The Movies

A Far off Place

June 12th at 2:30 PM on Star Movies

Starring Reese Witherspoon, Ethan Randall and Maximilian Schell
Two brave teenagers whose lives are in jeopardy face a perilous and wondrous adventure when they are forced to flee into the primitive African desert. After an attack on her home, 14-year-old Nonnie (Witherspoon) and her visiting friend Harry (Randall) are orphaned. The only surviving witnesses to a poacher's assault, the pair set out to find the one man who can help them, Colonel Theron (Schell), a legendary big game hunter and now head of the anti-poaching squad.

The Serial

Pal Chhin (episode 10)

June 11 at 9:00 PM on Star World

Manohar asks Ranjeet as to why he does not intend getting married to Charu. Ranjeet declines to comment. Later Pratap accompanies an embarrassed Manohar to Mehra's house. Charu breaks down on hearing about Ranjeet's refusal to marry her. Meanwhile Ranjeet meets Madhavi and tells her that he plans to leave his father's house and start something of his own. Madhavi advises him to stick to his family business as she feels that he is incapable of doing anything on his own. Later Manohar and Pratap discuss about Ranjeet's strange ways and his refusal to take possession of the factory and apartment.

Paradise Road

Starring Glenn Close, Frances McDormand, Julianna Margulies and Pauline Collins

June 12 at 2:30 PM on Star Movies

Based on true incidents, PARADISE ROAD is a powerful tale of female courage, friendship and strength. Centring on a little known chapter of World War II — the capture of tens of thousands of Europeans, Australians and Americans by the Japanese as they swept through the far East — the film focuses on a disparate group of women who are being held as prisoners-of-war. Although they are from different countries, different social strata and speak different languages, the women are forced to find common ground in order to survive at the camp.

THE QUEST FOR TRUTH

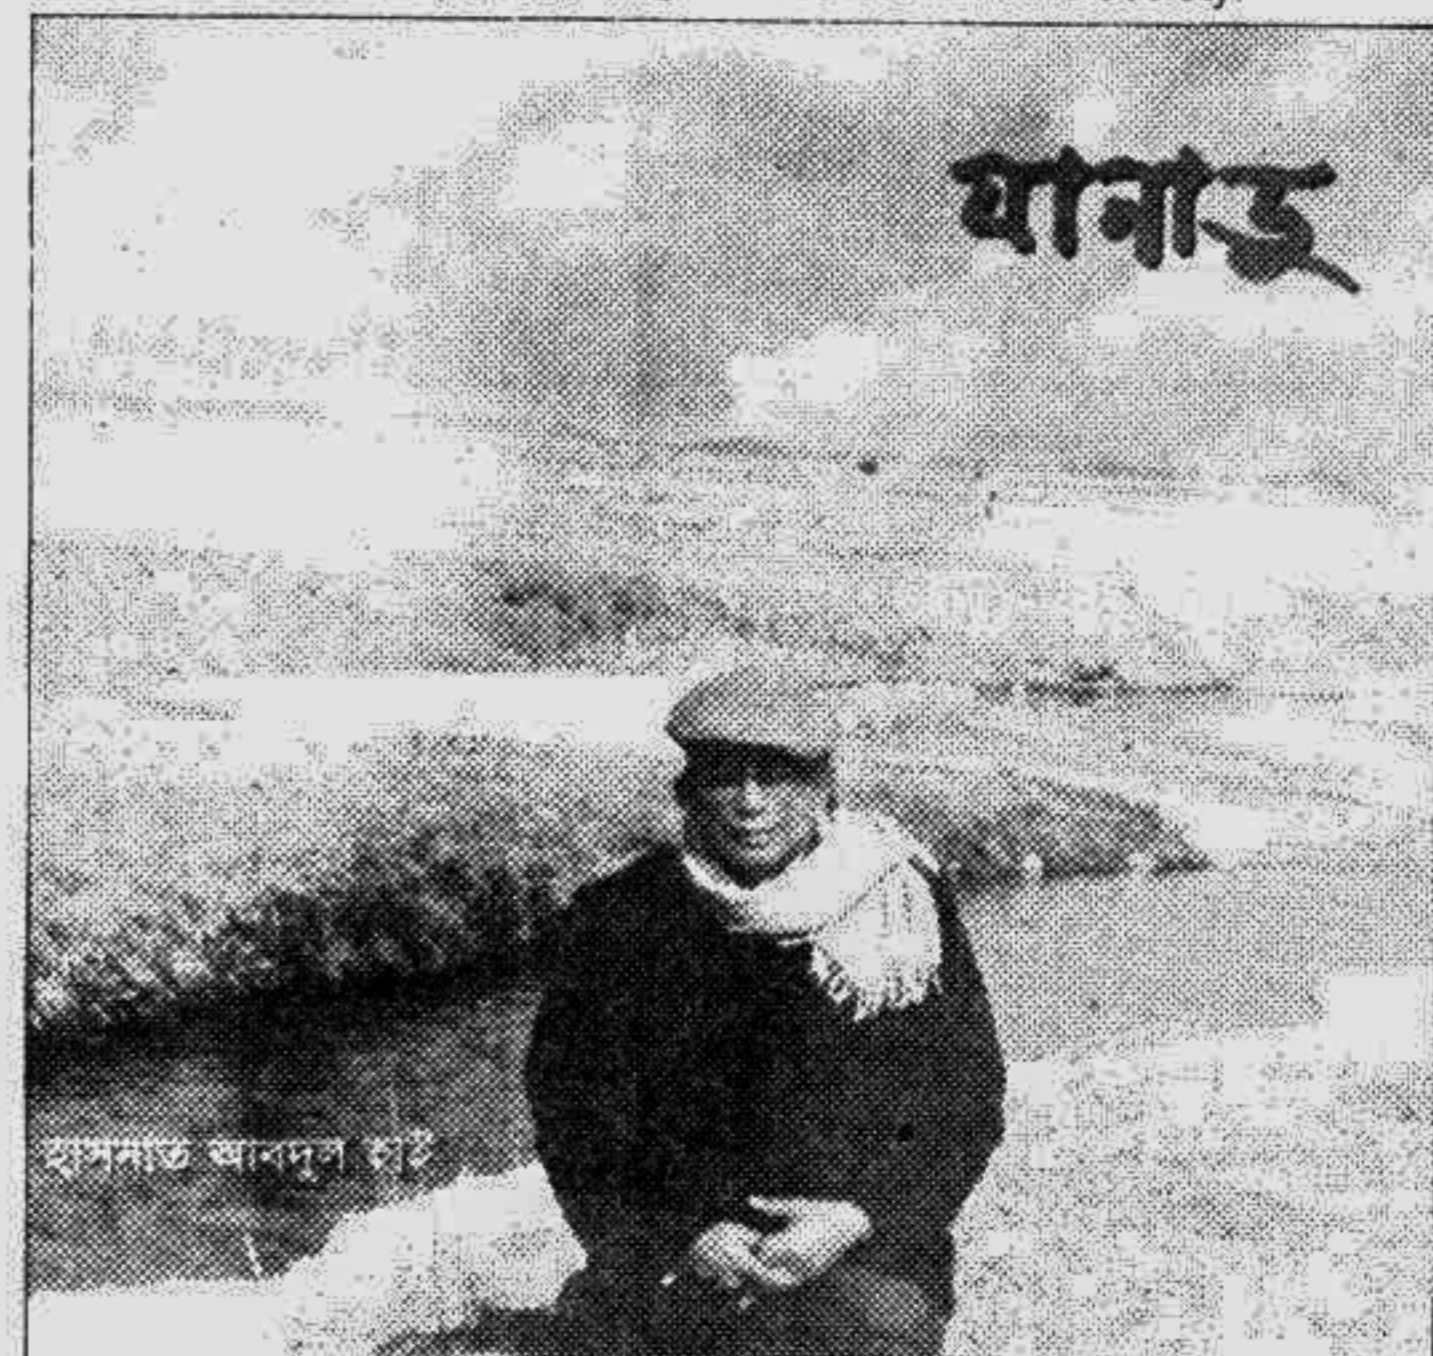

Secular Philosophy
Author: Aroj Ali Matubbar
Publisher: A Pathak Samabesh Book

Price: Tk 225.00

Aroj Ali Matubbar was a self-educated man. From a peasant Matubbar with his sheer will and quest for knowledge became a champion of free thinking. His writings are a contribution to philosophy. An edition of Matubbar's select writings in his native tongue Bengali was very well received. Matubbar was seeking an answer to the questions that had exercised the minds of the people for ages. Some of these questions may well appear narrowly local, also temporal. But this objection can be met by reminding ourselves the circumstances of his life and his social milieu. The Quest for Truth is translation of his select writings will focus light on one of the minds of our time who devoted his whole life to remove the garbage of superstitious beliefs from the society.
