Bangladesh Festival opens at London tomorrow

The grand Bangladesh festival beginning in London tomorrow to feature the arts and cultural heritage of this South Asian country is expected to open up a new horizon for the nation in the global arena, reports BSS.

Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina and British Prime Minister Tony Blair, the Patrons-in-Chief of the festival, will jointly open the first ever largest and most comprehensive celebration of arts and culture of Bangladesh in the British capital to the cheers and applause of expatriate Bangladeshis, native Britons and other European nationals.

The celebration of Bangladesh festival in the World's most gorgeous cosmopolitan city is viewed here as the first ever attempt for a widespread exposure of the country's arts and culture on a foreign soil to restore its dignity which was lost between 1975 and 1996.

According to independent observers, Bangladesh has gained a lot in most of the key fields in the last three years and the grand festival from July 7 to 25 on the soil of Europe will open up a new horizon for the country towards the new century, just a few months away from now.

Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina will lead a select delegation of leading cultural personalities, political figures and intellectuals in the festival which will feature almost all aspects of the country's long cultural heritage.

A London-based charity Arts Worldwide is organising this festival, the eight largest celebration of its kind ever to have been held in Europe. Beximco Group of Bangladesh and the country's national flag carrier Bangladesh Biman are the main sponsors of this event. Other sponsors are 41 corporate supporters, 10 charitable trusts and 6 art funders.

Other patrons include Minister for Civil Aviation and Tourism Engr Mosharraf Hussain, British High Commissioner to Dhaka David C Walker, Chairman of Beximco ASF Rahman, the Lord Shore of Stepney, The Baroness of Bethnal Green and The Worshipful Mayor of Tower hamlet.

Organisers said over 60 leading artists of international repute from Bangladesh will perform in the festival at more than 20 venues including some of London's most prestigious arts venues attracting audiences up to 50,000 people.

Among its other aspects, the festival will feature Music, Exhibitions, Film show, Storytelling, Poetry recitation, Craft show, Photo display and Free outdoor events supported by Educational programmes. The heritage cuisine of Bangladesh focussing on its traditional food at the leading restaurants of London will be an added attraction in the festival.

Select events and artists will also tour other UK cities, they said adding, many of the art forms of this festival have never been seen outside South Asia before.

Young woman killed in Demra

By Staff Correspondent

A young housewife was killed in an explosion at her residence at Maspara of Matuail under Demra thana in the city Sunday late night.

The dead was identified as Laily Begum, 26 wife of Shafiqul Islam of Maspara in Demra in the city.

Police quoting the FIR lodged by victims' husband said that a gang of local miscreants led by Sumon, Alam and Bony attacked the victim's house and threw crackers inside the room, killing his wife.

According to the husband, the local gang used to disturb his wife regularly. The attack came after his wife warned them not to disturb her anymore.

The body was sent to Mitford Hospital for autopsy.

A case was lodged with Demra thana in this connection with the incident but police failed to arrest any of the accused.
