Ferguson bucks up boys

England, May 18 (AFP): Alex Ferguson said on Monday he had no doubts his Manchester United players were focused enough to win the FA

Cup this Saturday to complete the next leg of the treble. The United boss admitted some players may be thinking the Wembley date against Newcastle United will be the easiest of their three targets.

United have just seen off Ar-senal's stiff challenge to claim their fifth Premiership title in seven years, while the formidable Bayern Munich stand between them and European Cup glory in Barcelona.

By comparison beating Ruud Gullit's erratic Newcastle looks straight forward. Ferguson is ready to dispel any such notions and he is confident his players will not let up in their quest to rewrite the history books and become the greatest club side in English football.

"Winning the title does take the pressure off in a sense because we're going into the European Cup as champions and we're in the Charity Shield as champions," he said. "The FA Cup is a different proposition because many people - even maybe the players at this moment in time, although not by the time I get to them will think that's the lesser of the targets.

'A lot of them will start thinking about Barcelona, but when I pick my team on Friday they will soon waken up. "We must win the League and the FA Cup or they will have let themselves down.

"You must remember in an FA Cup Final anything can happen and we all know that. "Everyone knows that Wembley is a different kind of pitch, but most of them have been there and they know what it's all about. "But these players are definitely focused and we've only lost four games this season. "That tells you that it is hard to beat my team." United could hardly have had a tougher route to Wembley having overcome Middlesbrough, Liverpool, Chelsea and Arsenal on their way to the Twin Tow-

A 25-year-old woman, Leanne Carey, claims Keane kicked her after pouring a pint of beer over her friend in a Manchester bar.

A Greater Manchester Police spokeswoman said: "At 9.25 pm on Monday, following a complaint of assault from a woman, a 27-year-old man was arrested by police officers.

"The incident is alleged to have taken place at Henry's cafe bar in Manchester city centre shortly before the call to the police.

"The man is currently being held at Bootle Street police station and will be interviewed later this morning."

Man Utd manager Alex Ferguson later confirmed that the 'man' was Keane.

Carey told The Sun newspaper she met Keane and some of his team mates in a Manchester city centre bar as they celebrated clinching the Premiership title.

Australian Leanne told the paper: "He gave me a good kick, I'll have a bruise tomorrow."

Keane's arrest is a headache Ferguson does not need as his side bids to win an unprecedented treble for an English

FIFA World stars

SYDNEY, May 18: Italian World Cup striker Christian Vieri heads the first batch of overseas players confirmed Tuesday to play for the FIFA World XI against Australia at the Olympic Stadium on June 12, reports AFP.

FIFA announced seven players in their first group with another eight players verbally agreeing but yet to be confirmed. Australian-raised Vieri will be joined by Germany's Juergen Klinsmann, Liberia's George Weah, Brazil's Leonardo and Julio Cesar, France's Bernard Lama and New Zealander Wynton Rufer.

Those yet to be finalised are Marcel Desailly (France), Youri Djorkaeff (France), Jorge Campos (Mexico). Rigobert Song (Cameroon), Aaron Winter (Netherlands), Tribo West (Nigeria), Andrei Schevchenko (Ukraine) and Hakan Sukur (Turkey).

But the available talent for Australia slipped Tuesday with news that Lazio-based midfielder Paul Okon could miss the game because of a possible broken bone in his leg. Australian caretaker coach Raul Blanco was contacting Okon later Tuesday to learn the full extent of the injury. The Australian squad will not be called into camp until one week before the FIFA match.

"Some of them are still playing in Europe but the majority of players will come home except those travelling with clubs on tour," Blanco said the final verdict. Milan inched a point clear last weekend, with one match to play, while Lazio were left to rue a vain penalty appeal in their draw with Fiorentina.

Lazio's owner, tomato sauce baron Sergio Cragnotti, has now accused the nation's referees of incompetence and the nation's television networks of bias against his team.

Focussing on Chilean striker Marcelo Salas' tumble in the area on Saturday, Cragnoti said: "It was a major refereeing blunder, and I saw it with my own eyes... and afterwards the foul on Salas was absolutely

"Once again, a result has been determined by a referee's mistake. It was a clear-cut, monumental error and it has cost us a great deal.

"And it's not just Cragnotti who has been hit, it's also all our shareholders too," he said. Lazio shares had to be suspended on Monday morning as 22 million dollars were wiped off their value. Cragnotti went on to imply that all was not fair and above board in Italian refereeing, though he doubted it was all being orchestrated. "I don't think there is a major figure manouevring behind all this," he said. "Otherwise I wouldn't have invested so much money in it self to my other businesses. "I always hope that people are acting in good faith," he said. "But there are strange things happening. And I wouldn't want the usual mess-up to happen this Sunday.

"People have to realise that our championship is a great image for the world outside. It's a powerful means of communication, and a source of economic, financial and even political influence for Italy.

"But there are defects, and there needs to be a lot more transparency." He also fired a broadside at state broadcaster Rai and Milan president Silvio Berlusconi's TV empire, Italy's main private television provider.

"Everyone is using whatever means at their disposal," he said. "You only have to switch on the television and watch one of the Mediaset channels to realise that.

"I'm depicted as the biggest fool of them all for squandering money by signing Christian Vieri, but he's proved he is the best centre-forward in the world, better even than Ronaldo, who we were after be-

"Even the Rai is talking a great deal about Milan, even when Lazio have demonstrated they are the better team and deserve to win the championship." Cragnotti's accusations were angrily dismissed by Milan vice-president Adriano Gal-

"We should both be happy, us and Lazio, because this has been a magnificent championship," he said. "We are both returning to Europe through the main door.. and it's a season which doesn't deserve to be ruined by all this controversy.

"So the Lazio shareholders have suffered have they? Queried Galliani. "That really is a bizarre argument. I didn't know clubs who are listed on the stock exchange are entitled to different treatment from the others. "If that's the case, we'll have to quickly bring our listing forward, it's not due until December 31, 2000."

As for the refereeing errors. Galliani chided: "They're complaining are they? And what about Sampdoria, who have been relegated because of a penalty awarded against them in 90th minute?

"And I can remember the penalties that weren't given to Cagliari when they played Lazio, or the perfectly valid goal scored by (AS Roma's Marco) Delvecchio which was disallowed in the derby."

Ridiculing the claim about television influence, Galliani said: "We couldn't even qualify for the Intertoto for the last two years ... even though we tried everything to persuade UEFA. "More to the point, all this supposed power wasn't there when Lazio were a point in front. But all it takes is one draw in Florence and suddenly there's a worldwide discussion on the power of the media.

"And to bring all this up, for a one-point lead in the championship," he said, "seems to me to be decidedly excessive."
