Child Art Gets Cyber Exposer

Toitomboor and WEB join hands to put up an internet children painting exhibition

by Ziaul Karim

In this age of globalization connecting ourselves to the global communities should be our first imperative. There are a few committed souls amongst ourselves who are conscious and aware of the fast global changes taking place and eager to tune with the time.

It has always been the case with us that we don't tend to consider our kids, the future generation, in any development agenda except a few govt-sponsored programmes. A monthly magazine Toitomboor and web Era Bangla thought why not use internet to build bridge of friendship and understanding between children of Bangladesh and that of other countries of the globe. And what best way there can be if it is in wonderful vibrating colours. Yes, Toitomboor held a painting competition in September that witnessed an astounding response from children and young boys aged between 5 years and 16 years. Split into three age groups - Group 1 (5 yr to 9 yr), Group 2 (16 yr to 12 yr), Group 3 (13 yr to 16 yr) the competition has participants from 12 different districts of the country. Of the 315 pictures 60 works were finally selected for the exhibition. Each group has three winners with a grand prix award going to Tasneem Waheed. The theme of the exhibition is "Worldwide Friendship in the Next Millennium" something befitting with the spirit of the whole effort.

The selected works are on view at Alliance Francaise gallery. As one enters the show one is surely reminded of his/her happy and carefree childhood days. Full of shining colours the works have a point to make that the notion of friendship terms the kids imagination on.

The eighteen-day show opened on Oct 4 and will continue until 21. A visit to the show will convince one how wonderfully colourful the concept of friendship is. You can visit the internet exhibition if you miss it at Alliance at www.bangla.net/webera/p-gal.

Clockwise: Tasneem's Grand Prix-winning work, Abir 2nd (Group 2), Jui 1st (Group 3), Adiba 1st (Group 2), Mubina 3rd (Group 2).

Runa Laila Performs in Dubai

Subcontinental stars lead celebrations as the JPGL boat on the 'Voyage of Discovery' docks in the Gulf

By Cultural Correspondent

SINGING diva Runa Laila will be performing at a musical extravaganza in Dubai tomorrow as a part of a troupe from the subcontinent to celebrate the arrival of the Indian player 'Gold Leaf (JPGL) boat at UAE shores during its Voyage of Discovery.

Other participants at the programme are Ibrar Ul Haq from Pakistan and the Dhol Foundation from the United Kingdom. The two-night stand will be held at the Dubai Tennis Stadium tonight and tomorrow.

Runa Laila needs no prior introduction to the audience in Dubai. She is undoubtedly one of the biggest selling names among Asian stars. Runa, who holds a Guinness record for singing the greatest number of songs at one performance (she sang 40 items), enjoys extreme popularity in the sub-continent audience in the Gulf region.

Ibrar Ul Haq is a big name himself and represents the emerging new generation singers in his country.

The two stars will be supported by Dhol Foundation, the London-based Indian beat group which has helped popularise the dhol among the western audience. The foundation's line-up of drummers plays a fusion of eastern and western music.

The Voyage of Discovery has already taken the JPGL boat to France, Malta, Greece, Italy, Spain, Saudi Arabia, Oman and Pakistan and has evoked great interest among the people about its venture. The concert by the three musical giants is expected to take that enthusiasm to a new level, expect the organisers.

Jazz Evening Tomorrow Night

MUSIC lovers of the metropolitan area are set for another evening of delightful entertainment tomorrow. An American jazz trio will be performing at the Osmani Memorial Hall and they will bring to life sensational music by great American composers.

The musical evening has been arranged in commemoration of the birth centennial of the famous US jazz composer Duke Ellington. United States Information Service (USIS) in cooperation with the American Chamber of Commerce and the American Alumni Association is sponsoring the show.

A presentation of the life and works of Duke Ellington will be also on display in the lobby of the auditorium during the concert.

The trio comprises of Doron Johnson on the keyboard, Aaron Thurston on the drums and Ian Martin on the bass. Doron Johnson is well known for his delightful mastery on the keyboard and has been dubbed by the Boston Globe as a 'propulsive player' who has played with numerous jazz players including such legendary names as Herbie Hancock and Aretha Franklin. He has just recently concluded his residency in the Thelonious Monk Jazz Institute Sextet at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, Massachusetts. Ian Martin and Aaron Thurston are both graduates of the Berklee College of Music in Boston of Massachusetts. The group has performed at many important venues in America. Last week it had a date at the Kennedy Center's Millennium stage in Washington DC.

The trio is scheduled to perform works by Duke Ellington, Dizzy Gillespie and Miles Davis. The proceeds from the concert will go to the American Alumni Association's scholarship fund.

Tickets for the concert are available from USIS, Kumudini Welfare Trust Showroom, Video Connection, Sausly's, Bye & Win Computer Shop and Sagar Publishers.

Today's episode in #7 Hardwicke Jungle, Richie volunteers to forego a rock concert double date to run his father's hardware store for the first time — with disastrous results. Richie has already bought rickets from Fonzie to the sold-out Saturday night Rock 'n' Roll show when his father, Howard Cunningham, is scheduled for a tonsillectomy. After Richie returns the tickets to Fonzie for a refund, Mr Cunningham agrees to let Richie close the store in time to make the concert with Fonzie and their dates.
