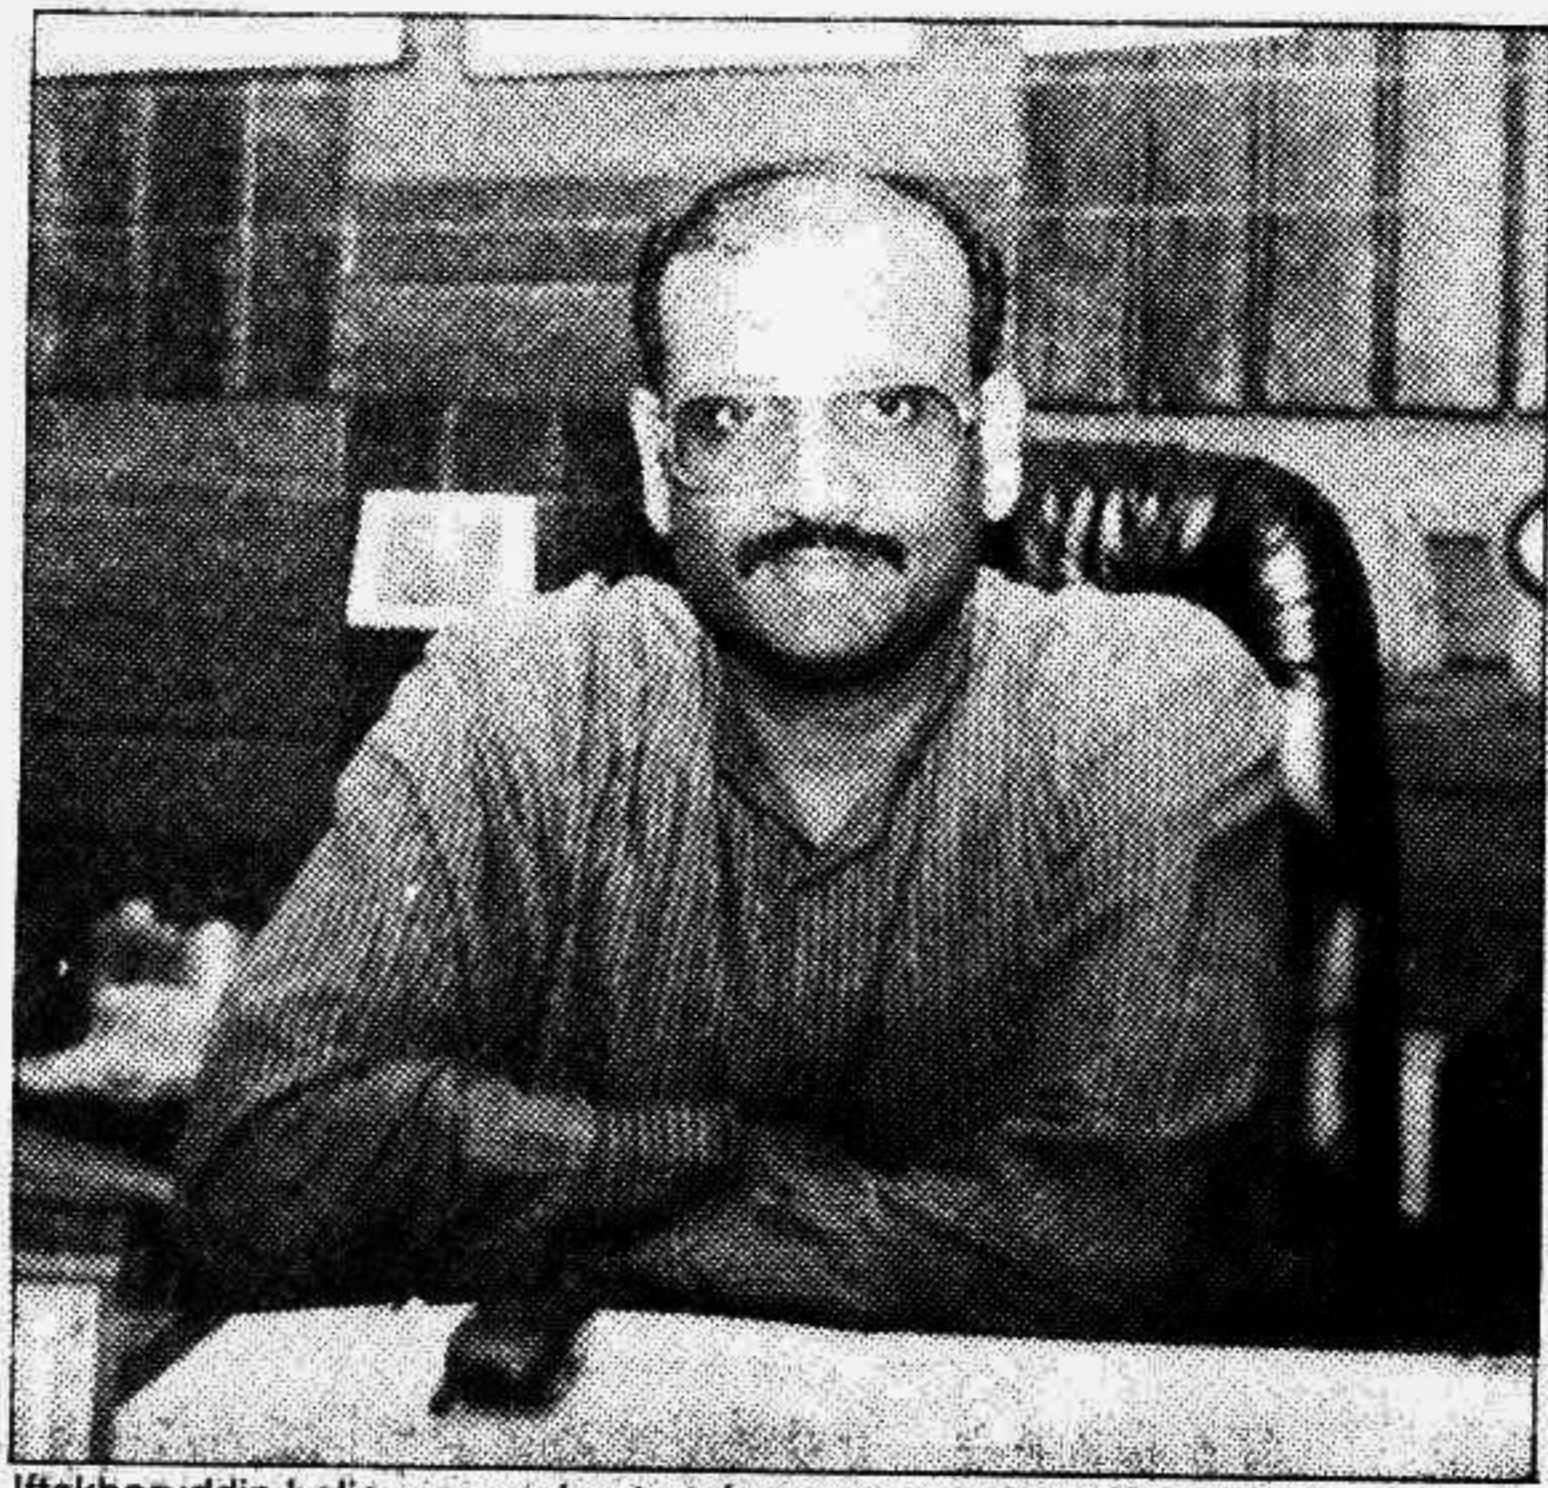

A: Yes. We have brought contemporary classics like Titanic and you know the following havoc it made in entertainment.

Q: After independence, import of foreign movies was banned we know. Did Modhumita, which was serving a sophisticated clientele, suffered a blow?

A: My father switched to producing movies under Modhumita Movies banner. His last production was Ek Mutho Bhat. Throughout his life his heart was in entertainment. He believed in decent entertainment and acted accordingly.

Q: How come you take interest in entertainment?

A: After the death of my father in 1976, my eldest brother

Salauddin took over. He finished the film Nishan a project my father dreamt of, but could not finish. I and my brother Ziauddin were studying in London then. We had no plan whatsoever to venture into show business. It was Ziauddin (is dead now) who persuaded us to join our family business.

Q: You, one can guess, with your exposure to West carried with you the taste for good English movies.

A: Well, you can say that. We started importing movies from international big names such as Warner Brothers, MGM, Columbia Pictures and also some independent companies. We brought in movies like Hot Pursuit, Where Eagles Dare, Towering Inferno, Helen of Troy, Two Women, Dirty Dozen, Benhur etc.

Q: The entertainment tax that has been levied on each cinema goers is 125 per cent. What do you think about it?

A: In a country like ours where entertainment-wise we have virtually nothing except cinema halls, and most importantly cinema halls are not for the privileged persons of the society, it is for the mass, even a rickshawwalla is a frequenter to a cinema hall. Is there any way to justify this tax burden? Government can look at the tax structures existing in the SARRC countries to restructure it.

Q: Do you have a plan to go 3D?

A: We have already ordered for a silver screen. Within a two to three months it will be here. By the year 2000 cinema goers of Dhaka will have the taste of 3D movies.

Q: What is your Eid gift? A: Jurassic Park.
