Chhada Gaan

A Derelict Tradition of Our Heritage

By Mishu M. Chowdhury poet's words are like poetry" - Poet Asad Chowdhury, host for the evening, said while commenting on his fellow poet Shamsur Rahman as he asked him to say a few words to the child participants and guests present at the Biswa Sahitya Kendra auditorium, to witness an outstanding performance by the child artists of 'Shishu Angina'.

'Chhada Gaan-er Ashor' a musical programme based on the nursery rhymes written by the three poets: Shamsur Rahman, Fayez Ahmed and Robin Ahsan. 'Shishu Angina', a child and women development centre, arranges many such cultural programmes for the children for their mental development. The organisation was established in 1995 and since then it has been a popular childcare home among working parents. Though it mainly works for the underprivileged and downtrodden children of the society, 'Shishu Angina' has previously arranged many such programmes as drawing competitions, musical programmes, dances, recitations etc. The organisation also has a library, a computer club and a monthly magazine for the chil-

"Today's children are tomorrow's citizen" - upholding this motto, the organisation works with children from different classes of the society. Their main aim is to develop self-confidence among the children, ensuring their rights and prevention of child abuse to create a bright and prosperous society as well as to encourage hidden qualities among them.

'Chhada Gaan' ( nursery rhymes) is a derelict and neglected cultural heritage of our society. In recent times the popularity of the western culture has darkened this side of our Bengali heritage. The organisation arranges such programs to uphold and preserve this ageold tradition so that they are not lost to the sand dunes of

Recalling the history of 'Chhada Gaan', poet Asad Chowdhury said that 'Chhada Gaan' prevailed even before the alphabets were created. He also added that previously chhada gaan were only humorous but now-a days not only are they comic but at the same time deal with the current problems of the society. Shamsur Rahman in his speech said that he never realised that his rhymes could be made into a song. Inspired by his renowned fellow author

Aflatun, Shamsur Rahman

started composing such chhada gaan. Shamsur Rahman's first chhada gaan was published in a cultural magazine called 'Saat

Bhai Champa'. Youthful poet

Robin Ahsan at the end of his speech recited 'Garments-er

Meyeh' among his writings. "Megh Thom Thom Thake Jodi Rangeen Akash Kalo" as the words jingled in young Tarin's voice, the show onset with the music composed by Kamruddin Absar, a renowned musician with excellent caliber. Tarin sang one of Robin Ahsan's compositions. Omi sang a composition of Fayez Ahmed's 'Pussytar Shate'. Among the other twenty child participants, Shukti, Rukmi, Guddi, Anika, Nadi, Urmi, Shashi sang a song each while Choiti and Onti presented two songs each. The others participated in the chorus songs. Shankar Prasad De played the tabla. Biki the guitar and Jamal the traipse for each of the com-

Ist Solo Art Exhibition of Allahu Meraj at Alliance Française de Dhaka

By Nafid Imran Ahmed

exhibition -

RT exhibitions at the Al-Aliance Française de Dhaka are always something special. The first solo painting exhibition of Allahu Meraj which opened on July 30 is no exception. The exhibition titled: 'Perspective of time and reflection of life contemporary retrospective ' presents us with some outstanding artworks from the young artist.

Artist Allahu Meraj did his bachelor's degree from the University of Dhaka, Institute of Fine Arts in 1995. He also studied at the Institute of Fine Arts at Rajshahi University. He works as a freelance artist and designer - designing book covers and interiors.

Yesterday was the sixth day of his exhibition. A good response from the art critics and lovers were observed at the exhibition, though none of the paintings were sold. The exhibition contains around seventy seven artworks. The price range is between ten and fifteen thousand taka each.

. The artist has tried to illuminate the title of his exhibition through his works. All the artworks are untitled. Use of different media is observed throughout his work. Among his many media, use of ball point pen, watercolor, poster color and pastel color are observed. His works are basically nostalgic reflecting on past time and life and try to express a relationship between them. The use of bright colors is also prominent in many of his pieces. Most of the works are done with simple pen sketch. Use of facial expressions in objects in some of his works represent the reflection of life and perspective of time. It took him almost two and a half years to complete all these pieces of works exhibited here. Only two of the paintings displayed here were done in 1995.

Allahu Meraj's future plan is to go abroad and do exhibitions there. He is yet not sure whether he will do any other exhibitions in Bangladesh in the near future. The reasons behind his decision are pretty simple lack of good galleries and lack of buyers. Talking about the art market of our country, he says that only the artists who have made a name for themselves dominate the whole market. There are no scopes for newcomers who feel let down and discouraged by the whole situation. Art critics and artists are also reluctant to endorse the work of a budding artist.

The young artists of our country should be given chances. These unrecognized talents are our greatest treasures. Someday they will reign the world of art and if we do not nourish them now it will be a national loss. Artworks of the young promising artists should be brought forward before art lovers so that they can visualize and experience the excellent artworks of the coming genera-

The art exhibition of Allahu Meraj will continue till August

Visitors appreciate Allahu Meraj's works at Alliance Française yesterday.
