A Talented Poet with Surrealistic Imagination

Publication ceremony of four books by poet Iqbal Hasan held

By Mishu M Chowdhury

publication ceremony of A the four books written by The Canada based Bangla poet Iqbal Hasan was held at the Writer's Club premises on Thursday.

Organized by 'Bikalpa Media', writer Rahat Khan presided over the function. Many renowned cultural activists of the country were present at the function and discussed his works and expressed their own thoughts about the person behind the poet.

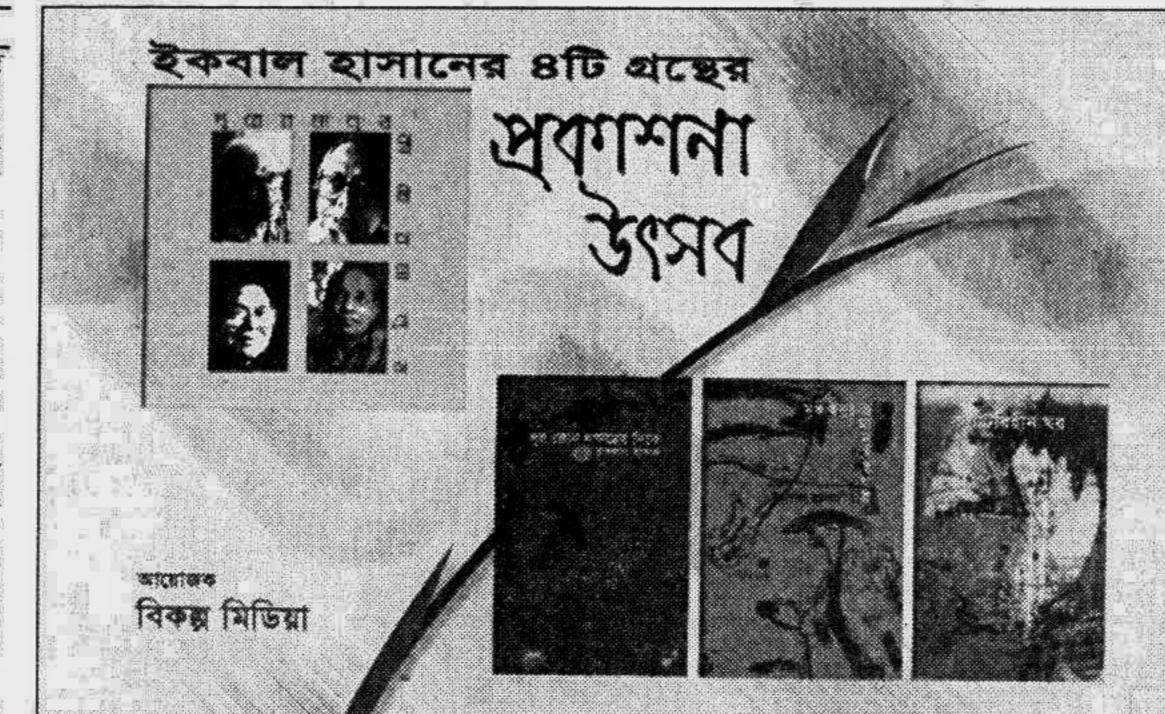

Published by 'Batikram' and 'Agami' publishers, the books of the poet are, 'Durer Manush Kacher Manush' (Far and Near People), 'Mrito Idur O Manusher Galpa' (Story of the dead mouse and men). 'Kopatbihin Ghar' (A Room without a Door) and 'Dur Kono Nakhatrer Dike' (Towards the Distant Star).

Speaking at the ceremony, Iqbal Hasan said that his writings are his words from deep inside, and some sorrows and some happiness that he wants to share with his readers. His writings are never complete. and his desire for a complete work keeps him on the go.

"The day my work achieves a totality is the day I will stop writing " the poet remarked.

Discussing on the poets patriotism, Rahat Khan said that Iqbal is a poet with a masterly knowledge of the harsh world. His love of the Bengali culture and the country itself pulls him back to Bangladesh every year from Canada. Speaking about the person behind the name Iqbal Hasan, addressed the poet as bashful and good looking, but very enthusiastic about the cultural activities.

To Iqbal life is not the sum total of the realities that we encounter day in and day out, but a melange of the illusion that pulls him, the dreams that drives him and the life he lives

Iqbal's poems are based on primarily on words like moonlight, twilight, loneliness and constant reference to painting. Iqbal's intention on achieving a painterly quality is luminously experienced through his writings. Talking about the style of Iqbal's writing Nurul Huda of the writer club said that his poems reminded him of the poet Abul Hasan, a touch of similarity with Abul Hasan prevails in his poems. His style reflects a delicate blending of truth with aesthetics which very unfamiliar to many of the Bengali poet.

The ingenious poet of the 70's, Iqbal Hasan was born in the district of Barisal on 4th December 4 of 1952. He completed his schoolon from A. K. School. He graduated in accounting from Government Brojomohan University College. His highly cherished profile also includes his study on journalism in the Dhaka University. In 1975, he joined the Daily Ittefaq. His extra-ordinary talent in writing was very familiar to the reader of many weekly magazines like Purbani, Bichitra, Shandhani, Robbar etc. in the late seventies. He was also with the Daily Azad was its North Bengal correspondent when he was a student.

Igbal left for Germany in 1980 and U.S.A. in 1984. But his deep attachment with his roots has brought him back home in 1986 and he resumed his connection with the journalism world. In 1988, he left for Canada and has since been living in Toronto with his wife Taslima Hasan and daughter Sochi Hasan.

Iqbal Hasan in his struggling life visited many other countries including Greece, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Mexico and gathered the knowledge of different cultures. But this never severed his love and devotion for the Bengali culture and heritage.

His temperament and his views of life has created a unique quality in him. Iqbal Hasan is indeed, as many say, a poet of 'mystique lightness'.

Local History Writing Project Conceived

Publication ceremony of Sylhet: History and Heritage

By Nafid Imran Ahmed

THE inauguration ceremony of the Local History Writing Project and the publication ceremony of its first project work Sylhet: History and Heritage were held at Hotel Sheraton late last on Wednesday. Organised by The Bangladesh Itihas Samity (Bangladesh History Association), President Justice Sahabuddin Ahmed was present as the chief guest on the occasion over by President of Bangladesh Itihas Samity. Professor Sirajul Islam.

Historian Professor Salahuddin Ahmed, President of the local history project A. K. M. Mohsin, General Secretary of Bangladesh Itihas Samiti. Professor Sharifuddin Ahmed and Associate Secretary Hosne Ara Motahar was also present on the occasion.

In his speech President Sahauddin Ahmed said, "Our present generation is not aware of the true history of our country. They know the changed version of it, which makes them confused. The preservation of our history is necessary for our coming generations, and for the proper future of our economical political and social environment, which is corrupted. The real reason behind this corruption is our metamorphosed history." He also said, "Different regions of our country upholds their own beauty and prestigious history, without collecting these regional, our history is not complete. Bangladesh is one of ancient civilizations of this subcontinent and has a noble history and rich heritage."

The president thanked Bangladesh Itihas Samiti for their noble work, which is the preservation o the local history and heritage. He officially uncovered the published history book on Sylhet district, Sylhet: History and Heritage. He said.

"May this book inspire the people of different districts all over the country to collect and preserve their own history."

Professor A. F. M. Salahuddin who also spoke on the occasion said, "National archives should be turned into a powerful national institution, where the national and regional history will be preserved and made available for anyone to see. He asked the relevant authorities to consider this.

Professor K. M. Mohsin in his speech said, "Bangladesh History Association has undertaken a long procedure, writing the history of the all large districts. These provincial history will converge with the national history."

President of Bangladesh Iti-has Samiti Professor Sirajul Islam said, "Provincial history is the base of national history. So before writing the history of Bangladesh its regional histories should be written first." He requested the government to help in this process

The Samity has undertaken this project with the financial assistance from the Embassy of Norway in Bangladesh.. Collec-tion and reseach of the true history of 16 different districts has been already undertaken under this scheme. The first result of the project Sylhet: History and Heritage, has been published in both Bengali and English language. It is a compilation of 982 pages in 16 chapters and up-holds the rare and glorious story and heritage of Sylhet dis-

Of Lies, Dreams and Reality

Nagarik's latest production Shapnabaj at Mahila Samity

By Shahna Perbeen

A AGORIK Natya Sampraday'as 33rd production come alive on the stage at Mahila Samity last Wednesday). Its called Shapnabaj and as the name suggests, the story deals with some intensely complicated minds at work who are more of dreamers than realists.

The drama deals with an unusual plot. The main characters in the drama are Nishi (Nuna Afroze), her little daughter Sraboni, friend Sayra (Kazi Ruma), and live -n boyfriend Iftekhar (Khaled Khan).

Nishi has been estranged from her husband Rashed (Ataur Rahman) and has been living apart since then. In recent times she has started living with her boyfriend Iftekhar. Her husband Rashed had in the mean time married again and also divorced a high flying 'society' lady. Now that he is lonely he wants to get back his daughter. Also, the fact that Nishi has a new man in her life is intolerable to him. Nishi is very confused with life. Thats perhaps why she dreams so very often. Those intense dreams leave her petrified. When she tries to relate to reality or discuss them with Iftekhar he always snaps back at her. But deep inside Iftekhar is also a dreamer. All the characters in the drama try to escape reality by lying and dreaming. In the end, amidst this complex network of lies and dreams emerges the truth.

The story has been penned by Nasrin Jahan. This is her debut as a playwright. She has created a very different story. Khaled Khan has directed this drama. Although the background music was at times too loud, neverthe less, the overall production was veru enjoyable. The entire cast was good in theri performance, but Ataur Rahman outshone the others with his touching potrayal of the husband.
