SEVILLE, Aug 30: Bernard Barmasai lost his shot at a share of the 1 million Golden League jackpot Monday for saying he had colluded with a countryman to determine the result of a race, reports AP.

Khalifman crowned champ

LAS VEGAS, Aug 30: Russia's Alexander Khalifman has been crowned chess' 14th world champion, but his predecessor is already challenging his claim to the title, reports AP.

On Sunday, Kirsan Ilyumzhinov, president of the Federation Internationale des Echecs (FIDE), placed a gold medal around Khalifman's neck at the closing ceremony of the World Chess Championship.

participate here due to disputes with the federation. Earlier this month, Karpov filed a breach of contract suit against FIDE in the Court of Arbitration for Sport in Lausanne, Switzerland, seeking more than one million dollars in compensation.

In his suit, Karpov said he was not given a fair opportunity to defend his championship. He said officials from FIDE never consulted with him about the dates of the tournament and his role in the event. The suit asks that the court require the winner of the tournament to play Karpov in a championship match.

FIDE provided the 3 million dollar prize fund for the 100 participants in the knockout event, the second championship decided in this manner. The organizers plan to hold such tournaments annually.

Historically, the world title has been decided by the champion playing a long match against a challenger decided by three years of qualifying events. The federation doesn't believe such a system is feasible anymore.

will no longer bow to the whims of its champions. They will be expected to follow the same rules as other players if they wish to participate in future championships.

Seeded 36th, Khalifman won six matches, including upsets of American Gata Kamsky, Israel's Boris Gelfand, whom he called his toughest opponent, and Judit Polgar of Hungary, to reach the finals.

With the score tied, Khalifman had pressed hard for the whole game and seemed near victory. After more than six hours of play, Akopian, who Khalifman regards as one of the world's top defensive players, missed a move that would have forced a draw.

Paris to stage 2003 World Championships SEVILLE, Aug 30: Paris is to stage the 2003 World Championships with London, Tokyo and Berlin hosting the next editions of the biennial championships, world athletics chief Primo Nebiolo said yesterday.

Perviainen a Finnish hero

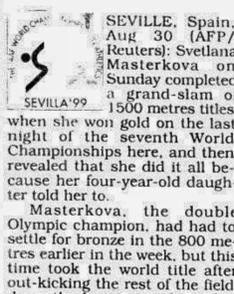

SEVILLE, Spain, Aug 30: Finland is said to be a nation of javelin throwers, and Aki Parviainen went a long way towards proving that on Sunday night -- 89.52 metres, the winning throw in the men's javelin final in the final session of the seventh World Championships here, reports AFP.

Parviainen was out of the medals in fourth place with two rounds remaining when he was summoned up the best effort of the night, beating the 89.18 metres first-round effort of Kostas Gatsioudis, from Greece.

Masterkova the 'supermum'

SEVILLE, Spain, Aug 30 (AFP/Reuters): Svetlana Masterkova won Sunday completed a grand-slam of 1500 metres titles when she won gold on the last night of the seventh World Championships here, and then revealed that she did it all because her four-year-old daughter told her to.

Masterkova, the double Olympic champion, had had to settle for bronze in the 800 metres earlier in the week, but this time took the world title after out-kicking the rest of the field down the home straight to finish in 3min 59.53sec.

States, silver medal-winner in Athens two years ago, again placed second, clocking 4:00.35. The bronze went to Kutsa Dulecha, from Ethiopia, in 4:00.96, as less than two seconds covered the first five finishers, with the Portuguese defending champion, Carla Sacramento, was run out of the medals in fifth.

"Nothing ever got in my way, and I knew I could beat all the others if I came down to a sprint." The race's early pace was steady, Romania's Elena Buhanu leading through 800 metres in 2:12.89. Then things began to quicken, as first Sacramento, then Anita Weyerman, of Switzerland, and Jacobs battled their way to the front.

Masterkova was always well positioned, and when Dulecha, the 1996 World Junior champion, made a move just before the bell, there was some barging for position.

Masterkova covered the final lap inside 60 seconds, as Jacobs tried to go first inside, then outside, to make an early run for home.

"I had a feeling that it would go the way," Californian Jacobs, the eight-time American champion, said. "I got boxed in and very worried, but it was all decided in the last few metres. Masterkova won it fair and square. When she went away, she got away very quickly."

Oregon, and recently won the Pan American Games title. "The race was not perfect for me. I cannot cope with a 60-second last lap. But I've got to learn to cope with 1500-metre races back-to-back, as we had here."

Johnson provided typical efficiency if little excitement to overtake Carl Lewis as the most successful athlete in the 16-year-old history of the World Championships.

Johnson, who bettered one of the toughest records on the books on Thursday with his world 400 metres record of 43.8 seconds, was exhausted but satisfied with his week's work.

Wilson Kipketer won his third consecutive world 800 metres title by the narrowest of margins from South African Hezekiel Sepeng.
