music The Blooming Intrinsic Talent of Moyna

OVERS of music can't but get struck with wonder as they plumb how Ra-bindranath Tagore bril-liantly combined tune and lyrics in his songs with their mysterious equal parts to en-hance musical effect — or to say in other words musicality. And to them it reveals a new dimension as it casts a magic spell upon them with a plentitude of its celestial charm and beauty. But what happens in the case of a man whose vocal style can enable the audience to be plugged into the tagorean artis-tic domain invested with the ethereal freshness, beauty, pu-rity, and love? People definitely bestow honour upon him.

by Mahfuz Ali

The music-loving people of West Bengal have not failed to recognize the melodious, deep voice of Mohiuzzaman Chowdhury Moyna. And as a token of appreciation of his blooming intrinsic talent different magazines and the national dailies of India made laudatory comments on his self-assertive style of representing music. He grew appealing to the people of the cosmopolitan city Calcutta by an order of magnitude as compared with the Bangladeshi citizens. What is striking about his artistic success is that U. D Series produced and released his cassette entitled "Amar Praner Manush", consisting of twelve pieces of Rabindrasangeet and it was the second biggest seller in 1996 in Calcutta. In an interview with The Daily Star Mohiuzzaman Chowdhury Moyna gave invaluable information about music.

Q: How did you experience the ups and downs of Rabindrasangeet?

Ans: Since my heart was saturated with the spirit of lib-Tagore song came to be cultieration war, 71 and I was involved in the Anti-Pakistani Movement. I can never deny the fact that Rabindrasangeet suffered setback during the era of the Pakistani ruler. They regarded Tagore's poetry and song as the greatest terror to their policy. When they discovered the fact that literary creation emerging out of the womb of vated in music schools as well as colleges of different districts of our country at full steam. Every year Jativo Rabindrasangeet Sammelon Parishad arranges the Rabindrasangeet competition for children at the national level. Besides it, the grown-up artists from different districts of our country are provided with ample scope to perform Tagore song in the festival arranged by

Q. How do you evaluate the artists of our country especially those who perform Tagore song, if compared with Calcutta?

Ans: The position of the exponents of Tagore song as compared with the artists of Calcutta (those who perform Tagore song) is definitely much better. In many cases the artists of our country displayed more musical-skill. Referring to the names of Mita Haque, Papiya Saroyar, Bonna, Iffat Ara Fahim Hossain Chowdhury,

Bulbul Islam I can boastfully say that they can compete with the artists of Calcutta and they are capable of surpassing them, insofar as the questions of artistic craftsmanship are concerned. Q. To what extent do you support the view that singers should have an originality of their own? Ans: If a performer immitates the voice of another artist, his voice will collapse sooner or later. And he will never be able to grow into an artist. Maintaining the modes of music, "Tal". Loy", an artist should perform in his own assertive

Q: What was the people's reaction to your cassette produced and released by U. D. Series? Ans: My cassette entitled "Amar Praner Manush" was produced and released by U. D. Series in 1994. And it became the fourth best seller in Calcutta in 1994. People more and more gravitated towards its selling point and it became the second best seller in 1996 in Calcutta.

Q: How many cassette production houses of our country edged forward to accelerate your artistic growth? How do you treat them?

Ans: Bengal foundation released my cassette entitled "Diner Sheshey Ghumer Deshey." It is available in the market of our country. There are countless dignified and enlightened audience in Bangladesh. But most of the Cassette production houses don't become curious about their taste or liking. Their interest lies in producing and releasing the Cassettes which pander to the distorted taste of a group of people.

Mohiuzzaman Chowdhury Moyna bloomed into a flourishing state in the campus of Dhaka University with his political identity. And he was a political activist.

Q: What was your political identity in your university life? Ans: I was the elected cultural secretary of DUCSU in 1980-81.

Q: What did you accept as your profession? Ans: I am the assistant director of TSC.

Bean: The Movie

on Star Movies at 10 pm

The enormously popular character Mr. Bean, created by British comedian Rowan Atkinson, made his theatrical debut in the smash hit film BEAN, premiering tonight on STAR Movies. In this adventure, Bean is sent to America where the unwitting art world believe him to be a famous art scholar. Within days of his arrival, everything he touches turns to chaos and he almost destroys the marriage, career and the life of his put-upon host. Starring Rowan Atkinson, Peter Mac-Nicol, Burt Reynolds, and Pamela Reed.

on Star World at 11 pm

In Like It's 1999, Detective Albrecht investigates a series of violent home invasions that look more like parties than robberies. He asks Draven to keep his ears peeled at the Blackout for any talk that could lead to a clue. Sarah turns out to hold the real key, however, through her friend, Kyle Barber. He is deeply involved with a nihilistic cult of disenfranchised kids who are being manipulated by a charismatic, sociopath leader, Shane Gant. He uses the coming Millennium as a powerful control mechanism, urging his followers to believe in nothing but himself. Draven, a man who also has good reason to believe in nothing, is forced to put aside his own alienation. By exposing the leader, he manages to set free the followers, giving them hope in their otherwise hopeless lives.
