Meherjaan Arekbar' : A Fight for Justice

MEHERJAAN Arekbar' was staged on the third day of the twelve day long drama festival organized by 'Nagarik Natyaangon' at Public Library Auditorium featuring two leading drama groups from Calcutta, India and few renowned drama groups of Bangladesh. The drama groups from the two Bengals joined hand on the slogan 'Mukto Karo Bhoj, Apna Majhe Shakti Dharo Nigere Karo Joy'. Outstanding playwright of the Bangladeshi drama firmament Abdullah Al Mamun's 'Meherjaan Arekbar' is a story about a common problem in our society, but the message expressed through the play was very strong. Meherjaan, the central character of the play, is a homeless woman, deprived of her rights and property. She lives her life as a drifter with her husband and daughter. Even after the liberation war, she is not relieved of her sufferings. Before she could even taste the essence of freedom, she falls into the hands of the fundamentalists. She flees and takes shelter at a restaurant in Dhaka city as a cook. There her wondering life seems to cease. But the irony of fate is she falls in the hands of the fundamentalists, national traitors and religious prescriber, where she is dishonored. As she is cornered, she stands up to fight against it with all her might. A common problem in our society couldn't be much more symbolically dramatized.

Directed by Ferdousi Majumdar, 'Meherjaan Arekbar' couldn't be better directed by anyone else. Performed by 'Theater', a drama group with a lot of quality performers dramatized the play very delicately.

Ferdousi Majumdar, a leading actress and a personality who devoted her life to the drama played the central character 'Meherjaan'. Saima Mohsin as 'Shokhina', Tarvin Sweetly as 'Pori', Ramendra Majumdar as 'Harouz' were among the performers who's play were noticeable.

The stage design was not at all impressive. Lack of dedication to the stage design was noticeable. The light and sound quality was of good standard. Though the auditorium was not houseful but a large number of audience watched the show and enjoyed it.

Shandha Tara

By Nafid Imran Ahmed

JOKHON kono manush mara jay se naki tokhon akasher tara hoy (a man becomes a star in the sky after his death), an old lady told her husband while sitting with him alone in an evening tea. Written by Monoj Mitra and Directed by the brilliant author and actress Laila Hassan, Nata Raj's 3rd production 'Shandha Tara' was on stage at Mohila Samity Play House on May 3. The play centres on a simple family problem between parents and children.

The story is about an old man and his wife. Their two sons and only daughter lives far away from them. Their elder son lives with his wife. Their daughter Rekha got married to a person of her choice and lives with him now. And their younger son is a politician in Dhaka University. All three children are no longer in contact with their parents after they left. But the selfish children don't know how their old parents await their letters. In one of the scenes the old man sends the servant to check the mail box if there is any mail in it.

The old parents loved their children so much that they were almost dead without their presence. They thought and talked about dying and their children all the time.

রূপান্তর ও নির্দেশনা : লায়লা হাসান

The old lady thought that when somebody dies they remain as stars in the sky, so everyday there are new stars in the sky, stars people has never seen before. The old man and woman looking at the sky see a shiny star and say that star looks new, and they haven't seen it before.

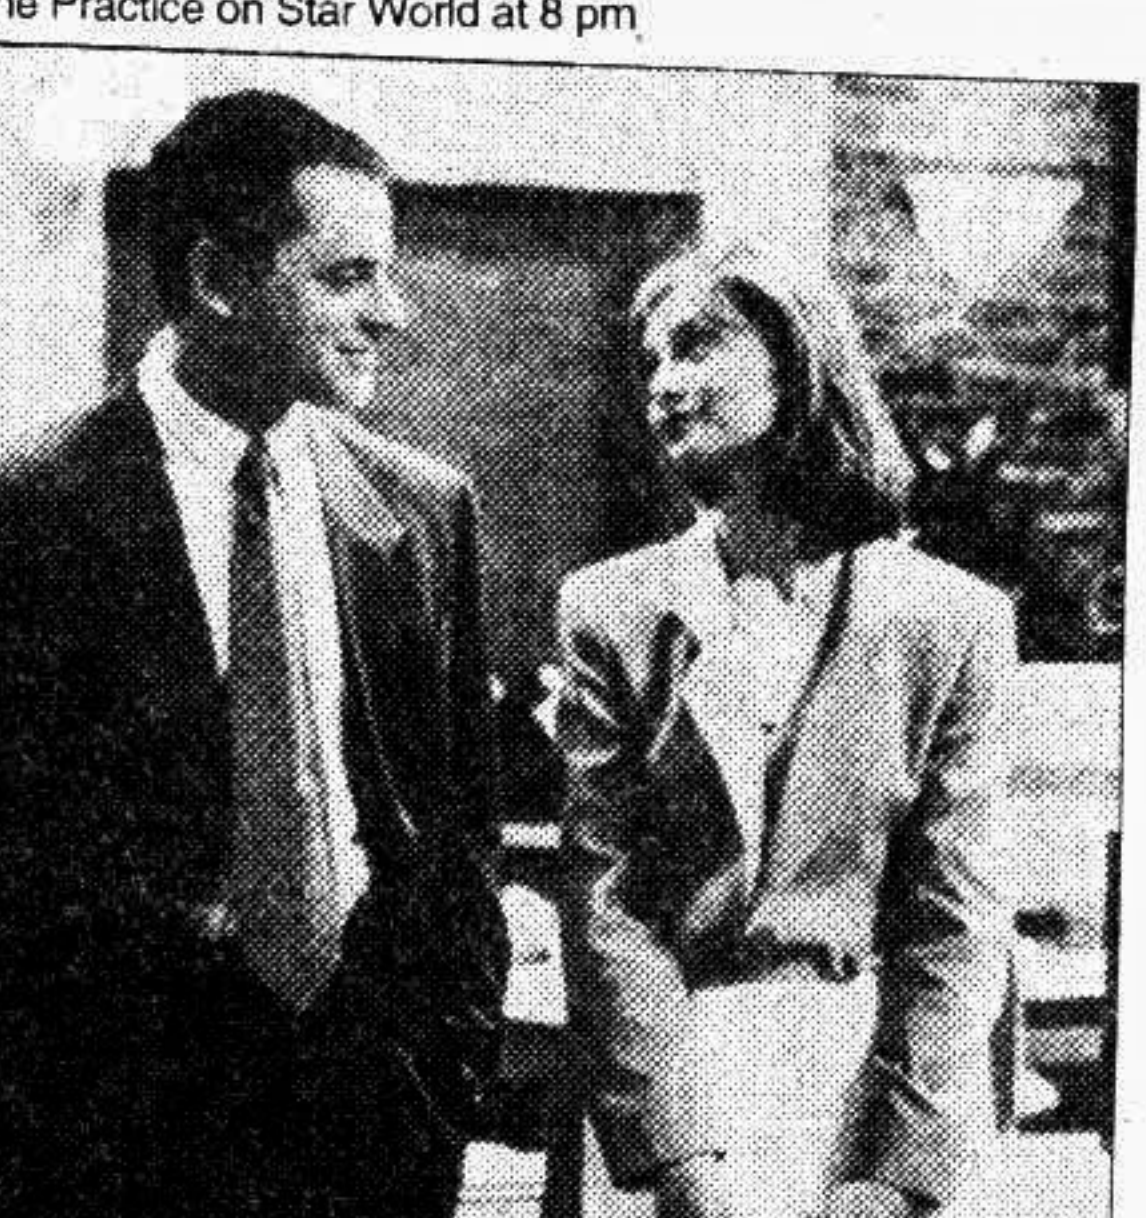

The awaiting parents at last realize how they can possibly bring their children back home. They decide to dispose of their house and wrote to their children to claim their shares. The old empty house once again gets filled up with people.

The play deals with a basic problem of our life. We have come to this world alone and helpless, we are not born self-sufficient, its our parents who helps us grow and enjoy this beautiful life. But the tragedy is that after growing up we forget everything and even sometimes blame our parents. Our parents awaits for us when we go away but we don't even care to write to them asking how they are.

The performance was quiet OK, the stage design was normal and nothing special about it. The lighting and direction was pretty well organized. The central characters were played by Asok Datta, Zhora, Shilpi and Suja.
