No need for separate DB in police: CCHR

By Staff Correspondent
Bangladesh Manobadhikar Samonny Parishad (Coordinating Council for Human Rights in Bangladesh) - CCHR in a statement yesterday said, "there is no necessity for a separate Detective Branch (DB) in police department."

"We do not feel any necessity of the Detective Branch, which has been violating human rights one after another," said the statement jointly issued by Akram Hossain and Muhammad Helaluddin, President and Member Secretary respectively of CCHR, an NGO.

The statement also said: "The mysterious killing of driver Jalal Ahmed Shafi at Detective Branch office reflects the true picture of sharp deterioration of law and order situation in the country."

The leaders demanded formation of a separate agency under a prosecutor general in which a first class magistrate or a specially trained judicial officer would investigate into the allegations against law enforcing agencies.

It suggested that a law should be enacted with the provision that "Court should honour the investigation report produced by such a prosecution agency."

We hope that the excess committed by law enforcing agencies be contained through such measures.

Referring to the present mechanism for investigation, it said, "It is not possible to control atrocities of law enforcing agencies through the present non-chalant activities in the name of probe committees."

The human rights body strongly demanded of a 'properly equipped' probe committee outside the police department for investigation into the killing of driver Jalal Ahmed Shafi, whose body was found in the roof top water tank of Detective Branch office last month.
