Discussion held on child rights

Amnesty International Bangladesh section organised a discussion meeting on "The 10th anniversary of the Children Rights Day yesterday at its office at Kamalapur, says a press release.

Shahdab Yaseer, children rights coordinator of Bangladesh chapter of Amnesty International presided over the meeting while it was addressed by journalist Hafiz Imam Inam, Nasreen Sultana and Anwar Shadat Khan.

With a view to protect the rights of the children, speakers urged the government to ensure the comprehensive implementation of United Nation Child Rights Charter.

Dhaka for peace and HR edn

Ambassador Anwarul Karim Chowdhury, permanent representative of Bangladesh to the United Nations, has called for universal introduction of peace and human rights education, reports BSS from New York.

He made the appeal in a statement at the General Assembly on the agenda item on University for Peace on Friday.

He mentioned that pursuant to the commitment made by Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina at the Hague Appeal for Peace Conference last May, peace and human rights education has been introduced at the primary and secondary school levels in Bangladesh.

He said that it was our hope that the programmes of the University for Peace will foster and bring together such initiatives all over the world.

The University for Peace was established by the United Nations in 1980 to encourage research on peace and to offer higher studies in peace and security. It is situated in Costa Rica and is financed by voluntary contributions.

Underscoring the relevance and the universal mission of the University, the Bangladesh permanent representative said that Dhaka would like to see the University for Peace assume a truly universal character and a really global vocation.
