

exhibition. Bridging between Dui Bangla

Group art exhibition by young artists of Bangladesh and India

By Cultural Correspondent.

SINCE the partition in 1947, the fine arts of Indian sub-continent has moved to different directions. Though the dui Bangla share the same historical background, the partition played a significant role for the later blooming of separate and newer artistic development.

The High Commission of India in Dhaka, in collaboration with some young artists from the Government Art College, West Bengal and Institute of Fine Arts, University of Dhaka, has organized a 11-day long group art exhibition at the art gallery of Indian Cultural Centre beginning today.

Perhaps the point to focus is that these young artists have come out of the barrier of religion and regionalism and are confident enough to carry the flag of humanity.

The exhibition includes young artists mostly students except a few elderly ones, such as Tarun Dey who had his graduation in 1980 from the government College of Arts and Crafts, Calcutta and received a number of awards including Governor Award Best Exhibit (Gold Medal) by Academy of Fine Arts. The exhibition is also a fine piece by Anjan Das who is a self-taught artist.

The young local artists are Abdul Halim Chanchal, presently student of M.F.A. Drawing and Painting, Institute of Fine Arts, University of Dhaka, who received the First Human Figure Award in Oil Painting in the country. Imran Hossain, student of same institution, will display his speciality in landscape painting and sculpture.

The visiting artists are Bhabatosh Sutar a final year student of Govt Art College, Calcutta has received the Sumil Das Scholarship in 1998-99.

Chanchal will display his 'Behind the Scene' which focuses on to the complex human psyche.

Self-taught Polly Das, with her Composition-1 tried to capture the rhythm of the nature. Imtiaz Islam Shohag a graduate from Institute of Fine Arts, University of Dhaka, will display his 'Accident' which depicts a badly damaged car symbolizing the cut-throat and futile competition of life.

The exhibition will be inaugurated at 5pm today by Professor Shamarjeet Roy Chowdhury, Institutes of Fine Arts, University of Dhaka. Deputy High Commissioner of India, P.R.Chakravarty will be present as special guest. Artist Rokeya Sultana will be the guest of honour of the ceremony. The exhibition will remain open from 12pm to 8pm daily.

Solo musical show of Shelu Barua

EVERY artist pursues the dream of achieving perfection in his art but very few really see that dream come true. Yet that does not discourage the artists to seek amplitude in his work. Shelu Barua is such a devoted artist.

Satyajit Ray Chalcitra Sangsad and the Indian High Commission Dhaka, jointly organized a solo musical programme of Shelu Barua on November 13, at the Indian Cultural Center auditorium. The Deputy High Commissioner of India, Pinak Ranjan Chakravarty was present as the chief guest, Shahriar Kabir, general secretary of Satyajit Ray Chalcitra Sangsad presided over the show and eminent singer Hasina Mamtaz was present as the special guest on the occasion.

This year the Sangsad is celebrating its 10th anniversary.

Shelu Barua featured the concluding session of the four-day long anniversary celebrations.

As an artist, Shelu is media shy and concentrates on his own development. He enjoys music as a source of giving pleasure to others as he enjoys it for personal consumption, for him it holds the key to spiritual enlightenment. To Shelu Barua music is a melange of emotion and devotion.

For a long time he was a disciple of Ustad Abdul Latif and was also connected with Chayanat. He has been taking part in the radio and television programmes regularly. In 1969, he stood first provincially in the Nazrul Sangeet competition and was awarded gold medal. In the same competition he stood third in classical music.

"All sorts of music appeal to me specially melodious songs," said Shelu describing his taste for music. He believes, a good singer can adopt any kind of music. "One should not be categorized as a singer of folk music or Nazrul Sangeet and so on rather should be able to go with the flow of music". The validity of his comment could be traced in his songs and the style of his singing.

He sang popular old Bangla songs of Bangladesh and India, which also included songs from films. He sang songs of Kishor Kumar, Hemanta, Mahamudun Nabi and many other popular artists as well as a few of his own songs. The adaptation of each song reflected his skill as a singer as the style of presentation can only be related to none other than Shelu himself. Shelu, who already has a cassette to his credit, is planning to release another music album very soon.

An artist, a dreamer, Shelu idealizes music as the source of salvation, strength, and hope for mankind and sings to generate music as the healing force for the human beings.
